BOSTON MEDICAL LIBRARY IN THE FRANCIS A. COUNTWAY LIBRARY OF MEDICINE

THE WISE PHYSICIAN

Is a modest man, because as he enlarges the horizon of his knowledge he perceives the larger boundaries of the unknown. Moreover the things he learns suggest humility. Pursuing his profession from an honest desire to benefit his patients, and an equally honest desire to earn a livelihood, he is, in the course of time, deeply impressed with these

TWO FACTS.

1st. That Life is Uncertain.

He sees healthy people fall suddenly ill and die in spite of his best skill, while chronic invalids live on to torment him with their complaints.

2d. That Money is Difficult to Accumulate.

He earns a good deal and gets the most of it; but to keep it for old age, or a trip to Europe, seems impossible. There is no end to the calls for money, and the most importunate get it.

WHAT TO DO.

Take a Non-forfeiting Free Tontine Policy in the

New York Life Insurance Company,

That will give you the protection of insurance during a term of years, 10, 15, or 20 (this you need because "Life" in uncertain), and the return of the greater part of the premiums paid increased at a fair rate of Interest. The uncertainty of life will be thus offset by the certainty of a support for your family, and the difficulty of accumulating money will be overcome by a definite and practicable plan.

Actual results of Policies now maturing, taken by men at your present age fifteen or twenty years ago, sent upon application with date of birth.

OUR MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT.

We give special attention to this department, and use most careful judgment in the choice of goods, according to order, thus enabling customers living at a distance to make their selections without the necessity of a personal visit to our establishment.

We send in each case, unless otherwise ordered, a variety of goods to choose from. The transportation charges one way to be paid upon the arrival of the package at destination, return express charges being paid by us.

The express agent will allow an inspection of the goods, and will send back to us the garments not needed, together with payment for those retained.

According to a system originated by us in our branch of business in this city, we will refund the amount paid for Clothing returned as not satisfactory, or we will exchange the garments for others, as may be directed.

LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL,

And Hoagland Laboratory, Brooklyn, N.Y.

SESSION 1891-'92.

The Regular Term will commence Sept. 23, 1891, and continue six months. The Reading and Recitation Term will commence March 21, 1892.

The Hospital and Dispensary, in which 20,380 patients were treated in 1890, are in the same building with the College, and two to three hours are daily devoted to Clinical Teaching and Physical Diagnosis. Quizzes are held by the Professors and their assistants throughout the course, without cost. Students also receive instruction at the Eye and Ear Hospital (7,000 patients annually treated) and the Brooklyn Hospital (3,000). The resident staffs of these, and of St. John's, St. Mary's, St. Catherine's, Methodist Episcopal, and King's Co. Hospitals, also the surgeons of the City Ambulance Service, are appointed annually, and the positions are open to the graduates of the Long Island College Hospital.

Special instruction is given, without cost, in Gynæcology, Midwifery, Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Nose, Skin, and Nervous System. Practical Obstetrics are taught by daily exercises on the manikin, including all the operative procedures, forceps, version, etc., and by attendance on cases of confinement in the Wards of the Maternity and Out-door Obstetric Service. In the Hoagland Laboratory, instruction is given in Bacteriology, Microscopy, and Pathology.

FEES. — Matriculation for the Collegiate year, $5.00; Lectures and Clinics of Regular Term, $100; Graduation, $25.00; Lectures and Clinics of Reading and Recitation Term, $40.

FALKIRK

JAMES FRANCIS FERGUSON, M. D.
DAVID H. SPRAGUE, M. D.

On the Highlands of the Hudson, near Central Valley, Orange County, New York. A Home for treatment of Nervous and Mental Diseases, and the Alcohol and Opium Habits.

Falkirk is eight hundred feet above sea-level; the grounds cover over two hundred acres, are well shaded, and command a magnificent view. Within them is a lake of pure water, covering over fifty acres. The buildings, constructed on the cottage system, are new, steam-heated and lighted by gas, and the water supply is from pure mountain springs. All the living-rooms face southwest, and every provision is made for comfortable home-living. The best methods in sewerage have been followed, and the arrangements for comfort and recreation include a sun-room, steam-heated in winter, for sun-baths and indoor exercise.

Dr. Ferguson and Dr. Sprague may be consulted at their office, 168 Lexington Avenue, New York City, on Tuesdays and Fridays, between 11:30 A M. and 12:30 P.M., or by appointment, or may be addressed at Central Valley, Orange County, New York.

PREFACE.

THE author again offers to his professional brethren an edition of THE MEDICAL REGISTER. Commencing in 1873 with The Medical Register for Boston and its suburbs, he has constantly enlarged the work, and in this edition — the seventh — presents a larger amount than ever of information which cannot fail of being useful to the medical and allied professions throughout the New England States.

Various changes in methods and the selection of material, the omission of portions which seem not strictly medical, and the insertion of much which is either new or newly found, have been suggested by experience.

The great and increasing labor incumbent on the correction of so much material, and its necessarily slow progress through the press, must be the excuse for the delay in the date of publication.

AUGUST, 1891.

REED & CARNRICK WILL NEVER ADD ANY NEW PREPARATIONS TO THEIR LIST UNLESS THEY POSSESS IMPORTANT POINTS OF SUPERIORITY OVER THOSE IN USE BY THE MEDICAL PROFESSION FOR SIMILAR PURPOSES.

WE ARE CONFIDENT that the following preparations for the purposes described are superior to any therapeutic agents known to the Medical Profession, or are presented in more elegant form for administration. We will forward a sample to any Physician without charge.

Zymocide (Antisepsine). For Leucorrhœa Catarrh of the nasal organs, stomach or bladder, and all diseases of the mucous surfaces, or whenever a non-toxic, antiseptic, and detergent preparation is required.

Pancrobilin. For Intestinal Indigestion, Constipation and to increase fatty tissue. The price of Pancrobilin has been reduced 33 per cent.

Cordial Analeptine. For Rheumatic and Gouty Diathesis and excessive Urates.

Corrigent Pills. For imparting tone to the system, increasing the appetite, improving the digestion, enhancing the functions of assimilation and blood-making, and removing malarial and other taint from the blood.

Sulpho-Calcine. For dissolving the diphtheritic membrane and for treating diseases of the mucous surfaces. Valuable in parasitic skin diseases.

Lacto-Cereal Food. Composed of Milk, Fruit, and Cereals, for Invalids, Dyspeptics, Convalescents, and the aged. Delicious, highly nutritive, partially digested, not constipating, and contains the starch-digesting ferment.

Lacto-Preparata. For the feeding of Infants from birth to six months of age. The only All-Milk Food prepared for Infants.

Carnrick's Food. For Children from six months to fifteen months of age.

Sulphur-Tartrate Tablets. For Biliousness, Torpid Liver, Skin Diseases, Pimples and Imperfect growth of the nails and hair.

Cod Liver Oil and Milk. For all purposes where Cod Liver Oil is indicated. The most palatable and digestible preparation in the market.

Velvet-Skin Soap. For making the skin soft. It is a perfect Soap for Infants and all Toilet Purposes. It is made only from Vegetable Oils.

Velvet-Skin Powder. For Infants and all Toilet Purposes. It excels all others in delicacy and fragrance. Contains no starch or deleterious substances.

Send for pamphlet giving minute formulas and full description of each preparation.

MEDICAL REGISTER.

CALIFORNIA AUSBRUCH.

(CALVICO TOKAY.)

Your patients will not secure the wine you prescribe unless you specify Calvico Tokay.

ENDORSED BY OUR LEADING PHYSICIANS.

In offering this wine to the Medical Fraternity, we guarantee it to be absolutely pure — free from any adulteration — and equal in every respect to any imported at double the price.

Chemical analysis will verify our statement. It is a matured, natural wine, made from grapes grown in California, from cuttings transplanted from Hungary, and is simply the juice of the grape, properly treated, without chemical flavors, deleterious extracts. It tones the system, aids digestion, is full of nutritious and blood-giving properties.

Comparison invited with any wine now placed before the Medical Profession under the name Tokay.

CALVICO GRAPE BRANDY

is what brandy should be, viz.: pure distillation of wine. just as it comes from the still, — no flavoring, but properly matured.

There is no secrecy in the handling of our wines. Our cellars are always open to any members of the profession who may call, and we gladly furnish all information in our power.

ASSOCIATIONS AND SOCIETIES.

American Medical Association.

In May, 1846, a convention of medical men was held in the city of New York, which declared it expedient for the medical profession of the United States to institute a National Medical Association. In May, 1847, the convention assembled at Philadelphia, reorganized, and, having adopted a series of regulations, became known as "The American Medical Association." Its first annual meeting was convened in Baltimore, May 2, 1848; and since that time, with the exception of the years 1861 and 1862, annual sessions have been held in large cities in different parts of the country.

Delegates may be appointed to the association from permanently organized State medical societies, and such county and district medical societies as are recognized by representation in their respective State societies, and from the Army, Navy, and Marine Hospital Service of the United States. Persons who have served in the capacity of delegates become permanent members, and are privileged to attend the meetings and participate in the affairs of the association, but without the right of voting. Any reputable physician, who is vouched for as such by three of the active or permanent members, can attend the meetings of the association, and is entitled to participate in all its affairs, as in the case of delegates, except the right to vote.

Each State, county, and district medical society, entitled to representation, has the privilege of sending to the association one delegate for every ten of its regular resident members, and one for every additional fraction of more than half that number.

The medical staffs of the Army and Navy are entitled to four delegates each; the Marine Hospital Service to one.

Any member of a medical society in good standing can become a member on presentation to the Secretary of a certificate, signed by the President and Secretary of his society, accompanied with the annual fee. He is entitled to all the privileges of membership, except that of voting. The Journal of the association will be sent to him so long as he continues to pay his dues.

The sum of five dollars is assessed annually upon each delegate to the sessions of the association, as well as upon each of the permanent members, whether present or not.

A Judicial Council, consisting of twenty-one members, is intrusted with the decision of all questions of an ethical or judicial character. Decisions of this Council are final.

The meetings of the association are held annually, and commence on the first Tuesday in May or June.

The thirty-third volume of the Transactions was published in November, 1882. In place of the annual volume of Transactions a weekly Journal has been issued since July, 1883, at a subscription price of five dollars. Address, 68 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons.

The Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons is a conjoint triennial meeting at Washington, D. C., of certain National Medical Societies so arranged that while each Society preserves its own autonomy, and has its own meetings, papers, and discussions, the members of all the Societies meet together at stated hours to carry out the objects of the Congress.

The main purpose of the Congress is the presentation and discussion of scientific subjects selected with reference to their general interest.

The officers of the Congress are a President, a Secretary and a Treasurer, and as many Vice-Presidents as there are Societies taking part; the Vice-Presidents being the Presidents elect of the several Societies for the year of the Congress.

The business of the Congress is managed by an Executive Committee composed of one representative appointed by each Society taking part. The President, Secretery, and Treasurer of the Congress are ex-officio members of this Committee.

The second triennial meeting of the Congress will be held in Washington, D. C., in September, 1891.

OFFICERS.

American Pharmaceutical Association.

Organized at New York Oct. 15, 1851. The aim of this body is to unite the educated and reputable pharmacists and druggists of the United States, for their own improvement, for the advancement of the science and art of pharmacy, and for the good of the community at large. Every pharmacist or druggist of good standing, and teachers of pharmacy, chemistry, and materia medica throughout the United States, are eligible to membership. All local organizations of pharmacists are entitled to representation by five delegates at the annual meeting of the association, who become members for that year on paying the annual contribution. Pharmacists, chemists, and other scientific men, who may be thought worthy the distinction, may be elected honorary members. The fee for initiation is five dollars, and the same sum is to be paid by members as an annual fee. The payment of seventy-five dollars constitutes the person a life member.

The association holds its meetings annually, in September, at such places as may be decided by vote.

The proceedings of the association are published annually.

The officers for the year are : —

American Metric Bureau.

Organized and incorporated in July, 1876, "to disseminate information concerning the metric system; to urge its early adoption, and to bring about its introduction wherever practicable. To this end it will secure the delivery of addresses, publish articles, circulate books, pamphlets, and charts; distribute scales and measures; introduce the practical teaching of the system in the schools; and in all proper ways, as far as the means at its disposal will allow, the Bureau will urge the matter upon the attention of the American people, till they shall join the rest of the world in the exclusive use of the international decimal weights and measures."

The Bureau has its main office at 146 Franklin Street, Boston, from which branch depositories throughout the country are supplied. At this office is the largest collection in the world of different articles pertaining to the metric system, numbering over one thousand, free for consultation to all interested. The collection embraces not only the actual weights and measures, thermometers, barometers, scales, etc., as used in metric countries, but also all useful apparatus or publications for teaching or introducing the system.

Membership in the society is open to any person of good moral character. The annual assessment is two dollars, and twenty dollars pays for life-membership. There are also Associates, who pay five dollars annually, and Fellows, who pay ten dollars annually.

Massachusetts Medical Society.

The Massachusetts Medical Society was formed in 1781, with power to elect officers, examine and license candidates for practice, hold real estate, and "continue as a body politic and corporate by the same name forever." In June, 1782, after several preparatory meetings, by-laws were enacted, a common seal adopted, the society organized, and Dr. Edward A. Holyoke, of Salem, chosen the first president.

In 1790 the first publication of the society was issued; the second appeared in 1804, and the third in 1806.

The society is intended to include all regular physicians practising medicine within the Commonwealth, and admission takes place according to the following prescribed laws of the State and the society: —

"Any person of good moral character, found to possess the qualifications prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Society, shall, upon examination by the Censors, and not otherwise, be admitted a Fellow; and the Fellows shall have power to suspend, expel, or disfranchise any Fellow of the Society." [1]

The by-laws of the society referred to in the special law of the State are as follows: —

[1] A Digest of the Acts of the Commonwealth relating to the Massachusetts Medical Society now in force. 1887.

"Candidates for admission into the Massachusetts Medical Society may be either male or female; and every candidate must, by proper credentials and examination, satisfy the Censors of said society that he possesses the following qualifications for fellowship: —

"That he is not less than twenty-one years of age; that he is of sound mind and good moral character; that he has a good general English education; that he has a knowledge of the principles of experimental philosophy; that he has such an acquaintance with the Latin language as is necessary for a good medical and surgical education; that he has studied medicine and surgery three full years under the direction, and attended the practice, of some reputable regularly educated physician or physicians; that he has attended two terms of study, or two full courses of lectures in separate years, at an authorized medical school, recognized by the Councillors of said society, and possesses a diploma or its equivalent from such school; that he does not profess to cure diseases by, nor intend to practise, spiritualism, homœopathy, allopathy, Thompsonianism, eclecticism, or any other irregular or exclusive system, generally recognized as such by the profession or declared so by the Councillors of said society; and by a further examination, a part of which shall be in writing, that he has an adequate knowledge of anatomy, pathological anatomy, physiology, general and medical chemistry, materia medica, therapeutics, midwifery, the theory and practice of medicine, clinical medicine, surgery, clinical surgery, hygiene, and public hygiene.

"If successful in such an examination as to his credentials, character, personal and professional qualifications, to the satisfaction of at least three of the Censors present, the candidate after paying the District Treasurer the assessment for the current year and signing the By-laws, shall receive a certificate of membership (Digest xxvi., xxvii.), and be enrolled a Fellow of the society.

"A candidate may be examined at any stated meeting of Censors; but if the examination be unsatisfactory, he shall not be re-examined by any Board of Censors in less than six months afterwards" (xx., xxi.).[1]

Application for examination or re-examination must be made to the secretary of the society of the district in which the candidate resides.

The Censors of Suffolk District (who are empowered to act for the society, and to examine all those who have not a residence in some other district of the State) meet in Boston on the Thursday next preceding the annual meeting of the society, and on the third Thursday of September and of December; but they cannot examine any candidate who is already a resident, or in practice, in any district except their own. The Censors of the other districts meet at the same place and on the same day as the stated meetings of the societies to which they belong.

[1] A Digest of the Acts of the Commonwealth relating to the Massachusetts Medical Society, together with the By-laws, etc. Boston, 1887.

Any Fellow who has arrived at the age of sixty-five years, has paid all his assessments, or has been excused from them, and has notified the Treasurer of the society thereof in writing, may, on recommendation of a committee and by a vote of the Councillors, become a Retired Member. He shall be entitled to all the privileges of a Fellow, and shall conform to all the requirements of the society, and be subject to all its penalties, except that he shall not be liable to assessments, nor be bound to accept any office in the society.

Any Fellow removing out of the State may have liberty to retain his Fellowship so long, and only so long, as he punctually pays the annual assessment.

Any one who has retired or resigned, or lost his Fellowship by removal from the State, may, on application in writing, be restored to full Fellowship by the vote of the Councillors at any Stated Meeting.

Any Fellow, whose dues have been paid or remitted, may, on written application and for satisfactory reasons, first examined and reported upon by a committee, be allowed to resign Fellowship and to withdraw from the society by a vote of the Councillors.

The Massachusetts Medical Society includes eighteen district societies, all of which are under the control of the parent society.

The district societies appoint their own officers and establish regulations for their particular government, not repugnant to the by-laws of the general society; and are empowered to hold and dispose of books, instruments, and other personal property, exclusive of any authority of the general society. Together, the societies contain about 1700 members.

The annual meeting of the society is held on such Wednesday in May or June, and at such place, as the Councillors shall from year to year determine. Ten members of the society constitute a quorum.

The district societies hold their annual meetings for election between the fifteenth of April and the fifteenth of May, and at least ten days before the annual meeting of the society.

The Councillors meet on the day preceding the annual meeting, and on the first Wednesday in Oct., and Feb. Nine Councillors constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn the meeting.

The Proceedings of the society, and the annual address, are, as a rule, published each year. Members of the society also receive a copy of Braithwaite's "Retrospect of Medicine and Surgery," at the expense of the society.

The following Code of Ethics has been adopted by the Society and Councillors.

Object of a Code of Ethics.— The Massachusetts Medical Society is designed to secure to the public a body of well-educated and otherwise trustworthy physicians. Its code of ethics is intended to furnish certain principles and rules of action for their guidance and convenience.

I. The Relation of the Physician to Medical Science. — A physician should lend his influence to encourage sound medical education, and to uphold in the community correct views of the powers and the limitations of medical science and art.

II. The Relation of the Physician to Medical Business.— The professional success of a practitioner depends upon qualities connected with his moral character, his scientific attainments, and also his industry and business talent. But the relation of practitioners of medicine to families and households is not like that of tradesmen to their customers. The kind of competition which might be considered honorable in business cannot exist between physicians without diminishing their usefulness and lowering the standing of the medical profession. (See IV. § 1 ; V. § 1.)

III. The Relation of the Physician to his Patients. — The first duty of the practising physician is to his patient, who has a right to expect that his disease shall be thoroughly investigated and skilfully treated, with charitable consideration for his mental peculiarities or infirmities, and in a relation strictly confidential.

1. The physician should not make unnecessary visits. He should neither permit needless apprehension, nor fail to give seasonable notice of danger.

IV. The Relation of the Physician to other Practitioners and to their Patients. — In his relations with another medical practitioner and his patients, a physician should be governed by strict rules of honor and courtesy. His conduct should be such as, if universally imitated, would insure the mutual confidence of all medical practitioners.

The foregoing rule should be a sufficient guide of action. Some of the following contingencies will illustrate its application : —

1. A physician should take no step with a view directly or indirectly to divert to himself the patient or practice of another physician.

2. If formally requested to assume charge of a patient or family usually attended by another physician, he should consent to do so only after notifying the latter, — unless the case be one of pressing necessity.

3. If a physician is called to a patient during the temporary absence or illness of the usual physician, or in case of accident or other emergency, he should direct that the former be sent for as soon as he is able to take charge of the case, and should then relinquish it to him. It is generally agreed that, among several physicians thus called, he who first arrives shall act, unless the family designate another.

4. A communication from the temporary to the usual physician, in the absence of the latter, should be written and sealed, and not simply verbal.

V. The Relations of the Physician to Quackery. — In every community there are minds naturally inclined to quackery, which has flourished in every age. It grows by being noticed, and thrives best under opposition. It is commonly unwise to employ argument against it. But a physician should lend his influence to establish a distinct line between the regular practice of medicine and the practice of quackery, and should avoid any act which might tend to weaken such a distinction either in the professional or in the public mind.

1. Thus, he should not consult with an irregular practitioner; nor countenance the use of secret remedies; nor be interested in medical trade-marked preparations; nor give certificates recommending mineral waters, patents, or medical preparations, or the like; nor give a commission to an apothecary, nor receive one from him; nor advertise himself or his practice in public print; nor publicly advertise advice or medicines to the poor, etc.

VI. Consultations. — Consultation should be encouraged in cases of unusual responsibility or doubt.

A consultation is called for the benefit of the patient, and to give him the advantage of collective skill. Should there be a difference of opinion, discussion should be temperate, and always confidential.

A consulting physician should be careful to say or do nothing to impair the confidence of the patient or his family in the attending physician.

1. See, for guidance of a consultant, IV. §§ 1, 2, 3, 4.

2. At a consultation, punctuality is important; and non-arrival within fifteen minutes after the appointed time should be interpreted as non-attendance.

3. For the advantage of the patient, and for economy of time, it is well in a consultation to observe a certain order of business. The following has been found convenient: —

The attending physician, having stated in general terms the nature of the case, may then call, in turn, upon each consultant, if there be more than one, to examine the patient, — the usual order being that of seniority. No consultant should make an examination or inquiry out of turn. On retiring, the attending physician may invite, in the usual order, the opinion of each consultant, who should not be interrupted while giving it; after which he may add his own. In conclusion a course of action may be agreed on, or the attending physician may be left to act at his own discretion.

VII. Fees. — A fee-table has a local application, and is designed to indicate a fair or average amount due for services. But if the patient fully understands it beforehand, a physician is at liberty to place any value he sees fit upon his services. It is then at the patient's option to decline them or to pay the price. A physician should be considerate of the poor.

1. A patient in moderate circumstances should not be called on to pay a fee unusually large for the service rendered, without a previous explicit understanding. A physician, if able, should offer to pay the medical attendant of himself or his family. Unless by special agreement, a physician attending or acting for another should receive the fees. Among obstetricians a rule obtains that the interval between the birth of the child and of the placenta halves the service and the fee. A fee should be charged for a medical certificate or paper of value to the applicant, — connected, for example, with absence or exemption, life insurance, pension papers, etc.; except the usual certificates of vaccination and death.

VIII. Seniority. — Seniority applies rather to duration of practice at the place in question, than to age.

The society was organized as a district of the Massachusetts Medical Society, September 26, 1804. The elements of this district organization had been in existence, under the name of Worcester Medical Society, since 1794.

The annual meeting is held on the second Wednesday of May, and other meetings on the second Wednesday of July, September, November, January, and March. Meetings are held in the library room of the society, in the Worcester Public Library Building.

In 1845 the Hon. Daniel Waldo, of Worcester, gave the society $6,000; and in 1851 Dr. Charles W. Wilder left it by his will $500; both gifts were without conditions. The income is now devoted to the increase of the library of the society. The library of the Worcester District Medical Society was commenced in 1788, by the gift to the physicians of Worcester of "fifty pounds' value in books," by Dr. Elijah Dix, of Worcester. It now contains 6,464 volumes, and 575 pamphlets.

In 1859 Dr. John Green, a member of the society, bequeathed to the city of Worcester his private library, and provided for its increase. It was incorporated as a free public library in February, 1860. The library of the city now contains about 14,000 volumes, and the Green Fund gives it an annual income of about $1,500.

Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society.

Organized July 9, 1877. Its purposes are to elevate the official character of the medical examiner, and to assist him in the discharge of his duties; to collect and utilize such facts as have a medico-legal value; to excite a general interest in the subject of forensic medicine, and to promote its successful cultivation.

The society consists of regular and associate members. Regular members consist of such members of the Massachusetts Medical Society and of the Massachusetts Bar as shall be duly chosen in the manner provided by the by-laws, provided, however, that at least two-thirds of such regular members shall hold commissions as medical examiners in the State. The expiration, without renewal, of the commission of a medical examiner terminates his regular membership.

The society may also, at any stated meeting, elect to permanent associate membership such persons, versed in medical, legal, or technical science, as may be recommended by the proper committee.

The president, the vice-president, the treasurer, and the two secretaries constitute an executive board, whose duty it is to carry out the purposes of the society as expressed by its by-laws or its votes.

The business of the society is managed and the expenses paid by the regular members. The associate members attend only those meetings to which they are invited, and then have full liberty to participate in all scientific or professional discussions, and to present communications. A fee of two dollars is paid by each regular member at the time of his admission; assessments are made from time to time, as required to meet the expenses of the society.

The stated meetings are held on the same day and at the same place as the stated meetings of the Councillors of the Massachusetts Medical Society; the annual meeting being on the same day as the annual meeting of said Councillors. Special meetings may be called by authority of the executive board, and must be so called upon the written request of five regular members.

The executive board is required to use all the honorable means which they can command for the purpose of preventing the confirmation and appointment of any incompetent or unworthy person as medical examiner.

The Transactions of the society are published annually.

Massachusetts Dental Society.

This organization was formed in May, 1864, and received an act of incorporation from the Legislature in April, 1865. Its object is to cultivate the science and art of dentistry and all its collateral branches, by means of a library and museum, professional lectures and publications, and by premiums and medals for original researches and discoveries; to elevate and sustain the professional character of dentists, and to promote among them mutual improvement, social intercourse, and good-will.

It includes active, junior, corresponding, and honorary members. Active members consist of practitioners of dentistry living in the State of Massachusetts. They must be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, and have received a diploma from a respectable medical or dental college. Junior members consist of students of dentistry, and dentists not eligible to active membership. Corresponding members consist of practitioners of dentistry living in other States of the Union, or in foreign countries, who manifest a disposition to advance the science and art of the profession by contributing to its literature.

Honorary memberships are conferred by the society on distinguished members of the profession, and others who may merit the distinction.

The fee for admission to the society is two dollars. Annual members pay an annual assessment of two dollars. Junior members pay only the admission fee. Corresponding and honorary members are exempt from the payment of all dues; and as a mark of distinction for long-continued service in the profession, by special action of the society, the dues of an active member may be remitted.

The annual meeting of the society is held in July, in such town or city as may be determined by the society, and is of two days' continuance. Ten active members are necessary to constitute a quorum.

New England Dental Society.

Organized in Lowell, Mass., as the Merrimac Valley Dental Association, October 29, 1863, for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the dental profession; present name adopted in 1882. Any respectable dentist may become an active member who is a graduate of a recognized dental or medical college.

The annual meeting is held on the first Thursday of October. An annual assessment of one dollar is paid by each member.

OFFICERS.

Vice-Presidents. — J. F. Adams, Worcester, Mass., S. G. Stevens, Boston, Mass.

Treasurer. — G. A. Young, Concord, N. H.

Secretary. — Edgar O. Kinsman, Cambridge, Mass.

Assistant Secretary. — J. H. McQuade, Medford, Mass.

Librarian. — A. H. Gilson, Boston.

Connecticut Valley Dental Society.

Organized in Springfield Mass., November 10, 1863. The society holds its annual meeting in Springfield in October, and its semi-annual meeting in June in other places.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

Organized in February, 1823, and incorporated by the Legislature in 1852. The object of the college is to provide the means of a systematic education; to regulate the instruction of apprentices; to promote a spirit of pharmaceutical investigation, and to diffuse information among the members of the profession; to discountenance the sale of spurious, adulterated, and inferior articles; to regulate the business, as far as practicable and consistent with our social institutions; to cherish habits of friendly intercourse; and in general to advance the character and interests of the profession.

Any adult person of correct deportment who shall have been actively engaged as a pharmacist, druggist, or manufacturer of pharmaceutical preparations for the term of four years, either as principal or clerk, may be admitted as an active member of this college. He must sign the by-laws of the college, and shall pay an annual contribution of five dollars so long as he shall continue an active member. The college furnishes regularly, to each active member not in arrears, a copy of some pharmaceutical journal.

The college may elect, at its stated meetings, on the recommendation of the Board of Trustees, as honorary members, druggists and apothecaries who have retired from business; and chemists and men of science, either in this or in any other country, whose labors have added to the general stock of scientific knowledge. From such members no contribution shall be required. They shall have the privilege of the use of the library, and of attending the lectures and meetings of the college, but they shall not be entitled to vote.

Any member who has paid his annual dues for twenty consecutive years, or who shall pay into the treasury of the college the sum of seventy-five dollars at one time, may become a life member, and as such shall be entitled to all the privileges of an active member, and shall be exempt from the payment of all further dues.

The stated meetings of the college are held at its building, corner of St. Botolph and Garrison Streets, Boston, on the first Monday in June, September, December, and March, at three o'clock P. M.

The Board of Trustees meet statedly on the first Thursday of each month except the summer months, at three o'clock, P. M.

Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical Association.

Organized May 17, 1882, to unite all reputable druggists and apothecaries of the State for mutual encouragement and assistance, to improve the existing methods of pharmacy, and to restrict the practice of pharmacy to qualified druggists and apothecaries.

Any druggist or pharmacist or teacher of pharmacy in any of its departments, of good moral and professional standing, living in the State, is eligible for active membership. Chemists, scientists, or physicians are eligible to honorary membership.

Massachusetts Medical Benevolent Society.

The organization of this society dates from 1857; in 1871 it received an act of incorporation from the Legislature of Massachusetts. It has for its object the relief of its members, or of their families, should they need assistance; and of such other members of the medical profession or their families as may be deemed by the society suitable objects of its beneficence.

It includes in its list of members physicians from all parts of the State. The council of the society, to whom are intrusted the care of the funds and the distribution of its charities, are desirous of making the institution more widely useful, by extending its assistance to a larger number of beneficiaries. In order to widen the circle of their charities, they desire to add largely to their numbers; and physicians who may be willing to aid a charity of such importance are invited to become its members. It is also desirable that cases of destitution among the members of the profession may be brought to the notice of the officers, so that measures may be at once taken for their relief.

The fee paid on entering the society is three dollars; and the annual assessment is two dollars. The payment of twenty-five dollars at one time, or of the annual assessment for twenty successive years, constitutes one a life-member, and at his option relieves him from future payments. The donation of fifty dollars or more at one time entitles the donor to be inscribed among the benefactors of the society. The invested funds of the society are somewhat less than $30,000.

The annual meeting is held on the last Thursday in October of each year.

The Council holds its meetings on the last Thursday in January, April, and July.

Massachusetts Emergency and Hygiene Association.

Originally organized in the winter of 1883 by the Women's Education Association, to provide, for both men and women, instruction which should fit them to be of use in cases of sudden illness or accident. Organized under its present title in order to give instruction or aid in hygiene and the laws of health, and to qualify men and women to act intelligently in cases of sudden accident and emergency pending the arrival of surgeon or physician. The annual membership fee is one dollar, payable in the month of April. The annual meeting is held in Boston in the same month.

Emergency courses of lectures are given throughout the State, especially to policemen and firemen, employees in manufactories, and the militia. At the end of each course an examination is held and certificates awarded to those pupils who pass satisfactorily.

The following outline is followed in the lectures : —

1. Introduction. Brief description of the human body (using skeleton and charts). Outline of the circulation, showing points where it may be controlled by digital pressure. Pulse and respiration in child and adult. Triangular bandaging.

2. Hemorrhage. The extemporary means of arresting it. Dressing of wounds. Burns, scalds, frost bites, poison bites. Triangular bandaging.

3. Sprains. Dislocations. Signs of fracture, and first aid to be rendered. Application of splints. How to lift or carry the sick or injured. Triangular bandaging.

4. Immediate treatment of the apparently drowned or otherwise suffocated. First aid to those suffering from shock or collapse, to those stunned, to the apoplectic, epileptic, inebriated. Fainting. Heat-stroke. Poisons. Triangular bandaging. Review.

The course on hygiene consists of two lectures on dress and the care of the person; diet and exercise; ventilation, temperature, drainage, sunlight; special lecture to women, including the making of beds, changing sheets, etc.

Talks on elementary home nursing are given by a specially trained class of ladies to working-girls' clubs, home missions, etc.

One feature of the association is the work for children in play-grounds, play-rooms, and kitchen gardens. Some work is also done in sanitary inspection.

Boston Medical Association.

A large number of the regular physicians of Boston are united in this association, for the purpose of regulating the medical police of the city, and establishing the fee-table. It was organized in 1806; and in 1808 adopted certain principles of government, which remain to-day as the foundation of a code governing all regular practitioners established in the city.

The annual meeting of the association is held at 19 Boylston Place, on the first Monday in May. Each member pays the sum of one dollar on joining the association. The fee-table of the association is given at a later page of this volume.

The code adopted in 1808 is given in full: —

CONSULTATIONS.

Consultations should be encouraged in difficult and protracted cases, as they give rise to confidence, energy, and more enlarged views in practice. On such occasions no rivalship or jealousy should be indulged; candor, justice, and all due respect should be exercised towards the physician who first attended; and, as he may be presumed to be best acquainted with the patient and his family, he should deliver all the medical directions as agreed upon. It should be the province, however, of the senior consulting physician to propose the necessary questions to the sick.

The consulting physician is never to visit without the attending one, unless by the desire of the latter, or when, as in a sudden emergency, he is not to be found. No discussion of the case should take place before the patient or his friends; and no prognostications should be delivered which were not the result of previous deliberation and concurrence. Theoretical debates, indeed, should generally be avoided in consultation, as occasioning perplexity and the loss of time; for there may be much diversity of opinion on speculative points, with perfect agreement on those modes of practice which are founded, not on hypothesis, but on experience and observation. Physicians in consultations, whatever may be their private resentments or opinions of one another, should divest themselves of all partialities, and think of nothing but what will most effectually contribute to the relief of those under their care.

If a physician cannot lay his hand to his heart and say that his mind is perfectly open to conviction, from whatever quarter it may come, he should in honor decline the consultation.

All discussions and debates in consultations are to be held secret and confidential.

Many advantages may arise from two consulting together, who are men of candor, and have mutual confidence in each other's honor. A remedy may occur to one which did not to another; and a physician may want resolution, or a confidence in his own opinion, to prescribe a powerful but precarious remedy, on which, however, the life of his patient may depend; in this case a concurrent opinion may fix his own. But when such mutual confidence is wanting a consultation had better be declined, especially if there is reason to believe that sentiments delivered with openness are to be communicated abroad or to the family concerned, and if in consequence of this, either gentleman is to be made responsible for the event.

The utmost punctuality should be observed in consultation visits; and to avoid loss of time it will be expedient to establish the space of fifteen minutes as an allowance for delay, after which the meeting might be considered as postponed for a new appointment.

INTERFERENCES.

Medicine is a liberal profession; the practitioners are, or ought to be, men of education; and their expectations of business and employment should be founded on their degrees of qualification, not on artifice and insinuation. A certain undefinable species of assiduities and attentions, therefore, to families usually employing another, is to be considered as beneath the dignity of a regular practitioner, and as making a mere trade of a learned profession; and all officious interferences, in cases of sickness in such families, evince a meanness of disposition unbecoming the character of a physician or a gentleman. No meddling inquiries should be made concerning them, nor hints given relative to their nature and treatment, nor any selfish conduct pursued, that may, directly or indirectly, tend to weaken confidence in the physicians or surgeons who have the care of them.

When a physician is called to a patient who has been under the care of another gentleman of the Faculty, before any examination of the case, he should ascertain whether that gentleman understands that the patient is no longer under his care; and, unless this be the case, the second physician is not to assume the charge of the patient, nor to give his advice — excepting in instances of sudden attacks — without a regular consultation; and if such previously attending gentleman has been dismissed, or has voluntarily relinquished the patient, his practice should be treated with candor, and justified so far as probity and truth will permit; for the want of success in the primary treatment of the disorder is no impeachment of professional skill and knowledge.

It frequently happens that a physician, in incidental communications with the patients of others, or with their friends, may have their cases stated to him in so direct a manner as not to admit of his declining to pay attention to them. Under such circumstances his observations should be delivered with the most delicate propriety and reserve. He should not interfere in the curative plans pursued, and should even recommend a steady adherence to them, if they appear to merit approbation.

DIFFERENCES OF PHYSICIANS.

The differences of physicians, when they end in appeals to the public, generally hurt the contending parties; but, what is of more consequence, they discredit the profession and expose the Faculty itself to contempt and ridicule. Whenever such differences occur as may affect the honor and dignity of the profession, and cannot immediately be terminated, or do not come under the character of violation of the special rules of the association otherwise provided for, they should be referred to the arbitration of a sufficient number of members of the association, according to the nature of the dispute; but neither the subject-matter of such references, nor the adjudication, should, if it can be avoided, be communicated to the public, as they may be personally injurious to the individuals concerned, and can hardly fail to hurt the general credit of the Faculty.

DISCOURAGEMENT OF QUACKERY.[1]

The use of quack medicine should be discouraged by the Faculty as disgraceful to the profession, injurious to [1] At a meeting of the Councillors of the Massachusetts Medical Society, held February 3, 1858, the following resolutions were adopted: —

Resolved, That the Massachusetts Medical Society deem it dishonorable in its Fellows to append their names in any way recommendatory of secret or quack remedies, and any Fellow so exhibiting his name shall be considered as acting in a manner derogatory to the dignity of a Fellow of this society.

Resolved, That if any physician or chemist, through inadvertence or misapprehension, shall have been induced to give his recommendation or authority in any way to promote the circulation or sale of any secret health, and often destructive even of life. No physician or surgeon, therefore, should dispense a secret nostrum, whether it be his invention or exclusive property; for, if it is of real efficacy, the concealment of it is inconsistent with beneficence and professional liberality; and, if mystery alone give it value and importance, such craft implies either disgraceful ignorance or fraudulent avarice.

CONDUCT FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE MEDICAL CHARACTER.

The esprit de corps is a principle of action founded in human nature, and when duly regulated, is both rational and laudable. Every man who enters into a fraternity engages, by a tacit compact, not only to submit to the laws, but to promote the honor and interests of the association, so far as they are consistent with morality and the general good of mankind. A physician, therefore, should cautiously guard against whatever may injure the general respectability of the profession, and should avoid all contumelious representations of the Faculty at large, all general charges against their selfishness or improbity, or empirical medicine, he shall be expected publicly to disclaim or revoke the same.

Resolved, That the Fellows of the Massachusetts Medical Society regard with disapprobation and abhorrence all attempts to procure abortion, except in cases where it may be necessary for the preservation of the mother's life.

Resolved, That when any Fellow of this society shall become cognizant of any attempt unlawfully to procure abortion, either by persons in the profession or out of it, it shall be the duty of such Fellow immediately to lodge information with some proper legal officer, to the end that such information may lead to the exposure and conviction of the offender.

Resolved, That no person convicted of an attempt to procure criminal abortion can, consistently with its by-laws, any longer remain a Fellow of this society.

or the indulgence of an affected or jocular scepticism concerning the efficacy and utility of the healing art.

FEES.

General rules are adopted by the Faculty, in every town, relative to the pecuniary acknowledgments of their patients; and it should be deemed a point of honor to adhere to them; and every deviation from, or evasion of, these rules should be considered as meriting the indignation and contempt of the fraternity.

Gratuitous services to the poor are by no means prohibited; the characteristic beneficence of the profession is inconsistent with sordid views and avaricious rapacity. The poor of every description should be the objects of our peculiar care. Dr. Boerhaave used to say they were his best patients, because God was their paymaster.

It is obvious, also, that an average fee, as suited to the general rank of patients, must be an inadequate compensation from the rich (who often require attendance not absolutely necessary), and yet too large to be expected from that class of citizens who would feel a reluctance in calling for assistance, without making some decent and satisfactory remuneration.

EXEMPTION FROM CHARGES.

All members of the medical profession, together with their families, should be attended gratuitously; but visits should not be obtruded officiously, as such civility may give rise to embarrassments, or interfere with that choice on which confidence depends.

But distant members of the Faculty, when they request attendance, should be expected at least to defray the charges of travelling.

Omission to charge, on account of the wealthy circumstances of the physician, is an injury to the profession, as it is defrauding, in a degree, the common funds for its support, when fees are dispensed with which might justly be claimed.

VICARIOUS OFFICES.

Whenever a physician officiates for another by his desire, in consequence of sickness or absence, if for a short time only, the attendance should be performed gratuitously as to the physician, and with the utmost delicacy towards the professional character of the gentleman previously connected with the patient.

SENIORITY.

A regular and academical education furnishes the only presumptive evidence of professional ability, and is so honorable and beneficial that it gives a just claim to pre-eminence among physicians at large, in proportion to the degree in which it may be enjoyed and improved. Nevertheless, as industry and talents may furnish exceptions to this general rule, and this method may be liable to difficulties in the application, seniority among practitioners of this town should be determined by the period of public and acknowledged practice as a physician or surgeon in the same. This arrangement, being clear and obvious, is adapted to remove all grounds of dispute among medical gentlemen; and it secures the regular continuance of the established order of precedency, which might otherwise be subject to troublesome interruptions by new settlers, perhaps not long stationary in the place.

Boston Society for Medical Observation.

Originally organized April 14, 1835; discontinued in 1838, and revived March 17, 1846. The society was formed on the plan of the Society for Medical Observation in Paris, of which Louis was president, "to make its members good observers of disease, to collect and arrange accurately recorded facts in furtherance of the cause of medical science, and to publish from time to time the results of the examination of such facts." The members are classed as active, associate, honorary, and corresponding.

The number of active members is limited to forty. Any member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, living in Boston, is eligible as a member. Active members must live within the limits of the city proper. Active or associate members of twenty years' standing may be elected honorary members. Corresponding members are elected from those who, having been active or associate members, have left the State, but still desire to retain their connection with the society. Active members, and honorary members who take the journals, pay an annual assessment of seven dollars; associate members, four dollars. The payment of fifty dollars at one time constitutes one a life member.

The meetings are held at the Medical Library, 19 Boylston Place, the first Monday in each month, with the exception of July, August, and September. The proceedings are published in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Most of the leading European and American medical journals are taken by the society, and are circulated among the active and honorary members. The society has a library of about twelve hundred volumes, including complete sets of medical periodicals and other valuable works, which is now deposited at the rooms of the Medical Library Association.

The annual meeting for the election of officers is held the first Monday in April. The semi-annual election of members takes place the first Monday in April and December.

Boston Society for Medical Improvement.

Incorporated March 20, 1839, for the purpose of improving its members in the different branches of medical science.

The meetings of the society are held at the hall of the Medical Library Association, 19 Boylston Place, on the second and fourth Monday in each month except in the summer. The annual meeting of the society is held on the second Monday in January. New members are elected on the second Monday of April and October.

The valuable anatomical collection of the society was presented to the Medical School of Harvard University, and is now placed in the new Medical School building on Boylston Street. The library of the society is deposited at the rooms of the Medical Library Association.

The scientific communications of the society are published in the "Boston Medical and Surgical Journal," and until 1882 were also published in pamphlet form.

Obstetrical Society of Boston.

Organized December 7, 1860. The object of the society is the cultivation of knowledge in all that relates to Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children. The number of members is limited to thirty. Any Fellow of the Massachusetts Medical Society is eligible as a member. Honorary members may also be elected at the annual meeting in January, who have all the rights and privileges of the society, except that of voting.

The meetings are held at the houses of the members, and take place the second Saturday in each month, with the exception of July, August, and September. Nine active members constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The transactions are published in the "Boston Medical and Surgical Journal." The annual meeting for the election of officers is held on the second Saturday in January. The semi-annual election of new members takes place in April and November.

Boylston Medical Society of Harvard University.

The society was organized January 6, 1811, for the purpose of promoting emulation and inquiry among the students at the Medical School connected with Harvard University. It received an act of incorporation from the Legislature, June 13, 1823. The members are students of the school, and are elected at any meeting of the society, provided the candidate was proposed at the previous meeting by the Committee on Elections.

The meetings are held in the Library of the Medical School, at eight o'clock on Friday evenings during the first term, and at such times in the second term as the society may decide. The president of the society is a physician of regular standing, elected by the immediate members. The entrance fee is two dollars.

A printed catalogue of the society is issued once in three years.

The society is in possession of a fund, the gift of the late Ward Nicholas Boylston, M.D., the income of which is appropriated to prizes in the manner more fully described in a later part of this book. In accordance with the terms of incorporation, seven trustees, who must be practising physicians, are annually appointed, who have the sole management and control of the permanent funds of the society.

Old Colony Dental Association.

Organized in Middleboro', August 15, 1866.

Maine Medical Association.

A preliminary meeting was held at Brunswick, Maine, April 28, 1853, to organize an association for professional improvement, the cultivation of friendly intercourse between its members, the faithful support of regular and honorable practice, and the promotion of medical science. The first annual meeting was held in Augusta on the first of the following June, when a board of permanent officers was chosen. The association was incorporated by the Legislature in March, 1855.

Any person in good standing in the profession, a resident of the State of Maine, who is a graduate of any medical school legally entitled to grant diplomas, may become a member on the recommendation of two members, and certifying these requirements to the Board of Censors, and being elected by vote of the general association, signing the by-laws, and paying the initiation fee of five dollars. Those members who have arrived at the age of seventy years, and have notified the treasurer of the association of the same in writing, having paid all their assessments, or having been excused from the same; also those members who by reason of ill health have been obliged to retire from the practice of the profession, — may become retired members. They retain all the privileges previously enjoyed, but do not pay assessments. Members whose dues have been paid or remitted may, on written application, be allowed to withdraw from the association.

The Censors constitute a Board of Trial for the purpose of acting on any charges brought against a member, with the power to pass such sentence as in their judgment may seem just. Appeal may be made from such sentence to the association, and, if the association so votes, the case may be reviewed by a committee of twelve members and the President ex officio. Their decision is final.

Twenty-five members of the association constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

The annual meeting is holden on such day in June, and in such place, as the Censors may determine; semi-annual or quarterly meetings may be called at any time by the President, upon application being made by ten or more members.

The annual assessment is two dollars. The Transactions of the association, with the scientific papers read at the annual meeting, are published each year.

The county societies of Maine have no connection with the State society.

The annual meeting is held at the Medical School on the day of the graduating exercises.

New Hampshire Medical Society.

The New Hampshire Medical Society was incorporated in 1791, with the power to elect officers, examine and license candidates for the practice of medicine and surgery, and "continue a body politic and corporate by the same name forever."

An organization was effected, a seal adopted, and Dr. Josiah Bartlett was chosen the first President, the same year.

Any person who has received a medical degree at any school or university authorized to confer the same, or who has been duly licensed by the Censors of a regularly constituted medical society, and sustains a good moral character, having signified his wish to join the society, may be proposed by the Council for membership, and voted for at any regular or special meeting of the society (a majority of two thirds of the votes cast being necessary to constitute a choice); but his election shall be void unless he pay the initiation fee and subscribe to the by-laws and regulations at or before the next annual meeting; which conditions it shall be the duty of the Secretary to communicate to each person, together with the notice of his election.

The annual meeting of the society is held in Concord on the third Tuesday in June.

The Council of the society meets on the day preceding the annual meeting.

An initiation fee of three dollars, and two dollars dues, is paid by each member, and an annual assessment of two dollars thereafter.

Members who have reached the age of sixty years may, by permission of the Councillors, become retired members. They are entitled to all the privileges, and conform to all the requirements of the society; they are not liable to assessments, nor bound to accept any office in the society.

The county societies receive their charters from the State society.

Rhode Island Medical Society.

Founded and incorporated in 1812; charter amended by the legislature in 1887.

New Fellows are elected annually from such physicians, resident in the State, as pass the required examinations and are recommended by the Board of Censors. Examinations for admission are conducted by a Board of five members, and embrace the usual branches of medical science taught in recognized medical colleges. Examinations are held in April.

The annual meeting is held in Providence on the second Thursday in June, and is devoted to anniversary exercises, reading of reports and the delivery of the annual address. Quarterly meetings are held on the second Thursday in March, September, and December, and are occupied with the reading and discussion of papers and reports of cases. The annual assessment is five dollars.

The Transactions of the society are published in January, and contain the proceedings and most important papers of the preceding year.

The President and the two Vice-Presidents are the Trustees of the Fiske Fund. From the income of this fund prizes are annually offered for essays on medical subjects.

A record of fifty years of the society by J. H. Eldredge, M.D., is given in the Transactions of the society for 1888. The library of the society is described on a later page. The society's rooms at 54 North Main Street, Providence, are open daily from two to six o'clock.

Connecticut Medical Society.

Organized in 1791, and incorporated by the Legislature in 1825. The society includes eight county associations, all of which are under the control of the parent society and constitute its local branches. They are known by the names of the counties in which they are situated, and each association includes all members of the Connecticut Medical Society within its limits. Eminent physicians not living in the State may be elected to honorary membership.

Previous to 1793 Yale College conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Medicine. From 1793 to 1813, inclusive, honorary degrees were conferred by the Connecticut Medical Society, in accordance with its charter; and during that time the honorary degree of Doctor of Medicine was not conferred by Yale College in any case, so far as can be ascertained. When the Medical College was organized and went into operation, the Medical Society, by agreement with Yale College, ceased to act independently in conferring degrees.

The charter of the Medical College, after providing for degrees to be conferred by examination, provided that "The President of the College may also confer the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Medicine upon those persons whom the President and Fellows of the Medical Society shall recommend for that purpose."

The superintendence and management of the society are vested in a body known as the "President and Fellows of the Connecticut Medical Society," consisting of the officers of the society proper, for the time being, and of five members each from the Hartford, New Haven, New London, Fairfield, Windham, Litchfield, and Middlesex county societies, and three from Middlesex Tolland.

Members are admitted through the county associations. No one is admitted to membership unless he shall have received the degree of Doctor of Medicine, or have been admitted ad eundem, from such medical authorities as this society shall deem proper to recognize. He must also reside and practise in the county in which his application is made. All members have the privilege of attending the meetings of the President and Fellows, and enjoy all the privileges except that of voting.

A member of the society who shall make, vend, or publicly recommend, or who is directly or indirectly interested in the manufacture, use, or sale of any nostrum or patent medicine, is ineligible to any office, and is liable to be suspended from the privileges of the society, or to expulsion.

No member of the society shall hold professional consultation or intercourse with any other than licensed physicians and surgeons in regular standing.

The annual meeting of the President and Fellows is held on the day preceding the annual convention of the society, and in the same city where the convention is held.

The convention is held on the Thursday following the fourth Wednesday in May, alternately at Hartford and New Haven. The annual meetings of the county associations are held at such times and places as may be agreed on by them, provided the annual meeting shall be at least four weeks before the fourth Wednesday in May.

The proceedings of the society are published annually. The annual assessment never exceeds five dollars.

The nomination to professorships in the Medical Institution of Yale College, since the year 1810, has been made by a joint committee of an equal number of persons appointed by the President and Fellows of Yale College and the President and Fellows of the society; but all articles of agreement between the two organizations were annulled in 1884.

The Superintendent of the Retreat for the Insane has been nominated in like manner since 1823.

THE VITAL PRINCIPLES OF BEEF CONCENTRATED.

The expressed juices of Fresh Meat combined with pure albuminoids, forming a perfect food, rich in nitrogenous constituents and wholly free from insoluable elements, containing no medication whatever, being a highly condensed nutriment, rapidly assimilated by the weakest digestive organs, capable of sustaining life for an indefinite period, and adapted to the wants of humanity from infancy to old age. As a RAW FOOD EXTRACT, in which the albuminous portions are uncoagulated by heat, thereby rendering it easily absorbed by the enfeebled gastric forces, it stands unique before the world.

Nursing Mothers, Infants, and Children thrive wonderfully by its use.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS AND KINDRED INSTITUTIONS.

Medical Department of Harvard University.

Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

Instruction in this School is given by lectures, recitations, clinical teaching, and practical exercises, uniformly distributed throughout the academic year. The year begins on the Thursday following the last Wednesday in September, and ends on the last Wednesday in June. There is a recess at Christmas, beginning December 23, and ending January 2; and a spring recess, beginning on the Wednesday before Fast Day, and ending on the following Tuesday, inclusive.

The course of study recommended by the Faculty covers four years, but the degree of Doctor of Medicine is given upon the completion of three years of study, as heretofore.

The facilities of the large and well equipped building on Boylston Street have been still further increased during the year 1890 by the addition of a new building for the special accommodation of the pathological and bacteriological departments. This building, costing $35,000, is the gift of H. F. Sears, M.D.

Requisites for Admission. — Every candidate for admission not holding a degree in arts or science must pass a written examination on entrance to this School, in English, Latin, Physics, and any one of the following subjects: French, German, Elements of Algebra, or Plain Geometry, Botany. The admission examination is held in June at Boston, Exeter, Andover, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and San Francisco; in September, at Boston only.

Division of Studies — Four Years' Course.

First year. — Anatomy, Physiology, General Chemistry, Medical Chemistry during the second half-year, and Materia Medica.

Second year. — Practical and Topographical Anatomy, Medical Chemistry during the first half-year, Pathological Anatomy, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, and Clinical Surgery, Therapeutics, and Pædiatrics.

Third year. — Therapeutics, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, and Clinical Surgery, and as electives Ophthalmology, Otology, Dermatology, Diseases of the Nervous System, Diseases of Children, Mental Diseases, Gynecology, and Legal Medicine.

Fourth year. — Ophthalmology, Otology, Dermatology, Laryngology, Mental Diseases, Diseases of the Nervous System, Gynecology, Diseases of Children, Obstetrics, Clinical and Operative Obstetrics, Clinical Medicine, Clinical and Operative Surgery, Legal Medicine, Orthopedic Surgery, Genito-urinary Diseases, Hygiene, Vaccination, Bacteriology, Ovarian Tumors, Clinical Microscopy, and the Preparation of Food for Infants and Invalids.

Three Years' Course.

First year. — Anatomy, Physiology, General Chemistry, Medical Chemistry during the second half-year, and Materia Medica.

Second year. — Practical and Topographical Anatomy, Medical Chemistry during the first half-year, Pathological Anatomy, Clinical Medicine, Clinical Surgery, Therapeutics, and Pædiatrics.

Third year. — Obstetrics, Clinical and Operative Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, Clinical Surgery, Ophthalmology, Dermatology, Syphilis, Otology, Laryngology, Mental Diseases, Diseases of the Nervous System, Gynecology, Diseases of Children, Legal Medicine, Bacteriology.

The following methods of instruction are adopted in the several departments : —

Anatomy. — Lectures ; various practical exercises, including abundant dissection, under the direction of the Demonstrator ; recitations and demonstrations.

Histology and Embryology. — Lectures and laboratory work. Every student is recommended to purchase a microscope, but microscopes are provided for those whose means do not enable them to buy one. Accommodations are furnished for those students who wish to pursue special or advanced courses. Special facilities are offered for original investigators.

Physiology. — Lectures, recitations, conferences, and practical demonstrations in the Laboratory. To students of the second, third, and fourth classes, opportunities are given for original investigations in the Laboratory.

Chemistry is taught mainly by practical work in the Laboratory, the student having his own desk and apparatus. Descriptive Chemistry and qualitative analysis are taught during the first year. Besides the laboratory-work, there is a lecture and a recitation every week. In the second half-year and the first half of the second year medical chemistry is taught by lectures, recitations, and exercises in the Laboratory.

Pathology and Pathological Anatomy are taught by lectures, recitations, and practical instruction in pathological histology. The collection of the Warren Anatomical Museum is used to illustrate the lectures, and morbid specimens in a fresh state are shown at the recitations, where the student is called upon to describe the appearances. Students are also invited in turn to make an autopsy. The instruction in pathological histology, including the diagnosis of tumors, is continued throughout the year. Each student, provided with a microscope, the necessary instruments, and reagents, prepares the various objects and submits them for explanation and criticism. The formation of small classes for special work, and the individual pursuit of original investigations are encouraged.

Materia Medica. — Materia Medica is taught by lectures and recitations, with exhibition of medicines and pharmaceutical processes. Besides the large and complete cabinet of materia medica in the Museum, a collection of officinal drugs and chemicals and of all the important preparations is placed where it can be seen by the students at any time.

Therapeutics is taught by lectures and demonstrations supplemented by clinical exercises at the Hospital to sections of the class.

The Theory and Practice of Medicine. — Lectures, recitations, and hospital visits.

Clinical Medicine. — Daily instruction is given in this department by hospital visits and other exercises. Students are furnished with cases for personal examination, and are called upon to report them before the class, where they are criticised. These examinations are held both in the wards and in the amphitheatre. Clinical conference affords an opportunity for more thorough preparation of cases. The full written report of a case is read by the student who has examined it. It is afterwards criticised by the class, by the Professor of Clinical Medicine, and other teachers in the school. In addition to this, a regular course of supplementary instruction is given in Auscultation and Percussion, and in Laryngoscopy, which affords students an abundant opportunity for acquiring a thoroughly practical knowledge of those methods of exploration.

Surgery. — Lectures and recitations. There are also courses on Surgical Anatomy, Minor Surgery, Surgical Histology, Bandaging, and Operative Surgery. In the last, students of the third and fourth classes are supplied with material for repeating the usual surgical operations.

Obstetrics. — Lectures and recitations. Students are instructed in the usual operations on the manikin, and are required to take charge of at least six cases of obstetrics in their third year. A course on operative obstetrics, with practical illustrations on the cadaver, is given.

Diseases of Women. — Lectures, recitations, and practical instruction at the different dispensaries in the education of the touch. Here also every facility is given the student to become familiar with the different forms of uterine disease. A course in operative gynecology, extending throughout the year, at the Free Hospital for Women, is open to students of the third and fourth classes. To students of the fourth class and to post-graduates cases are assigned for personal examination; these cases are reported in full at the clinical conference, and are made the subject of discussion by members of the class and the instructor. These students are also called upon to assist at the operations in the operative course. There is also a course in operative gynecology upon the cadaver, at which each student of the fourth class is expected to perform the ordinary gynecological operations with his own hands.

Clinical Surgery. — Instruction in Clinical Surgery is given at the Massachusetts General Hospital and City Hospital, each week throughout the year, as follows : —

One clinical conference, one clinical lecture, two visits in the hospital wards, and two public operating days.

Surgical clinical conferences are conducted on the same general plan as the medical conferences.

Diseases of Children. — The instruction in this subject consists of a systematic course of lectures beginning in the latter half of the second year and extending through the entire third year.

Ophthalmology. — A complete course is delivered upon the diseases of the eye, including clinical instruction and the use of the ophthalmoscope.

Dermatology is taught by lectures and clinical illustrations. The special out-patient department at the Massachusetts General Hospital furnishes ample opportunities for illustration.

Syphilis. — Recitations and clinical instruction.

Otology. — Lectures and clinical instruction.

Laryngology. — Lectures and demonstrations.

Diseases of the Nervous System. — Lectures and demonstrations.

Legal Medicine. — Lectures and demonstrations.

Embryology and Histology. — Lectures.

Hygiene. — Lectures and demonstrations.

Bacteriology. — Lectures and practical work in the Laboratory.

Students are admitted to the practice of the physicians and surgeons of the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Boston City Hospital, the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, The Children's Hospital, the Boston Dispensary, the Marine Hospital at Chelsea, the Free Hospital for Women, and the Carney Hospital.

Hospital Appointments. — There are twenty-five appointments annually for Internes in the various hospitals, and as many more for Assistants in the out-patient departments. Appointments for the Massachusetts General and City Hospitals are for the term of eighteen months, for The Children's Hospital for one year, for the Boston Lying-in Hospital for four months, and for the Free Hospital for Women for nine months.

The regular examinations are conducted in writing and are held at the end of each year, in June, and a week before the opening of the School in September, on the studies of the preceding year.[1] They are held in the following order : —

At the End of the First Year. — Anatomy, Physiology, General Chemistry, Materia Medica.

End of Second Year. — Anatomy, Medical Chemistry, Pathology and Pathological Anatomy, Therapeutics.

End of Third Year. — Obstetrics,[2] Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery,[2] Clinical Surgery; in addition, each candidate will be required to take examinations, amounting to two (2) hours, and chosen from the following list of elective studies, at the commencement of the year; the choice thus made is to be final. One two-hour course or two one-hour courses are to be taken, as follows : —

Ophthalmology (1 hr.), Otology (1 hr.), Dermatology (2 hrs.), Diseases of Nervous System (2 hrs.), Diseases of Children (2 hrs.), Mental Diseases (1 hr.), Gynecology (2 hrs.), Legal Medicine (1 hr.), Bacteriology (1 hr.)

End of Fourth Year. — Each candidate must pass examinations amounting to ten (10) hours, chosen from the following list of studies, the choice to be made at the commencement of the year and to be regarded as final: —

Ophthalmology (2 hrs.), Dermatology (2 hrs.), Otology (2 hrs.), Laryngology (1 hr.), Gynecology (2 hrs.), Diseases of Children (2 hrs.), Diseases of Nervous System (2 hrs.), Mental Diseases (1 hr.), Clinical Obstetrics (2 hrs.), Operative Obstetrics (1 hr.), Operative Surgery (1 hr.), Legal Medicine (1 hr.), Hygiene (1 hr.), Bacteriology (1 hr.)

In addition to the above examinations each student is required to present a satisfactory report of the analysis of a solution containing inorganic substances, and of a specimen of urine, to examine and report upon a clinical case in Medicine and Surgery, and to take charge of and report upon six cases in Obstetrics; each student must also have dissected the three parts of the body to the satisfaction of the Demonstrator.

Students are divided into four classes, according to their time of study and proficiency, and during their last year will receive largely increased opportunities of instruction in the special branches mentioned. Students following the three years' course are classified as heretofore, and the instruction in the special branches is of the same character as that which has been given for several years. Students who began their professional studies elsewhere may be admitted to advanced standing; but all persons who apply for admission to the advanced classes must pass an examination in the branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission, and furnish a satisfactory[1] certificate of time spent in medical studies. No student may advance with his class, or be admitted to advanced standing until he has passed the required examinations in the studies of the previous year, or a majority of them; nor may he become a member of the third class, until he has passed all the examinations of the first, in addition to a majority of those of the second year.

In order that the time of study shall count as a full year, students of all classes must present themselves within the first week of the School year, and register their names with the Secretary.

Requirements for the Degree. — Every candidate must be twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character; must give evidence of having studied medicine three or four full years; have spent at least one continuous year at this school; have presented a satisfactory thesis; and have passed the required examinations.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine cum laude will be given to candidates who have pursued a complete four years' course and obtained an average of seventy-five per cent upon all the examinations above stated. A certificate of attendance on the studies of the fourth year will be given to such graduates as have attended the course, and have passed a satisfactory examination in the studies of the same.

Theses of conspicuous merit are mentioned with honor or read at the University Commencement.

The degree of Master of Arts is open to graduates of the school who are also Bachelors of Arts of Harvard College, and to Bachelors of Arts of other Colleges who shall be recommended by the Faculty of Harvard College. Candidates must pursue an approved course of study in Medicine for at least one year after taking the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Students who have taken the four years' course, and have passed the examinations "with high credit," may obtain the degree of Master of Arts by presenting their applications to the Faculty on or before the first of June in the year of their final examinations.

Pecuniary Aid. — Four yearly scholarships have been established by the Faculty, of the value of $200 each, open to meritorious students who have been at the School for at least one year. The Barringer scholarships, of the value of $300 and $200 respectively, are awarded to deserving students, preferably those of the fourth class. Only those needing assistance are expected to apply; and from such, those holding the highest rank will have the preference.

The David Williams Cheever scholarship, of the value of $200, will be awarded to a student of the first year. Holders of scholarships may be required to render assistance in laboratory courses to an amount not exceeding four hours per week.

The income of the John Foster Fund, amounting to about one hundred and fifty dollars, is payable every other year to one or more meritorious students needing assistance.

Fees and Expenses. — For matriculation, five dollars; for a year two hundred dollars (if in two payments, at the first, one hundred and twenty dollars; at the second, eighty dollars); for a half-year alone, one hundred and twenty dollars; for graduation, thirty dollars. Of students who do not pay in advance, a bond for $300 executed by two sufficient bondsmen, one of whom must be a citizen of the United States, is required. No degree can be conferred till all dues to the school are discharged.

Graduates' Course. — The Faculty has arranged a greatly enlarged and improved plan of instruction for graduates, embracing all the branches of practical and scientific medicine. It is designed to supply those opportunities for clinical and laboratory study which have hitherto been sought in Europe by young graduates and practitioners.

List of Courses.

Anatomy. — The following courses are offered: —

1. The Anatomy of the Joints, illustrated by preparations, frozen sections, and the live model.

2. The Anatomy of the Central Nervous System, including Cerebral Localization and the Course of Fibres. Illustrated by preparations, models, plates, and diagrams.

3. Applied Anatomy demonstrated on the cadaver, including Surface Anatomy.

4. A Dissection Course.

Histology and Embryology: — The following courses are offered :—

1. A course on Human Embryology.

2. Normal Histology.

3. Histological Technique.

Obstetrics. — Clinical instruction in Obstetrics will be given in the wards of the Boston Lying-in Hospital on two mornings of the week during the months of November and December, and April and May. Special attention will be given to the management of convalescence after confinement, and opportunity will be given to witness labor cases and operations in the Hospital.

Practical instruction in Operative Obstetrics on the cadaver will be given at the Medical School, consisting of ten daily exercises.

Ophthalmology. — At the Boston City Hospital two courses will be given, from January till July.

Courses will also be given at the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, the ophthalmic out-patient department of which receives between nine and ten thousand patients annually.

Dermatology. — Instruction in Diseases of the skin will be given at the Skin Department of the Massachusetts General Hospital. Over two thousand cases are treated at this clinic yearly, which come from the New England States generally and the British provinces, and present many examples of the rare forms of cutaneous affections.

Each course will last eight weeks, and instruction will be continuous throughout the academic year, from October to June inclusive. Graduates will have opportunity for the closest examination of patients. They may also attend the systematic course of lectures on Dermatology. A large collection of Baretta's models of Skin Disease is open to their inspection in the Museum of the School.

Syphilis. — A course on Syphilis at the out-patient department of the Boston City Hospital in January, February, and March.

Otology. — The instruction in this department will be given at the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary and at the Boston City Hospital. Each course of eight weeks' duration will include, in addition to the exhibition and explanation of cases, practical instruction in examination and diagnosis, and a systematic review of the anatomy, physiology, and diseases of the ear.

Gynecology. — Instruction in Diseases of Women will be given at the Free Hospital for Women and the Boston Dispensary. The wards of the first-named hospital afford opportunities for the study of the severer forms of uterine disease, while the out-patient department of both institutions supplies abundant material for the education of the touch, and the diagnosis and treatment of all minor gynecological diseases. There will be four courses of eight weeks each.

Graduates may also attend the course of lectures at the Medical School.

Provided six or more graduates desire an operative course, in which they may take part in the performance of the various gynecological operations upon the cadaver, as well as acquire greater familiarity with the instruments used in minor Gynecology, such instruction will be given from 7 till 9 P. M. each evening during the last two weeks of each of the previous courses.

Ovarian Tumors. — In this department cases for diagnosis will be shown, and both recent and preserved specimens illustrative of different forms of abdominal tumors will be exhibited. Graduates may also have opportunities to witness laparotomies and to receive clinical teaching on the individual case then under treatment. They will also be admitted to lectures at the Medical School.

Laryngology and Rhinology. — Instruction in Diseases of the Throat and Nose will be given in two courses from January to April. Each course will last six weeks.

Each course will consist of a demonstration of the structure of the larynx and nasal passages, and practical instruction in the use of the laryngoscope and rhinoscope, and in the diagnosis and treatment of affections of the throat and nose. Both hospitals afford excellent material.

Neurology. — Courses of twenty-four lectures each will be given on Diseases of the Nervous System, at the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General Hospital. The material afforded by this clinic, which receives patients from all over New England, is ample; the department is well provided with means for the investigation of cases; the courses will be abundantly illustrated by diagrams and microscopic preparations as well as by the exhibition of patients, and will include instruction in the use of electricity in diagnosis and treatment.

Mental Diseases. — Instruction in Mental Diseases will be given at the McLean Asylum for the Insane during February and March. Also at the Boston Lunatic Hospital during the months of April and May. The hospital contains 200 patients.

Diseases of Children.— Instruction in Diseases of Children will be given at the City Hospital, Children's Hospital, Infant Hospital and West End Nursery, Boston Dispensary (Children's Room), and in the Dispensary Districts, throughout the year.

The new wards at the City Hospital, built especially for the reception of cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria, offer exceptional advantages for studying the diagnosis and treatment of these diseases.

Legal Medicine. — Instruction in Legal Medicine will be given at the City Hospital. Each course will last eight weeks, and instruction will be continuous throughout the academic year from October to June.

Hygiene. — Practical instruction will be given in the Laboratory at the Medical School in the analysis of air, water, soils, and of articles of food and drink for adulterations. Opportunities will also be afforded for special work. Attention will also be given to the sanitary inspection of houses, public buildings, and premises of offensive trades, and to the investigation of ventilation, plumbing, etc.

Bacteriology. — The courses in Bacteriology will consist of instruction in the methods of research, together with opportunities for original investigation. The means of illustration and facilities for work are those of a well-equipped laboratory.

During the summer months courses, chiefly clinical, are given by the instructors of the school to graduates and advanced students. The fees for these courses range from ten to thirty dollars.

Those pursuing this course may elect the studies to which they will give their attention, and allot the time they will devote to each. They will be exempt, unless at their option, from examinations, and may obtain a certificate of attendance on this course of advanced study. On payment of the full fee for the course, they will have the privilege of attending any of the other exercises of the Medical School, the use of its laboratories and library, and all other rights accorded by the University.

Graduates of other medical schools may obtain the degree of M.D. at this University, after a year's study in the graduates' course. The required examinations are those of the three years' course, and may be passed in such order as is desired, but only at the stated seasons. Fee for a year, two hundred dollars; fee for half-year, one hundred and twenty dollars.

The Commencement of the Medical School occurs in June at Cambridge, in common with that of other departments of the University.

College of Physicians and Surgeons.

20 Boylston Place, Boston.

Incorporated in 1880, with power to confer the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Women are admitted. The plan of this Institution comprises a three years' graded course upon the essential branches of medicine: First year, Anatomy, Physiology, and General Chemistry; second year, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Pathology, and Medical Chemistry; third year, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice and Surgery. The lectures commence on the first Wednesday in October and end on the first Wednesday in April. Fees for first year, $100; second year, $95; third year, $90; graduation fee, $30; instruction in single branch, $30. Fee for entire three years' course when paid in advance, $250. For further information, address C. P. Thayer, M.D., Registrar, 74 Boylston Street, Boston.

Boston Polyclinic.

The successor of the Summer School for Clinical Instruction which was commenced in 1880 and regularly organized in 1881. In the winter of 1885–1886 the name was changed to that of the Boston Polyclinic, and for the first time winter courses were given. The Association provides Clinical Instruction in all branches of medicine and surgery for post-graduates and for students of medicine. The courses last from four to six weeks, and the classes are limited in numbers. The price of each course is fifteen dollars; Gynecological courses, twenty dollars. The fees must be paid in advance. Names may be registered with, and all information will be furnished by Myles Standish, M.D., Secretary, 200 Dartmouth Street, Boston.

Dental Department of Harvard University.

North Grove Street, Boston, Mass.

The Dental Department of the University is established in Boston, in order to secure in connection with the Medical Department those advantages for clinical instruction which are found only in large cities.

Instruction in this School is given throughout the academic year, by lectures, recitations, clinical teaching, and practical exercises, uniformly distributed. The year begins on the Thursday following the last Wednesday in September, and ends on the last Wednesday in June. There is a recess, beginning December 23, and ending January 2; and a spring recess, beginning on the Wednesday before Fast Day and ending on the following Tuesday, both inclusive. The course of instruction is progressive, and extends over three years, the teaching of one year not being repeated in the next.

The first year is identical with that of the Harvard Medical School, the student receiving the same instruction by the same professors at the same time and place with the medical students, and at the end of the year passing with them the same examinations.

It is the object of the Faculty to present a complete course of instruction in the theory and practice of Dentistry; and for this purpose a well-appointed laboratory and infirmary are provided, and such arrangements made as to insure an ample supply of patients. Clinical instruction is given by the professors and other instructors; and, under the direction of demonstrators, patients are assigned to the students, securing to all opportunity of operating at the chair, and becoming by actual practice familiar with all the operations demanded of the dentist.

The Infirmary remains open, and one of the Clinical Instructors and the Demonstrator are in attendance, daily, throughout the academic year.

Students have access to the hospitals of the city; to the dissecting-room and museum of the Medical College; and also, without additional charge, to the instruction and examinations given in any other department of the University with the exception of exercises carried on in the special laboratories.

Requirements for Admission. — All candidates for admission, except those who have passed an examination for admission to Harvard College, or the Lawrence Scientific School, must present a degree in Letters, Science, or Medicine, from a recognized college or scientific school, or pass an examination in the following subjects : —

1. English. Every candidate will be required to write, legibly and correctly, an English composition of not less than two hundred words, and also to write English prose from dictation.

2. Physics. A competent knowledge of Physics (such as may be obtained from Balfour Stewart's Elements of Physics).

On and after June, 1891, each candidate for admission must pass an examination in one of the following subjects, Latin, French, German, the Elements of Algebra, or Plane Geometry.

Students may be admitted to advanced standing upon passing a satisfactory examination in a majority of the studies already pursued by the class.

Graduates of recognized Dental Schools will be admitted without examination to the courses of Operative and Mechanical Dentistry.

The examination for admission is held at the Dental School in North Grove Street, Boston, on the Monday preceding the last Wednesday in September, beginning at 10 A. M.

No person will be examined for admission at any other than the regularly appointed time.

The entrance and first-year examinations will be allowed to foreign students who have passed equivalent examinations abroad, upon presentation of proper certificates from the examining boards vouching for the facts.

The diploma is accepted by the English Board of Registration under the new Dental Act, so that graduates of this School, not British subjects, can practise dentistry in Great Britain without further examination.

All persons intending to take the entrance examination must send their names to the Dean for registry at least two weeks previous to the day on which the examination is to take place.

Course of Instruction. — The following are the methods of study adopted in the various departments : —

Anatomy. — Lectures, demonstrations, various practical exercises, including dissection under the direction of the Demonstrator ; recitations.

Physiology. — Lectures, recitations, conferences, and practical demonstrations in the laboratory. Opportunities for work in the physiological laboratory of the Medical School are offered to students who are qualified to carry on original investigations.

Chemistry is taught mainly by practical work in the laboratory, the student having his own desk and apparatus. Descriptive chemistry and qualitative analysis are taught during the first year. Beside the laboratory work, there is a lecture and recitation every week.

Surgery. — Lectures and recitations in oral surgery illustrated by colored drawings and by recent and morbid specimens. All improved instruments and apparatus are exhibited and explained. Operations are performed on the living subject at the hospitals, and upon the dead body. Instruction is given in the use of anæsthetics.

Surgical Pathology. — Lectures and recitations embracing the subjects of shock, inflammation, repair, suppuration, ulceration, mortification, embolism, pyæmia, erysipelas, and tetanus.

Operative Dentistry. — The instruction in this department is both didactic and practical. The professor and other instructors demonstrate all known methods of performing operations upon the teeth and other tissues involved.

Oral Anatomy and Physiology. — Lectures and recitations upon the minute anatomy of the teeth and their histological development, and the surgical pathology of the tissues in and about the mouth. Material is furnished for the examination of the tissues in a healthy and diseased condition, with instruction in its preparation. Instruction is given in the use of the microscope, and the preparation of objects for examination.

Dental Pathology. — In the beginning of the course of lectures the general principles of pathology, including etiology, nosology, semeiology, diagnosis, and prognosis are outlined. The various pathological conditions in their relations to one another and their modifications of structure and function are considered at length. The diseases of the dental and contiguous tissues are considered in detail, with reference to their nature, causes, manifestations and terminations and their relations with systemic conditions.

Dental Materia Medica and Therapeutics. — The course in materia medica is supplementary to that of the first year, instruction being given in the materials peculiar to the use of the dentist.

In Therapeutics the entire field is covered, special emphasis being given to the application of remedies to diseases connected with this specialty.

Both lectures and recitations are given, and the collection of drugs and preparations is open to the inspection of the students at any time.

Mechanical Dentistry. — Lectures and practical work in the laboratory; the manner in which mineral teeth are constructed, the principles and method of carving and furnace-work, and all compounds used for artificial teeth; also metallurgy, and the manner in which gold and silver plates are prepared and adapted to the mouth; the use of rubber and other articles as bases. It is the aim to teach not only the mere mechanical processes of dentistry, but that combination of art with mechanism which enables the practitioner to effect so much in restoring the symmetry of the face and usefulness of the teeth, where they have been lost or impaired by accident or disease.

Neurology. — A course of six lectures on the nervous system in health and disease, and its relation to the condition of the dental organs.

Dental Chemistry. — A course of ten lectures.

Clinical Lectures on Operative Dentistry. — Operations on patients, — demonstrations and exhibition of models, showing the individual methods of the lecturers with descriptions and explanations.

Examinations. — The regular examinations, conducted in writing and orally, are held at the end of each year in June in the following order, viz.: —

At the end of the first year in the studies of that year, — anatomy, including dissection, physiology, general chemistry, and materia medica. A certificate from the Demonstrator of Anatomy will be required of each student that he has satisfactorily performed the required dissections.

At the end of the second year in the studies of that year, — oral anatomy and physiology, dental pathology, dental materia medica and therapeutics, oral surgery and surgical pathology, operative and mechanical dentistry, except that no student shall take the examinations in operative and mechanical dentistry till the year of his graduation. The examinations in operative and mechanical dentistry will include actual operations performed during the year, and the preparation of specimens of mechanical dentistry.

Examinations for advanced standing, on the studies of the preceding year, are held a week before the opening of the School in September.

No student will be allowed to anticipate the examinations in the regular course of studies of his year, except by special permission of the Faculty. Students intending to present themselves for examination must notify the Dean by letter of such intention, two weeks before the time when the examination is to be held.

Those who fail in any subject may present themselves in that subject again at the next regular examination.

Requirements for the degree. — The degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine (Dentariae Medicinae Doctor) may be conferred on each candidate of adult age, and of good moral character; who must give evidence of having studied medicine or dentistry three full years, at least one continuous year of which must have been spent at this School. He must also have passed all the required examinations, and convinced the Professors of Operative and Mechanical Dentistry of his ability to meet satisfactorily the requirements of his art.

He must also deposit with the Dean, to be placed in the Museum of the School, a specimen of mechanical dentistry, or of practical or pathological anatomy prepared during the course under the eye of the instructor.

No student may advance with his class until he has passed a satisfactory examination in a majority of the studies already pursued by his class.

Admission to advanced standing does not diminish the time (three years) to be spent in professional studies.

Beginning with the year 1891–1892 the course will be a graded one of three continuous years, all of which must be spent in the school. The certificate of one or two years' study in a private office, either that of a dentist or physician, will no longer be accepted.

Fees. — There are no fees for matriculation, for the diploma, or for the demonstrators. For the first year a student is a member of the School, the fee is $200, in two payments of $120 and $80, at the beginning of each term; for the second year, $150, in two payments of $100 and $50, payable at the beginning of each term; for any subsequent year, $50, payable at the beginning of the year.

Graduates of recognized Dental Schools will be admitted to the courses of Operative and Mechanical Dentistry for the whole or any portion of the academic year on payment of fifty dollars for each course.

Of students who do not pay in advance, a bond for $300 executed by two sufficient bondsmen, one of whom must be a citizen of the United States, is required. A copy of such bond will be sent, on application to the Dean of the Faculty. The bond of the "American Surety Company," if made in a form which is satisfactory to the Treasurer of the College, will also be accepted. To students depositing these bonds, term-bills will be presented a week before the end of the first term, to be paid within two weeks; and also one week or more before Commencement, to be paid on or before the beginning of the next academic year. Such students will be held responsible for the payment of fees until they shall have notified the Dean of their intention to withdraw from the School, and have received their bond from the Treasurer. No degree can be conferred till all dues to the School are discharged.

563 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Incorporated June 3, 1868, for the advancement of Dental Science and Art, by means of lectures, clinical instruction, library, and museum. It is authorized by the Legislature to confer the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery. The students are classed as Freshmen, Juniors, and Seniors, and the college pupilage is continuous over three years of nine months each.

In this institution all branches of the dental and collateral sciences are taught, so far as they can be made available to the dentist. Every endeavor is used to make the course scientific and practical, by demonstration and experiment.

Students of the Freshman class devote themselves to the study of Anatomy, Mechanical Dentistry, Clinical Dentistry, Materia Medica, Physics, Dissection, Carving, and other elementary branches.

The course during the Junior year comprises Chemistry, Histology, Anatomy, Therapeutics, Operative, Clinical, and Mechanical Dentistry.

In the Senior year students attend lectures on Surgery, Surgical Pathology, Chemistry, Physiology, Pathology, Microscopy and Dental Histology, Operative, Clinical and Mechanical Dentistry.

The year begins on the second Monday in September and ends on the third Wednesday in June. Two or more lectures are given to each class each week-day, except Saturday. The laboratory and operating room are open at 9 o'clock A. M., and continue open until 2 P. M. each day, for the performing of operations and for practical work.

The exercises of the college are held in the building, 563 Tremont Street, Boston. The college is furnished with all the necessary and most approved modern appliances requisite for dental instruction. In the same building is the Infirmary, which is open daily from 9 to 2 except during the months of July and August, where every character of dental operation will be performed and demonstrated, and opportunities given for the student to operate. Anæsthetics are given only on Thursday.

The students of the college are permitted to visit the wards of the Massachusetts General and City Hospitals and the Boston Dispensary.

Requirements for Admission. — Candidates for admission must pass a preliminary examination in reference to their preparatory education. They must bring a certificate of the period of their professional study.

The examinations for admission are held the second Monday in September, beginning at 10 A. M.

Students who began their professional studies elsewhere may be admitted to advanced standing; but all persons who apply for admission to the advanced classes must pass an examination in the branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission, or furnish satisfactory certificates of the time spent in professional study. Any student may obtain a certificate of his period of connection with this College.

Requirements for Graduation. — The candidate must be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character; must have studied medicine or dentistry three full years, and attended three full courses of lectures at a reputable Dental or Medical college, one continuous year of which must have been spent at this college. He must have presented a satisfactory thesis on some subject approved by the Faculty, passed all the required examinations, and convinced the Professors of operative, clinical, and mechanical dentistry, and the Board of Examiners of his ability to meet satisfactorily the requirements of his art. He must present to be deposited with the Dean a specimen of mechanical dentistry prepared during the course, under the eye of the instructor.

Fees. — Matriculation fee (paid but once), five dollars; full course, for one year one hundred dollars; demonstrator's ticket (anatomy), five dollars.

Payment to be made at the beginning of the session.

Other information regarding the college will be given by the Dean, J. A. Follett, M.D., 637 Dudley Street, Boston, Mass.

School of Pharmacy of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

The lectures of the School of Pharmacy, under the control of the College of Pharmacy, are delivered during the winter season at the college building, St. Botolph and Garrison Streets, Boston. The regular course of instruction begins the third week in September, and ends on the third week in May of each year.

The course comprises theoretical and practical instruction by means of lectures, experiments, specimens, models, and diagrams in the departments of General, Pharmaceutical, and Analytical Chemistry, Botany, Toxicology, and Materia Medica, and Theory and Practice of Pharmacy. Ample accommodations are provided for practical laboratory work in Pharmacy and Chemistry.

Recitation classes in each of the departments are formed and conducted by competent instructors, appointed by the college. The fee for each class is five dollars.

Elective courses are offered in addition in microscopical and systematic Botany, micro-chemical examination of drugs, analysis of urine, qualitative and quantitative analysis, Practical Laboratory work, Pharmacy, and Toxicology.

The college library, known as the S. A. D. Sheppard library, is one of the largest pharmaceutical libraries in the world, and is accessible to all students. All the current pharmaceutical journals are regularly received.

No regular student will be admitted to the course who does not pass a preliminary examination or present in its place a diploma of graduation from a high school; special students not expecting a degree will be received as heretofore. The preliminary examination is held on the third Wednesday in September.

Every person upon whom the diploma of Graduate in Pharmacy of this college shall be conferred must be of good moral character, must have arrived at the age of twenty-one years, have attended two courses of each of the lectures delivered in the college, or the senior course in this college after one course in some other recognized college of pharmacy, and have gained at the least sixty per cent in each branch at the general examinations; he must have served an apprenticeship of at least four years with some qualified pharmacist or pharmacists, of which fact he must produce satisfactory evidence to the Board of Examiners. He must also produce an original dissertation or thesis, in his own handwriting, upon some subject of Pharmacy, Materia Medica, Botany, Chemistry, or one of the branches of science closely connected therewith. The thesis, with the evidence of apprenticeship and diploma fee, shall be deposited with one of the Faculty on or before the 1st of April of the session in which the application is made. He must also be recommended in writing by the Professors; and if his application be finally approved by the Board of Trustees, he shall receive the diploma of the college. The regular examination for the degree takes place in May.

Only such students as may have served their time in dispensing stores will be entitled to the degree of Graduate in Pharmacy. Clerks from wholesale drug stores will receive a certificate of examination, and will not be examined in extemporaneous pharmacy. Medical students and others who are not looking forward to pharmacy as their calling, will be admitted to the lectures in any of the departments they may wish. Such persons will be ineligible to the degree, but will in other respects have the same advantages as regular students of pharmacy.

Fees. — For each professor's ticket, fifteen dollars; matriculation ticket, five dollars; diploma fee, ten dollars. Special courses, each fifteen dollars. Students who have attended two full courses of lectures are exempt from further payments, except in laboratory and special courses.

Both senior and junior students must obtain their matriculation tickets before the first Monday in October, and register their names and addresses with the Actuary, from whom the lecture tickets may be obtained. They must be paid for before the third Monday in October. The laboratories of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy are open for the instruction of special students of either sex and any age.

Other information concerning the school may be obtained of C. C. Williams, Ph.G., M.D., Actuary, at the College Building, Boston, Mass.

School of Veterinary Medicine of Harvard University.

The academic year begins on the Thursday following the last Wednesday in September, and ends on the last Wednesday in June. There is a recess at Christmas beginning December 23, and ending January 2; and a spring recess beginning on the Wednesday before Fast Day, and ending on the following Tuesday, inclusive.

DIVISION OF STUDIES.

For the first year. — Anatomy, Physiology, General Chemistry, and Botany.

For the second year. — Advanced Anatomy, Practical Anatomy, Medical Chemistry, Materia Medica, Pathological Anatomy, Surgical Pathology, Therapeutics, Theory and Practice of Veterinary Medicine, Clinical Medicine, and Clinical Surgery.

For the third year. — Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Veterinary Medicine, Bovine Pathology, Clinical Medicine, Operative Veterinary Surgery, Clinical Surgery, Ophthalmology, Parasites and Parasitic Diseases, Warranty and Evidence.

VETERINARY ESTABLISHMENT.

A fully equipped veterinary establishment has been provided, which with its other facilities makes this school one of large resources for students who wish to become thoroughly practical as well as scientific veterinarians.

Hospital. — The hospital building, situated at the corner of Village and Lucas Streets in the city proper, offers every advantage for the observation and treatment of sick animals. Upon the first floor are the office, a large operating-room lighted from above, five commodious box stalls (one of which is arranged for the reception of violent cases), and six ordinary stalls. On the second floor are twelve boxes and stalls of various dimensions, a room for dogs containing about twenty kennels, a pharmacy, and a grooms' room. The third story contains, besides the necessary lofts and work-rooms, apartments for the assistant surgeon and house surgeons. In the basement there is a shoeing forge and a boiler-room, from which the entire premises are heated by steam.

Adjoining the Hospital and connected with it, is another brick building, erected entirely for the purposes of the school. This contains on the lower floor, which is devoted to hospital uses, boxes and stalls for ten horses. Upon the second floor is the lecture-room, in which a separate desk is provided for each student. From this room a door communicates with the Hospital through which horses, or other animals, may be introduced for purposes of illustration. Upon the third floor in front is the dissecting-room, two stories in height, lighted from above. In the rear is a students' reading-room comfortably furnished, the walls being lined with book-cases which are intended to accommodate the library, to which the members of all the classes have access. Above this on the fourth floor is a room properly fitted with glass cases for the Museum, and beside it a comfortable room for the house surgeons. The whole building is heated by steam.

Bussey Farm. — The school also enjoys the use of commodious buildings and pastures at the Bussey Farm, to which animals convalescing from various diseases and lamenesses are sent from the Village Street building for a period of rest. A large number of cows, as well as of horses can be accommodated, and will be received here directly for treatment if desired.

Forge. — The forge is used for the shoeing of both sound and lame horses. The theory of orthopedic shoeing will be taught, as well as that of shoeing sound animals. It will be possible also for those students who desire it, to procure a course in practical horse-shoeing.

Museum. — Besides the rich collection at the Warren Museum, to which the students have access, the School has the nucleus of a valuable collection of its own, which has already been added to by gifts of anatomical and pathological preparations from friends both within and without the institution.

Methods of Instruction. — In all departments cases will be placed under the care of the senior students, who will act in regular order as visitors and dressers, to keep a full record of all work done, and report the same to the class for criticism. In the same way it is expected that students will do the work of mixing and dispensing medicines in the pharmacy, that they may thus become thoroughly competent veterinary pharmacists.

A thorough drill will be given at the hospitals in the various methods of restraining animals during operation, in the application of bandages, and the administration of medicine, as well as in the common methods of approaching and handling animals.

Practice in the examination of horses for soundness will be given frequently during the last two years of the course, and students will be required to write certificates of such examinations and to present them before the class for criticism.

Autopsies will be made on patients that die at the hospital, and on any cadavers that may be sent for examination.

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine must be twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character; must give evidence of having studied Veterinary Medicine three full years; have spent at least one continuous year at this school; have presented a satisfactory thesis; and have passed the required examinations.

Fees. — For matriculation, five dollars; for a year one hundred dollars (if in two payments, at the first, sixty dollars; at the second, forty dollars); for a half-year alone, sixty dollars; for graduation, thirty dollars. Of students who do not pay in advance, a bond for $300, executed by two sufficient bondsmen, one of whom must be a citizen of the United States, is required.

Bowdoin College — Medical School of Maine.

Brunswick, Me.

The Medical School of Maine, by an Act of the Legislature, is placed under the superintendence and direction of the Board of Trustees and Overseers of Bowdoin College. By their joint authority the degree of M.D. is conferred.

Instruction is given at Brunswick, and the term commences on the first Thursday in February, and continues twenty weeks.

The anatomical cabinet was purchased in Paris, and many of the preparations were there made under the direction of the late Professor Thillaye. Its valuable specimens of morbid and comparative anatomy are constantly increasing. It has been recently thoroughly rearranged, and enriched by valuable purchases abroad. A new laboratory has recently been furnished for special courses in Analytical Chemistry, Urinary Analysis, and Toxicology.

Fees for admission to the several courses of lectures, payable in advance, and by cash only, are seventy-eight dollars. Matriculation, or library fee, payable each term, five dollars. Pupils who have attended three full courses of medical lectures, two of which have been in this school, are admitted to all subsequent courses without payment of any lecture fees. Students who have attended two full courses at other regular medical institutions are required to pay fifty dollars for admission to their first course of lectures at this school, in addition to the matriculation fee. The graduation fee, including the diploma, is twenty-five dollars.

No student will be allowed to attend any course of lectures in this school without the certificate of the Secretary. Members of the medical profession are cordially invited to attend the lectures at any time. Graduates of other schools, who have been engaged three years in the regular practice of medicine, may receive a general ticket upon presentation of their diplomas and payment of the matriculation fee. Every student is expected to remain till the close of the term. Those who are absent during any portion of the term will receive certificates of actual attendance only.

Examinations and Graduation. — Students, and particularly candidates for a degree, are examined at least twice each week on the subjects of the lectures.

Any student may present himself for examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Chemistry (any or all), at the regularly appointed time for examination, provided he previously present to the Secretary satisfactory evidence that, at the close of the current term, he shall have completed at least twelve months of actual study, and have attended a full course of lectures in this school.

The examinations for the degree of Doctor of Medicine are held by the Faculty of Medicine at the close of the course of lectures. Degrees are conferred at Commencement.

The candidates must be twenty-one years of age, and must have devoted three years to their professional studies under the direction of a regular practitioner of medicine. They must have attended three full courses of lectures in some regular incorporated medical institution; and the last course previous to examination must have been at this school. Fifteen months' time must elapse between the beginning of a student's first course of lectures and his graduation. Candidates must deposit with the Secretary of the Faculty satisfactory certificates of good moral character, and of having pursued their medical studies for the required term. They must pass a satisfactory written and oral examination in Anatomy, Physiology, Surgery, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Pharmacy, Obstetrics, Pathology, and Practice. They must also present a thesis or dissertation on some medical subject.

Other information regarding the school will be given by the Secretary of the Faculty, Alfred Mitchell, M.D., Brunswick, Me.

Portland School for Medical Instruction.

188 Middle Street, Portland, Me.

The school was organized in 1858, in accordance with resolutions adopted by the American Medical Association, "cordially approving the establishment of private schools, to meet the increasing desire of medical students for a higher grade of professional education than can usually be acquired under the direction of a single instructor."

The plan of instruction includes recitations, lectures, demonstrations, and other practical and didactic exercises. Systematic recitations are held in the departments of Anatomy, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Surgery, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Obstetrics, and Chemistry. The best text-books are adopted in the several branches, and the examinations are made as complete and rigid as possible, the chief object of the teachers being to insist upon accurate medical scholarship. Familiar lectures and demonstrations are given in the course of the year, on the physical exploration of the chest, and diseases of the heart and lungs, minor and operative surgery, on the diseases of women, physiology, the art of prescribing, and the application of bandages and surgical dressings.

Clinical instruction is afforded the students at the Maine General Hospital by the physicians and surgeons at that institution, at the Portland Dispensary, the Greely Hospital, and the U. S. Marine Hospital.

Cases of midwifery are furnished to advanced students as far as possible.

Students have access at all times to the anatomical and pathological museum connected with the school, which contains many valuable specimens, and is rapidly increasing in size and importance.

The school-rooms occupy the third and fourth stories of the Canal National Bank building, 188 Middle Street, and are in every way adapted to their use.

There are two terms in each year: a summer term of thirteen weeks, commencing early in July, and ending early in October; and a winter term also of thirteen weeks, beginning in the latter part of October, and closing the last of January, — thus allowing students to attend the spring course of lectures in the Medical School of Maine. The plan of study is so arranged as to cover the whole field in the two terms which constitute the year.

Fees, for the year, sixty dollars; for the summer term alone, thirty-five dollars; for the winter term alone, forty dollars; demonstrator's ticket (including material for dissection), eight dollars. Students attending the school for half a term or less will be charged for half a term. All fees are payable invariably in advance.

Applicants are required to satisfy the instructors that they are possessed not only of a good common-school education, but also of such a familiarity with the Latin language as may be acquired by the study of Harkness's Introductory Latin Book, and of a knowledge of Physics equal to that which may be got from Norton's Elements of Natural Philosophy. The fact of graduation from a college, or from a high school or academy whose curriculum requires the study of these books, or their equivalent will be taken as sufficient evidence of these acquirements; but in the absence of such evidence a written examination will be held, in which the orthography and syntax will be taken into account.

Medical Department of Dartmouth College.

Hanover, N. H.

The Dartmouth Medical College dates its origin from the establishment, in 1798, of a professorship of medicine by the trustees of the college, Dr. Nathan Smith being elected to fill the chair.

The lecture course of this institution commences on the 15th of July, 1891, and continues twenty weeks. Six lectures are delivered daily, except Saturdays. Medical instruction is further given by daily recitations, commencing January 5, 1892, and continuing till the last of June. Students are classified according to their advancement in their studies, and take up in regular order the different branches of medicine. They are admitted to the public courses of lectures in the academical department of the college. They have ready access to the various museums of the institution. They also have the privilege of the college library on the same terms with students in the other departments of the college. Ample facilities for dissection and for work in the chemical laboratory are afforded.

Applicants for admission must be eighteen years of age and unless already matriculants of some regular medical college, or graduates of some reputable college, academy, or high school, will be examined as to their fitness for entering upon and appreciating the technical study of medicine. They will be expected to be familiar with the elementary principles of Physics (light, heat, electricity, etc.), on entrance.

Examinations and Graduation. — After the completion of two full years of the study of medicine, shown by proper certificate and two full courses of lectures, one at this college, any student may be admitted at the regular times, to an examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and General Chemistry. If satisfactorily passed this will take the place of the final examination in these branches. The fee for this examination will be ten dollars, which at the final examination will be deducted from the graduation fee.

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Medicine must be twenty-one years of age, and must give satisfactory evidence of good moral character. He shall have attended three full courses of lectures on all the branches of medical science, at some regularly authorized medical school, one of which shall have been at this institution. He shall give satisfactory evidence that he has devoted four full years to his professional studies, under the direction of some regular practitioner, — the time spent at lectures being included. No thesis is required. Possession of the degree of A.B. or B.S. will be accepted in place of one year of professional study.

There are two examinations, the first preceding the annual Commencement of the college, and the second at the close of the medical lectures.

Fees. — Matriculation (paid annually), five dollars; for the first and second courses of lectures, seventy-seven dollars each, and for the third course, fifty dollars; examination fee (not returnable), twenty-five dollars; chemicals and ordinary breakage, two dollars. Students who have attended two courses, one of them at this institution, may attend the third on payment of the matriculation-fee and fifty dollars; of those who have attended two courses at any other regular institution, seventy-seven dollars will be required in addition to the matriculation fee. For recitations for the term, forty dollars.

Anatomical material at cost.

University of Vermont — Medical Department.

Burlington, Vt.

The Medical Department of the University and State Agricultural College was chartered by the State in 1823. It was organized on the present basis in 1854.

The plan of instruction adopted by this institution consists of a course of lectures in Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Therapeutics, Surgery, Obstetrics, and the Theory and Practice of Medicine.

In order to render the course of instruction as thorough as possible, lectures upon special subjects are delivered by non-resident instructors, eminent in their several branches.

The college now occupies its new building, erected in 1884, the gift of John P. Howard of Burlington. Clinical instruction is given in the Mary Fletcher Hospital.

The regular course of lectures commences on the last Thursday of February, and continues twenty weeks. This course consists of from five to six lectures daily. Clinics in the various branches of medicine and surgery are held during the regular term.

A preliminary course of lectures and recitations on the Principles and Practice of Medicine, Surgery, Anatomy, Materia Medica, Obstetrics, Chemistry, and Physiology commences on the first Thursday in October and continues until March. Opportunity is afforded for dissection. The fee for this course is thirty-five dollars.

Requirements for Graduation. — Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine, before presenting themselves for examination, must have attended three full courses of lectures, the last in this college, the time elapsing between the beginning of the first and ending of the second being at least fifteen months. They must have studied medicine three years, under the direction of a regular physician or surgeon, and have attained the age of twenty-one years.

Each candidate is required to deposit his graduation fee with the Secretary of the Faculty one month before the close of the session. Full certificates of the time of study, of age, and of moral character, must also be furnished. They must also pass a satisfactory examination before the Medical Faculty and Board of Medical Examiners, appointed by the State Medical Society. No thesis is required.

To prevent any misunderstanding with regard to the requirements for graduation, the Faculty desire to state that the only courses of lectures recognized are those taken at medical colleges recognized by the American Medical Association. The tickets and diplomas of eclectic, homœopathic, or botanic colleges, or of colleges devoted to any special system of medicine, are considered irregular, and will not be recognized under any circumstances. Certificates from instructors who practise any peculiar system of medicine, or who advertise, or violate in any way the code of ethics adopted by the profession, will not be received, under any circumstances, even if the instructors be regular graduates in medicine.

Graduates of other regular colleges, who desire a degree from this institution, must pass a satisfactory examination in the branches of Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Practice of Medicine, Surgery, and Obstetrics. They will be required to pay the matriculation and the graduation fee. No thesis is required.

Two prizes are offered each year by the Faculty for general proficiency in examination. (See prizes, on a subsequent page.)

Fees, for matriculation, payable each term, five dollars; for the full course of lectures, seventy-five dollars; for graduation, twenty-five dollars; for the preliminary course, thirty dollars. Demonstrator's fee, including dissecting material, ten dollars.

Students who have already attended two full courses of lectures in other regular schools are admitted on paying the matriculation fee and fifty dollars.

Students who have attended three full courses in this school, are admitted to subsequent courses of lectures on paying the matriculation fee only.

Students who have attended one full course in this college and one full course in some regular Medical School are admitted on paying the matriculation fee and fifty dollars.

Graduates of this school are admitted without fee; graduates of other regular schools, on payment of the matriculation fee; theological students, unless they intend to graduate in Medicine, are admitted on general ticket, by paying the matriculation fee and twenty-five dollars.

Further information concerning the school may be obtained from J. H. Woodward, M.D. Secretary of the Faculty, Burlington, Vt.

Medical Department of Yale University.

New Haven, Conn.

In the fall of 1810 a charter was granted to the President and Fellows of Yale College and the President and Fellows of the Connecticut Medical Society, authorizing them to unite according to the terms of certain "Articles of Union," before agreed upon, for the establishment of a medical seminary, to be styled the Medical Institution of Yale College. Two years later the School was organized, and in the fall of 1813 instruction was begun. In 1884, by an agreement with the Medical Society, the College authorities assumed the entire control of the School.

The curriculum of study extends over three years. The students are classified and their studies are made progressive, from the rudimentary to the practical branches.

The college year extends from the first Thursday in October to the Commencement in June, with a vacation of three weeks at Christmas and a recess in the spring, usually of one week.

The first term begins with the first Thursday of October, and continues eleven weeks. The second term begins three weeks after the close of the first, and continues twelve weeks. The third term is eleven weeks in length, ending with Commencement.

Throughout the year instruction is given by lectures and recitations, so arranged and combined with practical work in the Chemical, Anatomical, Histological, Physiological, and Pathological Laboratories as best to promote the advancement of studies to a thorough knowledge of Medical Science.

Abundant facilities for clinical instruction are found in the numerous clinics at the State Hospital, and the New Haven Dispensary. The latter charity is located upon the college grounds.

The museum contains a large collection of natural and morbid specimens, numerous casts, plates, and models of elegant execution, and an extensive cabinet of Materia Medica, all of which are made practically useful in illustrating the subjects taught. The libraries of the University and the cabinets of mineralogy and natural history are also open for the use of students.

New Haven offers special advantages to medical students for the study of Zoölogy, Comparative Anatomy, Botany, and other branches, under distinguished teachers, in connection with the Sheffield Scientific School.

Candidates for admission to the course must be at least eighteen years of age, and must present satisfactory testimonials of good character. Each candidate must present proof that he has passed the matriculation examination of some scientific, literary, or professional college in good standing; or present testimonials from the proper officer that he has pursued the course at some high school, academy, or preparatory school approved by the Faculty, or must pass an examination in English, Mathematics, and Physics. Copies of the questions of previous examinations will be furnished by the Dean.

Examinations are held at the medical college on the Wednesday preceding the opening of the college year, and also on the Thursday after commencement. Examinations are also held on the Thursday following commencement, in Chicago, Cincinnati, and San Francisco. A fee of five dollars is charged for admission to these examinations.

Requirements for Graduation. — Examinations are held at the close of each year on the studies of that year. The examinations at the end of the first year are upon Chemistry, Histology, Anatomy, and Physiology.

Those at the end of the second year are upon advanced Physiology, advanced Anatomy, Materia Medica, and Therapeutics.

Those at the end of the third year are upon Pathology, Surgery, Medicine, and Obstetrics, with a practical examination in Clinical Medicine.

Every candidate must be twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character; he must have pursued medical studies in some university or college for three years, the last of which must have been at this School; and have passed the required examinations in all the studies of the three years' course, and have presented a satisfactory thesis on some subject relating to medicine.

Fees, for matriculation, paid on entering the school, five dollars; tuition for first and second year one hundred and forty dollars; for third year eighty dollars; demonstrator's ticket, ten dollars for first year, and five for second; graduation fee, thirty dollars.

Other information regarding the institution may be obtained from the Dean, H. E. Smith, M.D., New Haven.

HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES.

Massachusetts General Hospital.

Blossom Street, Boston. (Tele.)

INCORPORATED February 25, 1811; opened for the reception of patients September 3, 1821. From that time until December 31, 1890, 80,550 persons have been treated as in-patients, and since the year 1847, 411,369 as out-patients.

This institution, with the exception of the Pennsylvania Hospital, is the oldest establishment of its kind in the country. During the first year of its existence it received substantial aid from the State, but with this exception, it has been entirely supported by voluntary contributions from citizens of Boston and its neighborhood.

Since 1872, five new pavilion wards have been constructed on the grounds of the Hospital. These buildings are called the Jackson, Warren, Bigelow, and Townsend Wards respectively, in memory of the valuable services of Drs. James Jackson, J. C. Warren, Jacob Bigelow, and S. D. Townsend, and the Bradlee Ward for abdominal and brain surgery, in memory of J. Putnam Bradlee.

The Thayer building, for nurses, was built in 1882, and the Gay Ward, an extensive addition to the out-patient department, in 1883, — the former a memorial to the late Nathaniel Thayer, for many years a trustee of the Hospital, and a large contributor to its support, and the latter a memorial by a friend to the late Dr. George H. Gay, for many years one of the surgeons to the Hospital.

The Hospital has 243 beds. Patients suffering from medical or surgical diseases or injuries are received from any part of the United States or the Provinces. Chronic or incurable cases and such as need only the comforts of a home are, as a rule, refused admission. No contagious diseases are admitted. Application for admission must be made to the Resident Physician at the Hospital, between 9 and 11 A. M. and 2 and 3 P. M., Sundays excepted. Accidents admitted at any hour. In urgent cases application may be made at other times. Application for admission of patients from a distance must be made in writing, accompanied by a full description of the case by the attending physician, and, when a free bed is desired, by a statement of the pecuniary condition of the patient. A reply should be awaited before sending the patient. The regular charges to paying patients are as follows: In the Jackson Ward (private), $50 per week; in small room in the Townsend and Bigelow Wards, $25 per week; in the General Wards, $10 per week. These rates covering only expenses of board and lodging, may be increased or abated in individual cases by the Resident Physician. Five weeks' board must be advanced upon entering (any balance due being refunded), or an obligation with surety for its payment must be furnished. Out-patients are treated from 9 to 10 A. M., Sundays excepted. Ophthalmic patients are treated on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, at 9 A. M.

The Convalescent Home, connected with the Hospital, is located in Belmont, and has 30 beds.

Friends may be admitted to see patients in the wards on each week-day from 2 to 3; but no patient in any ward can receive more than one visitor a day.

During the year ending December 31, 1890, there were treated at the Hospital 3,572 in-patients, of which number 2,391 were discharged well or relieved. The average number of patients was 198, and the average cost per patient $12.41 per week. Besides those classed as in-patients, 22,545 persons were treated as out-patients in the Medical, Surgical, and Dental departments.

Students connected with the Medical and Dental Schools are admitted to the clinical visits of the physicians and surgeons. Abundant opportunity is offered for becoming practically acquainted with disease in its various forms, and of witnessing surgical operations. Operations are performed during the winter on Saturday at 11 A. M., and during the summer on Wednesday and Saturday, at the same hour. The operating theatre is provided with seats for 400 persons.

In April and October of each year one medical and two surgical externes are appointed; serving six months as externes, they are then promoted to house pupils for one year. They are selected from medical students who have completed three years of study, but have not taken their degrees, and enter upon their duties in February and August.

The Massachusetts Training School for Nurses became connected with the Hospital in 1873, and has since done the nursing of the Hospital. To January 1, 1889, 242 nurses have been graduated. (See Training-Schools for Nurses.)

The Treadwell Library, a valuable collection including particularly many large and expensive works not generally found in private libraries, is connected with the institution, and a large number of journals are taken for the use of the medical staff. (See Medical Libraries.) The general library for the use of the patients numbers 1,300 volumes.

A new edition of the History of the Hospital, by the late N. I. Bowditch, for which a fund was provided by his will, was issued in 1872, under the editorial care of Rev. George E. Ellis, D.D., one of the trustees at that time.

The Warren Prize, founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren, in memory of his father, Dr. John C. Warren, is described on a later page of this volume.

The ambulance of the Hospital, accompanied by a medical officer, will be despatched to any point within the city proper, for the conveyance of cases of accident, or urgent sudden sickness, not contagious, to the Hospital or elsewhere, upon notice from a physician, the police, or other responsible source, subject to the approval of the Resident Physician. In cases requiring gratuitous treatment, no charge is made.

Boston City Hospital.

Harrison Avenue, opposite Worcester Square. (Tele.)

As early as 1849, before the cholera, then epidemic, had disappeared, the expediency of establishing a City Hospital for the sick poor resident in Boston was agitated. Again, in 1856, further steps were taken, and after temporary use of the building in Springfield Street known as the Lying-in Hospital the project was abandoned. In 1860 the Mayor, Hon. F. W. Lincoln, Jr., renewed the appeal of his predecessors in office to the City Council. In accordance with his suggestion the land on which the Hospital now stands was appropriated to the purpose.

The buildings, consisting of a Central Administrative Building, two three-storied Pavilions, with Boiler House and Morgue, were commenced in 1861, dedicated May, 1864, and opened for the reception of patients June 1, 1864. Three years later, a two-storied Pavilion, divided into small rooms, was erected for the reception of infectious and other diseases requiring isolation. The capacity of the Hospital at this time was 225 beds. In 1874 and 1875 the Hospital was further enlarged by the erection of two three-storied buildings, two one-storied Pavilions, a new building for kitchen purposes, and also a building for use of various departments for out-patients. The old buildings were reconstructed; the system of heating and ventilation was entirely changed, the basements abandoned as wards, and many alterations were made, to conform to the reconstruction.

The Hospital has 480 beds, and is intended for the reception of those residents of Boston only who require temporary relief during sickness. The Trustees, however, admit in special cases those not resident in Boston, when compensation is received or guaranteed. Persons accidentally wounded, or otherwise disabled or injured, are received and treated at all hours. Separate apartments, and more accommodations than are customary when no compensation is made, are afforded to paying patients. The Hospital is established and maintained mostly by annual appropriations from the municipal government, and is especially intended as a Hospital for acute medical and surgical diseases; exceptional chronic cases with urgent symptoms or capable of speedy relief are sometimes temporarily admitted. Bequests and donations have been given for general or special purposes amounting to $43,500. The total cost of the buildings alone was $750,000. The Hospital was incorporated in 1880.

Physicians and Surgeons to the various departments for out-patients are in attendance for the treatment of such out-patients as are unable to pay for medical and surgical treatment at their homes within the limit of the City of Boston in each week as follows, viz.: —

Medical. — Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, from 9 to 11 A. M.
Surgical. — Every day, except Sunday, from 9 to 11 A. M.
Ophthalmic. — Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from 9 to 11 A. M.

For Diseases of the Skin. — Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from 11 A. M. to 12 M.

For Diseases of the Ear. — Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from 9 to 11 A. M.

For Diseases of the Nervous System. — Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from 9 to 11 A. M.

For Diseases of Women. — Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, from 9 to 11 A. M.

For Diseases of the Throat. — Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, from 10 A. M. to 12 M.

Operations are performed in the amphitheatre on Tuesday and Friday at 11 A. M., and are open to physicians or students of medicine. Other visits to the Hospital wards are made only on invitation of the various members of the Hospital Staff.

There are twenty-two House Officers, appointed by the Trustees, on the nomination of the Hospital Staff, after a rigid examination in the various branches of medicine and surgery.

A Training School for nurses is connected with the Hospital, under charge of the Trustees and the Superintendent of the Hospital. The school gives instruction to 62 nurses; the particulars of its system and course of instruction will be found on another page.

The Hospital has a Medical and Surgical Library of about 2,000 volumes, containing many valuable old works, as well as recent medical and surgical literature. It also contains the current leading American and Foreign Medical Journals. The annual Report of the Trustees and Superintendent is published in January. The Report of the Hospital Staff contained therein presents a classified list of all the cases treated both as in-patients and out-patients.

The Trustees, aided by the members of the Hospital Staff, publish quinquennially Medical and Surgical Reports. These include valuable statistical tables and scientific papers relating to, and based upon, the practice of the Hospital.

Ambulances are connected with the Hospital for the purpose of carrying patients to and from the Institution. Their use is limited to accidents and patients suffering with severe medical or surgical disease, incapable of being transported by ordinary conveyance. It is not the intention of the Trustees that the ambulance shall be used as a convenience or to save carriage hire, and it does not go beyond the city boundaries.

Application for the admission of patients may be made on each day of the week, Sunday excepted, between nine and twelve. Whenever able, the patient must apply in person. When not able to apply in person, application may be made by a friend or by a letter from the last physician in attendance. Whenever in the opinion of the Trustees the circumstances of the patient warrant it, the whole or a part of the board must be paid. Persons having acute venereal disease or alcoholism are not admitted as free patients. Friends are permitted to visit patients on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday of each week from 2 to 3 P. M. No patient is allowed to receive more than two visitors on the same day. Positively no visiting on Sunday, except to patients occupying private rooms, or ward-patients dangerously ill.

A Convalescent Home was established in 1890, to be used in connection with the City Hospital. It is situated at 2150 Dorchester Avenue, near Milton Lower Mills, on an estate of fifteen acres, partly improved and partly woodland. The Home accommodates thirty-four patients, and at present is occupied by women, children, and boys of a manageable age. The Home is intended to be used by patients after their discharge from the wards of the City Hospital. The Home is under the supervision of the Trustees and Superintendent of the Hospital, but is placed under the immediate charge of the Matron. Visiting days are week-days, from 2 to 4 P. M.

From the opening of the Hospital, June 1, 1864, to the close of the last hospital year, December 31, 1890, there were examined for admission, 130,065; patients admitted, 98,863; patients received, accidentally injured, 16,146; number of out-patients treated, 259,298. During the hospital year ending December 31, 1890, there were treated in the Hospital, 6,853 patients; daily average, 384. Number of out-patients, 12,983. Number of visits made by out-patients, 50,123. Number of patients admitted with accidental injuries, 1,079; and of all patients treated in the Hospital, 752 died, of whom 372 died within 48 hours after admission. The cost per patient was $10.80 per week.

McLean Asylum for the Insane.

Washington Street, Somerville. (Tele.)

The McLean Asylum is a branch of the Massachusetts General Hospital, and is under the control of its board of officers. It was opened for the reception of patients October 6, 1818. It received its name from John McLean, who, at his decease, bequeathed the sum of $100,000 to the institution. From the date of its opening to December 31, 1890, 7,430 patients had been received. During the year 1890 297 patients were treated, of whom 44 were discharged recovered, and 38 much improved, or improved. The daily average number of patients was 173. Rate of board from fifteen to fifty dollars per week. The report of the Asylum is published annually in connection with that of the Hospital.

In June, 1875, the trustees purchased for $75,000 a tract of land containing about 107 acres, in Belmont, about seven miles from Boston, on the Fitchburg Railroad, for the use of the Asylum. The situation is one of great beauty, elevated and salubrious. The greater part of the tract is now covered by a fine growth of trees, and an apparently copious supply of water is found at a convenient distance. The land at Belmont now includes about one hundred and thirty acres.

The McLean Asylum Training-School for Nurses was organized in 1882, and during the eight years of its existence, ninety-four persons have been graduated as nurses.

Boston Lying-in Hospital.

24 McLean Street, Boston. (Tele.)

Organized in 1832, for the relief of poor and deserving women during confinement. The first building for the use of the Hospital was situated on Washington Street, near the present site of Waltham Street. In 1853 the Corporation bought 40,000 feet of land on Springfield and Worcester Streets, on which the building now used by the Home for Aged Men was erected.

For several years prior to 1872, the Hospital had not, by itself, furnished the accommodation for lying-in women for which its charter provided; the objects of the institution were, however, carried out by the annual contribution of $1000 to the New England Hospital for Women and Children, at which place the same class of patients was cared for. This donation ceased in 1871, and in January, 1873, the Board of Trustees opened the house numbered 24 McLean Street, with accommodations for eighteen patients. As the number of applicants for admission increased the Hospital was enlarged by the addition of the next two houses. In the spring of 1890 the Trustees voted to purchase the houses between the Hospital and the House of the Good Samaritan, and to remodel the Hospital. For this purpose a fund of $100,000 dollars was raised and the present Hospital, with accommodation for sixty patients, was built. In 1881 an out-patient department was established. In 1889 a training-school for nurses was opened.

Admission of Patients. — The regular charge for patients living in Boston is $20; for those living elsewhere, $30. This charge must be paid upon entrance to the Hospital, and covers the confinement, board and care for two weeks following confinement, and for any further time during which the patient may be unable to leave the Hospital.

Deserving persons, residents of Boston, who are unable to pay, will be admitted and cared for without charge; and non-residents may also be admitted free by special vote of the Executive Committee.

Out-Patients. — Free medical atttendance during confinement will be furnished at their homes to women residing within the limits of the city proper, who are unable to pay for such service.

Applications for admission to the Hospital, or for attendance upon out-patients, should be made to the Visiting Physician at the Hospital between the hours of ten and eleven in the forenoon of any day except Sunday; and all such applications should, if possible, be made not less than one week before the expected date of confinement. Cases of emergency will, however, be received at any time.

Visitors. — Relatives will be admitted to visit patients in the wards between the hours of three and four in the afternoon of any day except Sunday; but no patient will be allowed, except by the special permission of the Visiting Physician, to receive more than one visitor a day, or to receive any visitor whatever before the fifth day after her confinement.

No visitor will be allowed to bring to a patient any article of food or drink except by the special permission of the Visiting Physician; and all articles brought after such permission has been obtained must be left with the Matron for the use of the patient.

Wet-Nurses can usually be obtained at the Hospital. The fee for a wet-nurse is ten dollars.

Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.

176 Charles Street, Boston. (Tele.)

This institution owes its origin to Drs. Edward Reynolds and John Jeffries, who, in November, 1824, opened a small room in Scollay's Building as a dispensary for the gratuitous treatment of the poor, afflicted with diseases of the eye. In March, 1826, the success of their efforts had been such that their dispensary was regularly organized as the Boston Eye Infirmary. A month later it was incorporated by the State Legislature under its present title. It was soon after removed to Court Street, and six years later to the Gore Mansion in Green Street, where it remained until 1850. It was then removed to the building now occupied in Charles Street, which was dedicated July 3 of that year.

To meet the increasing demands upon the out-patient department of the Infirmary, a new wing was added in 1881. The arrangement for simultaneous service of several surgeons, and for the reception and treatment of a large number of patients, is believed to be one of the most complete in this country. But the steady increase in the numbers of those applying for relief has necessitated an additional amount of space, and the Managers have now purchased the two houses adjacent to the present building. These have now been altered over, and are devoted to the purposes of a complete aural hospital. They will contain a suitable operating chamber, rooms for clinical use, wards for male and female patients containing some twenty-seven beds, isolating wards, an elevator, and accommodations for the surgeons, interne, and nurses. There will be a playstead for children on the roof. A disinfecting room is to be arranged in the cellar. The room gained in the old building by the removal of the aural department will be allotted to isolating wards for male and female patients, a surgeons' library, laboratory, and dark room for photographic purposes.

The Infirmary receives all poor patients with diseases of the eye and ear making application for treatment. More than fifteen thousand were treated during the year ending September 30, 1890. The Infirmary is open daily, except on Sundays and holidays, from 9 to 11 A.M. Unless able to pay their board all patients from Massachusetts are admitted free; those from other States are charged the usual rate, which is six dollars per week. All applications for admission must be made at the Infirmary. When the new building is occupied the number of beds in the ophthalmic department will be about eighty-four, in the aural twenty-seven.

Patients may be visited by their friends daily between the hours of 1 and 2, except on Sunday when the visiting hour is from 11 to 12.

Physicians are invited to attend the practice of the surgeons any day from 9 to 11 o'clock. Students are admitted on Monday and Friday, throughout the year, from 9 to 11 o'clock. Clinical instruction is given to physicians and students by members of the staff.

OFFICERS.

Boston Lunatic Hospital.

First Street, South Boston. (Tele.)

The Hospital was built in 1839, and was subsequently enlarged by the addition of two wings in 1846, and steam heating, proper ventilation, renovation of the interior, and new wings for dining-rooms were added in 1882. The buildings, including yards and gardens, occupy ten acres of land.

The Hospital has a capacity for 200 patients, and is maintained by the city of Boston, being under the management of the Commissioners for Public Institutions.

The Asylum at Austin Farm, Dorchester, now an outlying ward of the Boston Lunatic Hospital, has doubled the capacity of that Institution. It is pleasantly situated on a farm of about sixty acres. On January 1, 1891, there were 400 patients in the Hospital.

The Hospital is intended particularly for the insane of the city of Boston, and its use is now restricted to those only who have a "settlement" in the city. It accommodates about two-fifths of the insane of Boston. The poor are admitted without charge, but board is paid by those who are able to pay.

Patients are committed to the Hospital by the Judge of Probate for Suffolk County, or may be admitted as emergency cases under the Public Statutes (chap. 87, § 26), when violently insane, or when no judge can be found, or as voluntary patients (§ 28), on their own written application. (See laws and ordinances affecting physicians and others.)

Application for admission should be made at the office of the Commissioners, 14 Beacon Street, or at the Hospital.

Small-Pox Hospital.

Canterbury Street, West Roxbury, Boston. (Tele.)

Organized in June, 1877. Contains 40 beds, but a larger number of patients could be accommodated if necessary. Cases of small-pox should be reported at once at the office of the Board of Health or at the nearest police station. The Hospital ambulance will be sent at the request of any citizen.

Resident Physician. — C. A. Frink, M.D.

The Channing Home.

30 McLean Street, Boston.

Established in May, 1857, by Miss Harriet Ryan (the late Mrs. John Albee), through the assistance of friends whom she had drawn into sympathy with her benevolent purpose. It was incorporated in 1861. The present building was opened May 1, 1870. This is not a hospital in the common acceptation of the word, but a home for incurables, for those whose early death seems quite certain, or for those who will probably live for a long time, but needing constant medical attendance. Some of the patients have been inmates of the Home for many years, and no pay is taken from any of them.

Application for admission must be made to the matron at the Home. The institution has accommodations for 14 inmates. During the year ending March 31, 1889, 24 patients were admitted, 10 died, 15 were discharged, and 14 remained in the Home.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Wednesday in April. A report of the Home is published annually.

House of the Good Samaritan.

6 McLean Street, Boston.

Incorporated in 1860, for the care and treatment of sick women and girls, and of boys below six years of age, especially those suffering under diseases of long duration. It is supported by voluntary contributions and from the income of its funds. Patients must make personal application at the house between 9 and 12 o'clock on any day except Sunday. Terms of admission, free.

The annual meeting of the association is held on the second Wednesday in March. Visitors are admitted from 11.30 to 12.30, and from 3.30 to 4.30, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

During the year ending December 31, 1889, 210 patients were treated in the institution. The report of the hospital is published annually.

Carney Hospital.

Old Harbor Street, South Boston. (Tele.)

Established in June, 1863, and incorporated in 1865, for the purpose of affording relief to the sick poor. In 1868 a large and commodious brick structure was erected for the use of the sick. Both acute and chronic cases are received, contagious diseases excepted. The institution is in charge of Roman Catholic Sisters of Charity, but receives patients of all denominations.

Application for admission must be made at the hospital.

The rate of board for pay-patients, treated in the wards, is five dollars or six dollars per week. The Hospital contains also a number of rooms for private patients, who pay from ten dollars to twenty-five dollars a week. Patients occupying private rooms may be attended by their own physicians, so long as they conform to the rules of the institution.

St. Joseph's Home for Sick and Destitute Servant Girls.

46 East Brookline Street, Boston.

Incorporated in 1867, for the purpose of providing a home for, and otherwise aiding, sick and destitute servant girls. It includes under its organization a hospital for the treatment of diseases, especially those of an incurable character, and for women who have become exhausted and unwell while at their work, and need a temporary respite. The institution has 90 beds, of which 24 are devoted to the hospital department. The institution was organized by, and is under the charge of the Sisters of St. Francis. Application for admission must be made at the Home.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Tuesday in January.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

61 West Brookline Street, Boston.

Established in 1868, by the Sisters of St. Francis, and incorporated January 29, 1872, for the treatment of women. It is especially intended for patients in moderate circumstances who can afford to pay only a low rate of board and moderate fees for medical attendance. The institution has about seventy-two beds. In 1881, a branch was established on Fort and Beech Glen avenues, Roxbury, and in 1885 the main hospital was removed from the house in Waltham Street, where it had been located since its organization, to its present site. Applications for admission must be made to the Sister Superior at the Hospital between the hours of 9 and 11 A. M.

Out-patients will receive free medical treatment in the dispensary daily between 9 and 11 A. M.

The Children's Hospital.

Huntington Avenue, Boston. (Tele.)

The Hospital was founded in 1869, for the purpose of providing medical and surgical treatment for the diseases of children, and for the attainment and diffusion of knowledge regarding the diseases incident to childhood. It received an act of incorporation February 26, 1869.

Patients between the ages of two and twelve, suffering from acute diseases, are received at the Hospital. No patient is admitted whose case is considered chronic or incurable, unless there be urgent symptoms, which, in the opinion of the medical staff, are capable of being relieved; nor will any be admitted having an infectious or contagious disease. Application for admission may be made any day at 9 A. M.; but accidents and other cases of an urgent character will be received at any time. The beds in the Hospital are free to those who are really poor; but a moderate charge is made to those who are able to pay. Patients from beyond the limits of the city will be received on payment of not less than four dollars a week. The Hospital has at the present time ninety-six beds.

Rooms are assigned for the use of private patients and the mother or other person attending them, and every convenience is offered in the way of medical attendance, by members of the medical staff, trained private nurses, etc., for patients living beyond the limits of the city or those residents who require special accommodation. Reasonable rates are charged.

In December, 1882, the Hospital building on Huntington Avenue, near West Chester Park, was opened. In 1888 the Out-patient Department of the Hospital was thoroughly reorganized and now offers every facility for the successful treatment of medical and surgical diseases of ambulant patients.

In the summer of 1875, the managers established a Convalescent Home at Wellesley, 14 miles from the city, on the Boston and Albany Railroad. The managers of that department of the Hospital are about to erect new buildings for the Home on a tract of thirty acres recently given them for the purpose.

During the year ending December 28, 1890, 442 patients were treated at the Hospital; since its organization, 4,397.

The immediate care of the Hospital and the nursing is intrusted to ladies connected with the Protestant Episcopal Sisterhood of St. Margaret, from East Grinstead, England.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held December 28. A report of the Hospital is published annually.

St. Margaret's Infirmary.

15 and 2 Louisburg Square, Boston.

Organized in 1882 by the Sisters of St. Margaret (Protestant Episcopal) in order to receive patients requiring medical or surgical care. About 14 patients can be accommodated. Physicians, members of the Massachusetts Medical Society, are allowed to send patients, and to attend them, and can rely on their orders being fully carried out. The inmates are cared for by the Sisters and trained nurses, and receive every kindness. Price of rooms from ten to forty dollars per week, including board and nursing.

In 1884, the house No. 2 Louisburg Square was added to the Infirmary, but is reserved more especially for patients requiring rest and quiet. Since the Infirmary was opened it has received about 800 patients.

The Sisters of St. Margaret are also engaged at The Children's Hospital and St. Monica's Home for colored women, Boston, The Sea Shore Home, Winthrop, Mass., Children's Island Sanitarium, Marblehead, Mass., Sea View Home for Children, Humarock Beach, Mass., and Hospitals and Homes in Newark and Jersey City, N. J., Philadelphia, Montreal, and other places.

Free Hospital for Women.

58 and 60 East Springfield Street, Boston

Established in December, 1875; incorporated August, 1879. The Hospital is entirely free, and receives only those women who suffer from diseases peculiar to their sex, and have not the means to obtain the medical advice or the care which they need. It contains 20 beds, and is supported by contributions from religious societies and private individuals. The number of patients treated during the last hospital year was 176. Connected with the Hospital is an out-patient department in which 4,086 patients were treated in the last year. Those who give the full amount, $250, which is fixed for the support of a bed, are entitled to designate a patient throughout the whole year; but any one giving not less than $150 is entitled to share with another person giving a like amount the right to designate patients. Any society or any individual supporting a bed may be represented by an active member of the Corporation and one lady on the Board of Visitors; and the society or individual has the right to fill the bed with any poor, worthy woman, if the medical staff consider her case a proper one for treatment in the Hospital.

The Hospital has purchased land on the corner of Park and Marion Streets in Brookline, upon which the Trustees will erect a Hospital with accommodations for 125 patients in the season of 1891.

Application for admission must be made at the Hospital.

New England Hospital for Women and Children.

Dimock Street, Roxbury, Boston.

Incorporated in the names of Lucy Goddard, Marie E. Zakrzewska, Ednah D. Cheney, and others, March 12, 1863, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining in the city of Boston or its vicinity a Hospital for the treatment of the diseases of women and children, giving therein clinical instruction to female students of medicine, and of training nurses.

The present Hospital Building was erected in 1872, and opened in August of the same year for the reception of patients. It contains fifty-eight beds in rooms of two and four beds each.

The Maternity Building is entirely separate and consists of a small house of two stories, each having three rooms of two beds each, and a separate room for the delivery. There are also two isolated houses for the care of cases of contagion arising in the Hospital.

Application for admission must be made to the Resident Physician at the Hospital from 11 A. M. to 1 P. M., Sundays excepted. Chronic or incurable cases are, as a rule, not admitted. Contagious cases are refused. Urgent cases received at any hour.

The regular price for patients is ten dollars per week. Patients in the private wards pay from twenty-five to thirty dollars per week.

There are eleven endowment free beds and six annual free beds.

During the year ending September 30, 1890, there were treated in the Hospital 466 patients, 176 in the Medical Wards, 170 in the Surgical, and 120 in the Maternity.

The training of nurses has been always kept in view, although there was no organized method adopted until the present building was occupied. To the late Dr. Susan Dimock, who was the Resident Physician at the time, is largely due the organization and success of the present Training-School for Nurses. The present course of training extends over 18 months. One month of the time, each nurse is employed in the New England Dispensary, nursing the out-patients under the direction of the Dispasiry Physicnsaue.

Eight Medical Internes are annually appointed from the women-graduates of recognized Schools of medicine. Four months of their time they live at the New England Dispensary, No. 29 Fayette Street, giving their services to that branch of the work.

St. Mary's Infant Asylum and Lying-in Hospital.

Bowdoin Street, Dorchester, Boston.

Founded by Roman Catholic Sisters of Charity and the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in September, 1868, and incorporated in September, 1870, as an institution for the maintenance and support of foundlings, orphan and half-orphan children. It also accommodates deserving indigent females during their confinement in childbirth. The asylum will receive 10 patients and 50 children.

Application should be made to the Sister Superior at the institution. No distinction is made on account of religion; and no patient is refused on account of her inability to pay.

Attending Physician. — E. D. Peters, Jr., M.D.

Boston Home for Incurables.

2049 Dorchester Avenue, corner Codman Street, Dorchester, Boston.

Organized in 1882, through the instrumentality of the late Miss Cordelia Harmon, and formally opened for patients December 4, 1882. The present estate was bought and occupied and the Home incorporated in 1884. Accommodations are furnished for thirty adult patients of both sexes, and thirty children. The design of the Home is to receive gratuitously patients who are incapacitated for life, who are unable to provide for themselves. No cases of contagious disease, syphilis, consumption, cancer, epilepsy, or any form of insanity received. Patients accepted after examination by one of the physicians, on notification by the committee on admission.

Visitors admitted on Monday and Friday from 1 to 5 P.M.

Vincent Memorial Hospital.

Incorporated under the General Law of Massachusetts to honor the memory of Mrs. J. R. Vincent, a member of the Boston Museum Company. In February, 1890, the physicians in charge of the Trinity Dispensary, attached to St. Andrews Church at 38 Chambers Street, gave notice that if a few beds for the further care of Dispensary patients were at their disposal, for the use of working women and girls, the usefulness of the Dispensary would be much increased. A little later a friend of Mrs. Vincent announced that she would give one thousand dollars towards the establishment of a hospital, if it might be made a memorial of that good lady. By the aid of the newspapers and in other ways a considerable sum was subscribed, the building 44 Chambers Street secured, and the Hospital is now open. There are ten beds, four of which are free.

The Sea-Shore Home.

Organized on the 27th of May, 1875, for the purpose of providing that poor sick children, or those recovering from disease, may obtain the advantage of change of air, and especially of sea breezes. During the first year the Home was located at Beverly Farms, and in later years at Plymouth, and Germantown, Quincy. In 1878 the Corporation purchased a suitable house and land at Winthrop for the use of the Home.

Children suffering from acute disease, and those likely to be benefited by the sea air, are received on application to either of the Managers. They will be retained for such time as, in the view of the attending physician, may seem desirable, generally from one to two weeks. When necessary, the mothers are allowed to accompany their children. No expense is incurred for the transportation or board of children or mothers. No diseases of a contagious character are received. A competent physician lives at all times at the Home.

Children's Island Sanitarium.

Salem Harbor, Mass.

Reached by boat from Marblehead. Established in 1886 through the generosity of Mr. F. H. Rindge, of California, who gave the island and buildings for a summer home for sick children, and incorporated by the Legislature. Open from July 1 to September 15. Especially adapted for children with chronic diseases, and those convalescing from illness or surgical operations. Boys over ten not admitted. Certificates from physicians recommending admission are desired when possible. Children admitted free for two weeks, or longer as the cases may demand.

Working women seeking rest are admitted as boarders at three dollars per week. For admission of women apply to the Mother Superior, Sisters of St. Margaret, 17 Louisburg Square; and for children, to H. C. Haven, M.D., 37 Blossom Street.

Adams Nervine Asylum.

Centre Street, Jamaica Plain. (Tele.)

Incorporated March 16, 1877, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a hospital to afford care and relief to indigent debilitated, nervous persons, inhabitants of the State, who are not insane and who may be in need of the benefit of a curative institution. The asylum owes its origin to Seth Adams, late of Newton, who bequeathed to it a large amount by his last will. It also receives for treatment persons, not indigent, who may be otherwise suitable for remedial treatment. Patients were first received in February, 1880, in the dwelling-house purchased with the estate occupied by the Asylum; the new asylum building was first used in December, 1880. The institution will accommodate about thirty patients. Only female patients are received at present. Applications for admission must be made to the superintendent. A certificate will be required from the attending physician that the patient is suffering from disease of the nervous system, and is not insane, and that in his opinion the patient can be cured or materially benefited by treatment at the Asylum.

Superintendent. — Lucius W. Baker, M.D.

The Hospital Cottages for Children.

Baldwinsville, Templeton.

Organized June 17, 1882, and incorporated December 9, 1882. These Cottages are established for the treatment of the more chronic cases of disease among children, where medical care and careful nursing may be supplemented by the advantage of fresh air, sunlight, outdoor exercise, and wholesome food which country life more abundantly affords. The Hospital has one hundred and fifty beds. Children under fourteen years of age suffering from epilepsy and other nervous disorders, and orthopedic cases are taken.

The State has given $85,000 for the purchase of land and the erection of new buildings; a farm of 140 acres has been purchased, and accommodations for 150 children are provided. It is the expectation of the trustees to arrange for the care of young men and young women with epilepsy as soon as sufficient means can be obtained. The really poor will be cared for free, as funds may be contributed for this purpose; but a moderate charge will be made to those able to pay.

Two schools have been established in connection with the Hospital Cottages.

Private Institution for Feeble-Minded Youth.

Barre.

Established in June, 1848. This institution, strictly private, was established for the education and improvement of backward or eccentric children, and is adapted for all who are precluded from ordinary schools by reason of defective nervous organization.

In addition to the pupils, it receives a limited number of custodial cases, comprising persons of considerable intellectual ability sometimes, but unfitted to engage in business life or mingle in society because of physical or cerebral infirmity.

The cottage system has been adopted as best fitted to preserve the family type, and the household is classified in groups under the immediate supervision of cultivated, refined officials, who give their whole energies to the well-being and happiness of the inmates.

Since its opening 471 cases of defective mental condition have been treated. About 85 are at present in the establishment. Application for admission, terms, etc., to be made to the superintendents.

Bennet and Ash Streets, Boston. (Tele.)

Founded in 1796, and incorporated in 1801. This was the first institution of the kind in Boston, and the third in the United States. It is supported entirely by funds heretofore contributed and by private charity. It does not receive any support or assistance from the city. At present the operations of the Dispensary are extended only over that part known as the city proper, East, and South Boston, and Roxbury. The remaining portions of the city are otherwise provided for.

The central office is situated near the centre of population and is convenient of access. It was opened for use in 1856. During the year 1883 the old building of the Dispensary was torn down, and, in November, the officers and patients were first accommodated in a new building which had been erected.

Physicians are in attendance daily, who treat respectively men, women, children, and surgical cases. At 9 o'clock Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, dental patients are treated; at 11, those suffering from diseases of the skin; and at the same hour cases of nervous diseases.

In addition to the service at the central office, the city is divided into eleven districts, and to each one is assigned a physician, whose duty it is to care for those unable to leave their homes. Medicines are given out at the central office daily, from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.; on Sundays and on legal holidays from 9 to 10 A.M.

Since October, 1796, 1,072,993 patients have been treated; since July 1, 1856, 954,190 patients have been treated at the central office and in the districts. During the year ending September, 1890, 24,456 cases were treated at the central office, and 15,122 cases in the districts — an aggregate of 39,578 patients. The number of recipes put up was 60,883, of which 54,780 were paid and 6,103 free. The average daily attendance at the office was 190. The services of the staff are rendered gratuitously at the central office; in the districts, the physicians receive a moderate compensation.

Students are permitted to attend the practice of the physicians and surgeons at 9 o'clock.

New England Dispensary.

29 Fayette Street, Boston.

This is really the out-patient department of the New England Hospital, with which it was connected until the removal of the latter out of town, in 1872. From that time until its removal to its present quarters, it occupied houses on Tremont and Warrenton Streets, rented for the purpose. In 1880 the house No. 29 Fayette St. was purchased, and special repairs and additions made to fit it for its present use. A small charge is made for medicine. During the year closing Sept. 30, 1890, there were treated in the Dispensary 3,268 new patients, representing 10,350 visits, or an average of 35 patients daily. In addition 812 were attended by the Internes at their homes, making a total of 4080 new patients.

OFFICERS.

Attending Physicians. — Drs. A. S. Whitney, E. B. Culbertson, H. L. Harrington, S. E. Palmer, M. F. Hobart, H. B. Carpenter.

Charlestown Free Dispensary and Hospital.

27 Harvard Square, Charlestown, Boston. (Tele.)

The Charlestown Free Dispensary, which was organized April 25, 1872, in response to the suggestion of a physician of Charlestown, and opened May 1, has been kept in operation for the reception and treatment of patients on three days of the week. At meetings of the Managers held in October and November, 1872, it was decided to ask for an act of incorporation, which would include a hospital when such an institution seemed desirable. The act was approved February 14, 1873.

The annual meeting of the Corporation occurs on the last Thursday in April. The Board of Managers, consisting of twelve gentlemen, meets on the last Thursday in January, April, July, and October.

Advice and treatment are given to patients in the Dispensary department on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, at 12 M.

Washingtonian Home.

41 Waltham Street, Boston.

Organized in 1857, and incorporated in 1859, for the cure of inebriates who wish to reform.

Persons having a permanent home within the State, whose circumstances render it imperatively necessary, may be admitted to a free bed; all other persons will be charged for their board, according to their ability to pay, for the rooms, attendance, and accommodations furnished them, generally from ten to twenty dollars a week. Application can be made to the Superintendent at the Home, at any hour. A recommendation by some responsible person is required.

The number of patients under charge of the Home for the year preceding April, 1891, was 383. The institution can furnish accommodations to forty inmates.

An annual report of the Home is published.

OFFICERS.

Harvard Veterinary Hospital.

50 Village Street Boston. (Tele.)

The hospital building was completed in 1883, and offers every advantage for the observation and treatment of sick animals. It is a substantial structure of brick, three stories high, and has been designed especially for its uses. There are accommodations for thirty-one horses. Upon the first floor are the office and a large operating space lighted from above. On the second floor is a room for dogs, containing about twenty kennels, a pharmacy, and a grooms' room. The third story contains, besides the necessary lofts and work-rooms, apartments for the assistant surgeon and house surgeon. In the basement is a shoeing forge, a room for cattle, and a boiler room. Application for the treatment of animals may be made at the Hospital.

Superintendent. — Edward C. Beckett, M.D.V.
Resident Surgeon. — Wilbert Soule, M.D.V.

Maine General Hospital.

Congress Street, Portland, Me.

The Hospital owes its existence to the concerted action of the physicians of the State Medical Society, who in 1867 appointed a committee, of which the late Dr. John T. Gilman was chairman, to memorialize the Legislature for an act of incorporation for a State General Hospital, to be located in Portland, and for an appropriation sufficient to secure its foundation. The bill incorporating the Hospital was passed in February, 1868, and by a subsequent enactment, in 1870, the State ceded to the Corporation, on certain conditions, the lot of land, the site of the State Arsenal on Bramhall's Hill, for the desired purpose. By a grant from the city of Portland, the Corporation enlarged its limits, the property now embracing more than seven acres, bounded on three sides by streets, and with a frontage on Congress and Arsenal Streets of more than five hundred feet. The Hospital is situated 145 feet above the level of the sea, and commands an extended view in all directions.

The complete plan contemplates the erection of four pavilions, giving the Hospital a capacity of 200 beds. At present it consists of a central administrative building and a pavilion ward, three stories high, 145 feet in length, with the necessary kitchen and boiler-house. It was dedicated October 22, 1874. Another pavilion is now under construction.

For the year ending September 30, 1890, 577 patients were admitted. The average cost for each patient was $10.74 per week.

Application for the admission of patients must be made to the resident physician at the Hospital between the hours of 9 and 11 on any day of the week, except Sunday. Persons accidentally wounded are received at any hour. The price of board for paying patients varies from seven to twenty-eight dollars per week, according to the accommodation furnished. Visitors are admitted to see patients between two and four on any week-day.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the first Tuesday of November. The Board of Directors holds a monthly meeting at the Hospital on the first Saturday of each month.

The Mary Fletcher Hospital.

Colchester Avenue, Burlington, Vt.

Incorporated in 1876, and opened January 22, 1879. The Hospital owes its origin to Miss Mary Fletcher, of Burlington, who gave the sum of $200,000 for its erection.

The Hospital consists of an administrative building, with a large number of rooms for private patients, and two pavilion wards. In a separate building, connecting with the wards and administrative building by a corridor, is a large amphitheatre, capable of seating nearly two hundred persons. Rooms for out-patients are also attached to this building.

The regular price of treatment is ten dollars per week. A limited number of free beds are available for those whose circumstances render them fit subjects for such charity. Applications from outside of Burlington must be made in writing, addressed to the Superintendent, by the attending physician of the patient, accompanied by a full description of the case.

The number of beds is thirty-five; the number treated each year is about one hundred and fifty.

A Training-School for Nurses is connected with the Hospital.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the first Wednesday of December in each year; the Directors hold stated meetings on the first Monday of each month.

Rhode Island Hospital.
Providence, R. I.

Incorporated in March, 1863, and opened for patients in October, 1868. Accommodates 125 patients. There are sixty-one endowed free beds. Apart from the main structure and its two connecting pavilions, are separate buildings for abdominal surgery, for contagious diseases, and for post-mortem and pathological work. A new building for out-patients, built at a cost of $22,000, will be ready for use in 1891.

During the year ending September 30, 1890, 1089 patients were admitted, and 4,697 new cases were received at the out-patient departments. The aggregate daily attendance in all the out-patient departments during the year was 16,549. The average number of in-patients was 83 and the average cost for each in-patient was $11.27 per week.

The Training-School for Nurses is under the supervision of a trained nurse, and has twenty-five nurses in training.

There are four internes. The term of service is two years. Appointments to this service are determined by competitive examinations held at the Hospital in March and November.

For the use of the medical staff the Hospital has a valuable library of 2,000 volumes, including the most recent works in the various departments of medical Science.

The annual meeting of the Corporation is held on the second Wednesday in November. The board of Trustees meet on the first Wednesday of every month and also on the third Thursday in January, April, July, and October.

The Woonsocket Cottage Hospital.

The Hospital was erected in 1887 and 1888, and opened in the latter year. It has a capacity of twenty-six beds, ten in each of two public wards, and six private rooms. It had its origin in the will of Dr. Ezekiel Fowler, who made a bequest, through trustees, which should go to a Hospital if such an institution should be erected within twenty-five years of his death. Through the bequests of other friends, largely Mr. George Law, the present buildings were erected and opened to the public in season to secure the original gift. Other gifts have secured a fund of about $100,000, from the income of which the Hospital is supported. Much of the work done is charitable, though many having otherwise poor accommodations for sickness have become inmates by paying such sums as their conditions warranted. The Hospital is supplied with the best means of heating, ventilating, and plumbing, and is situated a little more than a mile from the centre of the city, upon elevated grounds of about twenty-five acres' extent.

The institution has a board of twelve female visitors selected from the various interests of the city, and also has a staff of six Physicians, each of whom serves two consecutive months in each year.

Butler Hospital for the Insane.

Butler Avenue and North Street, Providence, R. I.

The Butler Hospital for the Insane had its origin in a bequest of the late Hon. Nicholas Brown, of Providence, R. I., who died in September, 1841. Mr. Brown directed in his will that the sum of thirty thousand dollars be appropriated to the purpose of aiding in the establishment of a hospital for the insane, "where that unhappy class of our fellow-beings who are, by the visitation of Providence, deprived of their reason, may find a safe retreat, and be provided with whatever may be most conducive to their comfort and their restoration to a sound mind." In 1844, Cyrus Butler, Esq., a venerable merchant of Providence, whose mind had long been impressed with the great desirableness of such an institution, offered to add to the bequest of Mr. Brown the sum of forty thousand dollars, on condition that an equal sum should be raised by subscription. The condition was speedily fulfilled by the contributions of benevolent persons throughout the community. A charter of incorporation having already been obtained from the General Assembly, the first meeting of the Corporation was held March 20, 1844, and the hospital building was completed and opened for the reception of patients December 1, 1847. Since that time several important additions have been made. The "Ray Hall" was completed in the year 1866. It was the joint gift to the Hospital of Alexander Duncan and Robert H. Ives, and was named in honor of Dr. Isaac Ray, the Superintendent of the Hospital from its commencement to January, 1867. The Ray Hall contains a museum, a reading-room, billiard-room, and bowling-alleys for the use of patients.

In 1874 the "David Duncan Ward" was erected for women by Alexander Duncan, Esq., in memory of his son, who had been a trustee and liberal friend of the Hospital; and a similar ward for men has been erected, an amount thought sufficient to warrant the undertaking of the work having been contributed by various friends of the Hospital. This is to be named in memory of Dr. John W. Sawyer, who was Superintendent from January, 1867, until his death, in December, 1885. A house for the use of the Superintendent has been recently given by Mr. Alexander Duncan, its cost being $20,000. The aim of the institution is to provide suitably for patients of intelligence who are accustomed to comfortable homes, preference being given to those who are likely to prove curable. The capacity of the Hospital is about 170. The rates charged vary from seven to fifty dollars per week, and the institution has a beneficiary fund, which enables it to aid some patients who are unable to pay for the care which their condition demands. A certificate signed by two physicians, and the written request of a near relative or guardian, are necessary for the admission of a patient. Blank forms will be furnished on application.

COLDEN'S

LIQUID · BEEF · TONIC.

Special Attention of the Medical Profession is directed to this remarkable Curative Preparation, as it has been endorsed by Thousands of the Leading Physicians of the United States, who are using it in their daily practice.

COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC is invaluable in all forms of Wasting disease and in cases of convalescence from severe illness. It can also be depended upon with positive certainty of success for the cure of Nervous Weakness; Malarial Fever; Incipient Consumption, and General Debility.

COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC is a reliable Food Medicine; rapidly finds its way into the circulation; arrests Decomposition of the Vital Tissues, and is agreeable to the most delicate stomach. To the physician, it is of incalculable value, as it gives the patient assurance of return to perfect health.

C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent,

115 & 117 Fulton Street, New York.

A sample of Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic will be sent free, upon application, to any Physician (enclosing business card) in the United States. Sold by Druggists Generally.

STRICTLY PROFESSIONAL.

HYDROLEINE.

(HYDRATED OIL.)

Produces Rapid Increase in Flesh and Strength.

FORMULA.—EACH DOSE CONTAINS:

Pure Cod Liver Oil	80 m. (drops)
Distilled Water	35 m.
Soluble Pancreatin	5 Grains.
Soda	⅓ Grain.
Salicylic Acid	¼ Grain.

UNIVERSALLY PRESCRIBED.

It is sought to introduce this invaluable therapeutic agent exclusively on its merits, and for that reason the Profession is appealed to only through the columns of Medical Journals.

HYDROLEINE is a purely scientific preparation for the cure of incipient consumption and all forms of wasting disease. Its formula is well known, and it has received the endorsement of Leading Physicians throughout the United States. The therapeutic value of this invaluable curative agent; its unquestionable success and its perfect reliability in cases of emaciation occasioned by a decay of the vital tissues, makes the prescribing of Hydroleine one of the necessary requisites of the successful practitioner. This great remedial agent is thoroughly palatable, is easily digested; it produces rapid increase in flesh and strength and at once inspires the patient with a substantial hope of a speedy recovery. This is assured by the fact that the vitalizing principle underlying Hydroleine is to arrest decomposition in all its stages.

Hydroleine has for the basis of its formula pure Norwegian Cod-Liver Oil, and one teaspoonful of this preparation will give more satisfaction than three teaspoonfuls of the many usually prescribed emulsions.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

U. S. Army Medical Service.

Brig. Gen. Charles Sutherland, M.D., Surgeon-General, Washington, D.C.

The following memorandum has been issued for the information of persons desirous of entering the Medical Corps of the United States Army: —

[EXTRACTS FROM LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.]

Act of Congress, approved June 30, 1834.

SECT. 1. Be it enacted, etc. That from and after the passage of this act no person shall receive the appointment of assistant surgeon in the army of the United States, unless he shall have been examined and approved by an army medical board, to consist of not less than three surgeons or assistant surgeons, who shall be designated for that purpose by the Secretary of War; and no person shall receive the appointment of surgeon in the army of the United States, unless he shall have served at least five years as an assistant surgeon, and unless, also, he shall have been examined by an army medical board constituted as aforesaid.

Act of Congress, approved June 23, 1874, and June 26, 1886.

The medical department of the army shall hereafter consist of one surgeon-general, . . . one assistant surgeon-general, . . . one chief medical purveyor, four surgeons, with the rank of colonels, two assistant medical purveyors, . . . eight surgeons with the rank of lieutenant-colonels, fifty surgeons with the rank of majors, one hundred and twenty-five assistant surgeons, with the rank and pay of first lieutenant of cavalry for the first five years' service, and with the rank and pay of captain of cavalry subsequently until their promotion to a majority.

All candidates for appointment in the medical corps must apply to the Secretary of War for an invitation to appear before the army Medical Board of Examiners. The application must be in the handwriting of the candidate, must state date and place of his birth, and place and State of which he is a permanent resident, and must be accompanied by certificates based on personal acquaintance from at least two persons of repute as to citizenship, character, and moral habits. Candidates must be between twenty-one and twenty-eight years of age (without any exceptions), and graduates of a regular medical college, — evidence of which, his diploma, must be submitted to the Board. [¶2273 A. R. 1881.]

The morals, habits, and physical and mental qualifications and general aptitude for the service of each candidate will be subjects for careful investigation by the Board, and a favorable report will not be made in any case in which there is a reasonable doubt. [¶ 2274 A. R. 1881.]

The following is the general plan of the examination: —

I. The physical examination will be rigid; and each candidate will, in addition, be required to certify "that he labors under no mental or physical infirmity, nor disability of any kind which can in any way interfere with the most efficient discharge of any duty which may be required."

II. Oral and written examinations on subjects of preliminary education, general literature, and general science. The Board will satisfy itself by examination that each candidate possesses a thorough knowledge of the branches taught in the common schools, especially of English grammar, arithmetic, and the history and geography of the United States. Any candidate found deficient in these branches will not be examined further. The examination on general science will include chemistry and natural philosophy, and that on literature will embrace English literature, Latin, and history, ancient and modern. Candidates claiming proficiency in other branches of knowledge, such as the higher mathematics, ancient and modern languages, etc., will be examined therein, and receive due credit for their special qualification."

III. Oral and written examination on anatomy, physiology, surgery, practice of medicine, general pathology, obstetrics and diseases of women and children, medical jurisprudence and toxicology, materia medica, therapeutics, pharmacy, and practical sanitation.

IV. Clinical examinations, medical and surgical, at a hospital, and the performance of surgical operations on the cadaver.

Due credit will be given for Hospital training, and practical experience in Surgery, Practice of Medicine, and Obstetrics.

The Board will deviate from this general plan whenever necessary.

in such manner as they deem best to secure the interests of the service. [¶2275, A. R. 1881].

The Board will report the merits of the candidates on the several branches of the examination, and their relative merit in the whole, according to which the approved candidates will receive appointments to existing vacancies, or to vacancies which may occur within two years thereafter. [¶2276, A. R. 1881].

An applicant failing in one examination may be allowed a second after one year, but not a third. [¶2277, A. R. 1881].

No allowance will be made for the expenses of persons undergoing examination, but those who are approved and receive appointments will be entitled to transportation in obeying their first order assigning them to duty. [¶2278, A. R. 1881].

J. M. Brown, M.D., Surgeon-General, U. S. N., and Chief of Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department.

CIRCULAR FOR THE INFORMATION OF PERSONS DESIRING TO ENTER THE MEDICAL CORPS OF THE U. S. NAVY.

A candidate for examination and appointment in the Medical Corps of the Navy must be between 21 and 26 years of age, and must apply to the Honorable Secretary of the Navy for permission to appear before the Naval Medical Examining Board.

The application must be in the handwriting of the applicant, stating age and place of birth, also the place and State of which he is a permanent resident; and must be accompanied by letters or certificates from persons of repute, testifying, from personal knowledge, to his good habits and moral character, and that he is a citizen of the United States.

FORM OF APPLICATION.

To the Honorable Secretary of the Navy,
Navy Department, Washington, D. C.:

Sir: I request permission to be examined for an appointment as Assistant Surgeon in the United States Navy.

I was born at ——, and was —— years of age on the —— day of ——, 189—, and am a citizen of the United States, residing in ——, county of ——, in the State of ——.

I enclose herewith certificates as to moral character, habits, and citizenship.

Very respectfully,

——— ———

If in reply to the above the candidate receive a permit, he will notify the President of the Board of the fact, and request him to appoint a time for his examination.

Candidates will be expected to present to the Board testimonials of educational and professional fitness.

The Board is required, under oath, to report on the physical, mental, moral, and professional qualifications of the candidate; so that the examinations are necessarily rigid and comprehensive, though simple and practical, and not beyond the attainments of any well educated physician.

A successful candidate, upon the completion of his examination, will be notified by the President of the Board that he has been found qualified.

An applicant found "not qualified" may be allowed a second examination after one year, but not a third.

No allowance will be made for the expenses of persons undergoing examination, which, if uninterrupted, is usually completed within a week.

Appointments will be made as vacancies occur, and in the order of merit reported by the Board, but a qualified candidate, not appointed within a year, must be re-examined.

The officers of the Medical Staff of the Navy are as follows: Medical Directors, Medical Inspectors, Surgeons, Passed Assistant Surgeons, and Assistant Surgeons.

Vacancies in these grades (by death or retirement at the age of sixty-two years) are filled in the order of seniority, and for each step of promotion a physical and professional examination is required by law.

The pay of an Assistant Surgeon in the Navy is $1000 per annum

"on leave or waiting orders," $1400 "on shore duty," $1700 "at sea," and, when at sea, one ration at 30 cents per diem in addition.

Eight cents a mile is the allowance when travelling under orders.

ORDER OF EXAMINATION.

1. Physical. 2. Written. 3. Oral. 4. Clinical. 5. Practical.

The Physical examination will be very thorough, and the candidate will be required to certify, under oath, that he is free from any mental, physical, or constitutional defects, hereditary taint, or disability of any kind that would be liable to interfere with the efficient performance of duty.

Written examination. — The candidate will be required to address a letter to the Board of Examiners, stating concisely —

1. The date and place of his birth; the school, institution, or college at which he received his general education; the several branches studied, including his knowledge of general literature, and of the ancient and modern languages; the exact title of the medical school or schools at which he received instruction, and, if an Alumnus, the date of his graduation; the name and place of residence of his preceptor, and the time when he commenced the study of medicine; also the title of the text-books studied or read on Chemistry, Anatomy, Physiology, Histology, Materia Medica, Pharmacy, Therapeutics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Principles and Practice of Surgery, Minor Surgery or Mechanical Therapeutics, Medical Jurisprudence, Toxicology, Obstetrics, Hygiene, Biology, and Physics.

2. The opportunities he has had of engaging in the practice of medicine, surgery, and obstetrics, or of receiving clinical instruction; or whether he has or has not been a resident physician or interne in a civil or military hospital.

3. The number of subjects or parts of subjects he has dissected; what opportunity he has had to become familiar with minor surgery and bandaging, chemical and pharmaceutical manipulations, and the physical properties of drugs.

The candidate will append to this letter his name in full, postoffice address, and his local address at the date of the examination.

A thesis or short essay must next be written (without reference to notes or books) upon some professional or scientific subject indicated by the Board.

Written answers will then be required to twelve or more questions, propounded by the Board on the following subjects:

Anatomy, Histology, Physiology, Surgery, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Obstetrics, Materia Medica, Chemistry, Hygiene, Medical Jurisprudence, Toxicology, and Physics.

Oral examination. — The candidate will be examined orally upon his literary and scientific acquirements, including general history, natural science and English literature, and professionally upon Anatomy (general, special, and surgical), Histology, Physiology, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Principles and Practice of Surgery, Chemistry, Legal Medicine, Toxicology, Materia Medica, Therapeutics, Pharmacy, Obstetrics, and Diseases of Women and Children, Hygiene, Microscopy, and Physics.

Candidates possessing special knowledge of the higher Mathematics, Astronomy, Geology, Botany, Zoology, Literature, Art, and Ancient and Modern Languages, will be given full credit for their proficiency.

The Clinical examination of patients will be made by the candidate at a Naval Hospital, and will include the use of the Microscope, Thermometer, Laryngoscope, Ophthalmoscope, and other aids to physical diagnosis; after which he will be required to submit a written clinical report on one or more medical or surgical cases.

The practical examination will comprise surgical operations on the cadaver, the application of splints, bandages and surgical dressings, the use of the microscope (for clinical purposes, and the recognition of pathological or other specimens), and chemical and pharmaceutical manipulations.

A candidate may withdraw at any period of the examination, with the consent of the Board, and may at a future time present himself for re-examination.

The Board may conclude the examinations — written, oral, or practical — at any time, and may deviate from this general plan in such manner as it may deem best to insure the interests of the naval service.

U. S. Marine Hospital Service.

WALTER WYMAN, M.D., Supervising Surgeon-General, Washington, D. C.

The Marine Hospital Service of the United States, which furnishes medical and surgical relief to the sick and disabled seamen of the American mercantile marine, was established by Act of Congress, July 16, 1798, and reorganized by Acts of Congress, June 29, 1870, and March 3, 1875. The service is under the charge of a Supervising Surgeon-General, who is appointed by the President, by and with the advice of the Senate, and who is charged by law, "under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, with the supervision of all matters connected with the Marine Hospital Service of the United States, and with the disbursement of the fund."

Relief is furnished to seamen at nearly one hundred ports of the ocean, gulf, and inland waters, either in hospitals established and maintained by the government exclusively for seamen, or in private or municipal institutions, with which arrangements are made from time to time. During the year ending June 30, 1890, 50,671 patients received relief from the Service, of whom 14,587 were treated in the hospitals, and 36,084 at the dispensaries. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, there were treated in the Marine Hospital at the Port of Boston, Mass., 890 patients and at the out-patient department in the Custom House 1379 cases, making a total of 2270 cases.

The current expenses of the service are met by the receipts from the tax on tonnage on vessels entering the ports of the United States; and the buildings and equipments are furnished out of the annual appropriations for public buildings. A sick or disabled seaman, to obtain relief, must apply to a medical officer of the Marine Hospital Service, or where there is no such officer at the port, to a United States collector of customs, and must furnish evidence that he has been actually employed as an American seaman. Relief is not furnished to indigent seamen, not sick or disabled, or to seamen who have abandoned their vocation for any other employment.

In addition to its work of extending relief to the seamen of the merchant-marine and allied services, the Marine Hospital Bureau supervises the national quarantines under the Act of August 1, 1888, and in time of epidemics takes charge of the measures employed for the restriction and suppression of the disease, under the Act of March 28, 1890. The permanent quarantine stations are at Delaware Breakwater, Del.; Cape Charles, Va.; Sapelo Sound, Ga.; Dry Tortugas, Fla.; North Chandeleur Island, Miss.; San Diego, Cal.; San Francisco, Cal.; and Port Townsend, Wash. The stations are under the control of medical officers of the service, who board and inspect all incoming vessels from foreign ports, and subject those from infected and suspected ports to thorough disinfection, and detention in quarantine for the required period of time.

The publication of the weekly abstracts of sanitary reports, which is mailed to all health officers and customs officers, and which contains reliable information relative to the prevalence of contagious diseases, and the status of health of domestic and foreign countries, is another function of the Bureau.

Physical examinations of applicants for enlistment into the Revenue-Marine and Life-Saving Services, and of pilots for color-blind men, are conducted by the officers of the corps.

The medical corps consists of the Supervising Surgeon-General, Surgeons, Passed Assistant Surgeons, and Assistant Surgeons. Appointments to the service are made, after examination by a board of surgeons, to the grade of Assistant Surgeon. The service makes use of the nomenclature of diseases adopted by the Royal College of Physicians of London, and of the decimal (metric) system for all weights and measures. A report of its transactions is issued annually.

The district of the North Atlantic embraces the following-named relief stations, namely: Bangor, Maine; Barnstable, Mass.; Bath, Maine; Belfast, Maine; Boston, Mass.; Bristol, R. I.; Burlington, Vt.; Castine, Maine; Eastport, Maine; Edgartown, Mass.; Ellsworth, Maine; Fall River, Mass.; Gloucester, Mass.; Kennebunk, Maine; Machias, Maine; Marblehead, Mass.; Nantucket, Mass.; New Bedford, Mass.; Newburyport, Mass.; Newport, R. I.; Plattsburg, N. Y.; Plymouth, Mass., Portland, Maine; Portsmouth, N. H.; Providence, R. I.; Rockland, Maine; Saco, Maine; Salem, Mass.; Vineyard Haven, Mass.; Waldoboro', Maine; Wiscasset, Maine.

The district of the Middle Atlantic includes Bridgeport, Conn.; Hartford, Conn.; Middletown, Conn.; New Haven, Conn.; New London, Conn.; and Stonington, Conn.

All relief stations where the service is under the charge of a medical officer of the Marine Hospital Service are known as relief stations of Class 1. Relief stations where specific arrangements have been made for the care and treatment of sick or disabled seamen at rates fixed by the Treasury Department, but where collectors of customs, on account of the absence of a medical officer of the service, are authorized and required to issue permits, and to supervise the relief furnished, are known as relief stations of Class 2. All other ports where there are officers of the customs revenue, but where, on account of the infrequency of applications for relief, the absence of any hospital, or from other causes, sick or disabled seamen are cared for only in cases of emergency, are known as relief stations of Class 3.

The Marine Hospital for the Port of Boston was originally established in Charlestown in 1802; a second building was built at Chelsea in 1825–27. The present building, which has accommodations for 100 patients, cost $394,424, and was completed and occupied about 1860. The office dispensary for the reception of patients and for the treatment of those not requiring hospital relief, is at the Custom House in Boston. (Tele., Hospital and office.) The Marine Hospital at Portland has accommodations for 50 patients, and is situated about three miles from the centre of the city, on Casco Bay. The Hospital was commenced in 1852, and completed in 1859, at a cost of $122,837. About 820 patients were treated in 1890. A hospital has recently been established by the service at Vineyard Haven, Mass; 254 patients were treated at this station in 1890.

State Board of Health, Massachusetts.

The State Board of Health of Massachusetts was established in 1869, and was the first State Board organized in the United States. Its proceedings may be found in its valuable set of Reports beginning with 1869.

After an existence of ten years its powers were transferred to the newly established Board of Health, Lunacy, and Charity, and for seven years from 1879 the public sanitary interests of the State were supervised by that Board.

In 1886 the State Board of Health was re-established, with considerably enlarged powers and duties by the enactment of the following law: —

Section 1. The Governor with the advice and consent of the Council shall appoint seven persons who shall constitute the State Board of Health. The persons so appointed shall hold their offices for seven years; provided that the terms of office of the seven first appointed shall be so arranged that the term of one shall expire each year. All vacancies on said Board, whether occurring by expiration of term, or otherwise, shall be filled by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council.

Sect. 2. The Board shall be provided with rooms at the expense of the State, and shall hold meetings each month on a day fixed by itself, and at such other times as may be needful. It shall make its own by-laws, and shall make a report of its doings to the Governor and Council on or before the thirty-first day of December in each year, such report being made up to the thirtieth day of September inclusive.

The remaining sections of the act relate to the election and duties of the secretary, the expenses of the Board, and the numerous amendments of the statutes which were essential to the establishment of the Board, and its separation from the State Board of Health, Lunacy, and Charity.

The general powers and duties of the Board are defined by the following Statutes, which are substantially the same as those enacted in 1869.

Chap. 80, Sect. 1. The State Board of Health shall take cognizance of the interests of health and life among the citizens of the Commonwealth. It shall make sanitary investigations and inquiries in respect to the causes of disease, and especially of epidemics and the sources of mortality and the effects of localities, employments, conditions, and circumstances, on the public health; and shall gather such information in respect to those matters as it may deem proper for diffusion among the people. It shall advise the government in regard to the location and other sanitary conditions of any public institutions.

If small-pox or any other contagious or infectious disease dangerous to the public health exists, or is likely to exist, in any place within the State, the State Board shall investigate the same, and the means of preventing the spread thereof, and shall consult thereon with the local authorities, and shall have co-ordinate powers as a Board of Health, in every place, with the Board of Health or health officer thereof, or with the mayor and aldermen or the selectmen, if no such Board or officer exists in such place.

In addition to the general duties defined above, certain other duties have from time to time been entrusted to the Board, such as the power to prohibit noxious or offensive trades or occupations (Pub. Stat. chap. 80, § 93), the regulation and location of swine-slaughtering associations, and the publication of the returns of water companies and boards.

To these have also been added in later years two important acts giving to the Board supervision of food and drugs (Acts of 1882, chap. 263, and 1884, chap. 289), and also of water supplies and drainage (chap. 274, Acts of 1886), and also certain authority relative to ice supplies and the establishment of crematories.

The State Board of Health, by the provision of certain acts of 1882, 1883, and 1884, is entrusted with the inspection of food and drugs as sold in Massachusetts. For this purpose it is authorized to expend $11,500 annually in carrying out the provision of the Food and Drug Acts; three-fifths of this appropriation must be devoted to the enforcement of the laws for the prevention of the adulteration of milk and milk products.

Under these acts about 30,000 samples of food and drugs have been examined by the analysts of the Board, at least 550 prosecutions have been conducted against offenders, and the actual advantage secured to the people has been of a two-fold nature, that is, in the direction of public health, and also of public economy, since the saving which has been gained in the quality of the food-supply has been many times greater than the cost of enforcing the statutes.

The Chemists acting under the direction of the Board are: —

B. F. Davenport, M.D., Boston.
Charles Harrington, M.D., Boston.
C. P. Worcester, M.D., Boston.

In 1886 the Board was empowered to have the general oversight and care of all inland waters, and by a resolve of the same Legislature the property of the Drainage Commission, including its maps and plans, was turned over to the Board of Health. In 1888 an amendment was enacted providing that all petitions to the Legislature for authority to introduce systems of water supply and sewerage be accompanied by copies of the recommendation and advice of the Board. The important work of the Board which has been accomplished under the provisions of this act has been published in two special volumes upon water supply and sewerage, recently issued. The following officers were appointed by the Board for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act.

Consulting Engineer. — J. P. Davis.
Chief Engineer. — F. P. Stearns.
Assistant Engineer. — X. H. Goodnough.

The following persons compose the Board: —

Henry P. Walcott, M.D.
Elijah U. Jones, M.D.
Frank W. Draper, M.D.
Hiram F. Mills, C.E.
J. W. Hastings, M.D.
J. M. Raymond.

Secretary. — Samuel W. Abbott, M.D.

Board of Lunacy and Charity, Massachusetts.

State House, Boston. (Tele.)

The Legislature of 1879 established the State Board of Health, Lunacy, and Charity, at the same time abolishing the Board of State Charities, organized in 1863, and the Board of Health and vital Statistics, organized in 1869.

The Legislature of 1886 passed an act (Chap. 101) re-establishing the State Board of Health. By the operations of this act the health functions of the State Board of Health, Lunacy, and Charity are withdrawn from it, and the word Health is stricken from the title. In all other respects the Board remains as before. The act went into operation June 1, 1886.

The Board has general supervision over all the State charitable and reformatory institutions, including the State Lunatic Hospitals, State Almshouse, State Farm, State Primary School, Lyman School for Boys, and Industrial School for Girls.

Regular meetings of the Board are held on the first Saturday of each month at the office of the Board in the State House.

Incorporated by the Legislature of Vermont November, 1880. Consists of six members, who, with the Secretary, constitute a Board, to meet once in two years.

Secretary. — J. H. Hamilton, M.D., Richford.

State Board of Health, Rhode Island.

Incorporated by the Legislature of the State in 1878 (G. S. 680). The Board consists of six persons (three of whom must be physicians), two from the County of Providence, and one from each of the other counties, and takes cognizance of the interests of life and health among the citizens of the State, makes investigations into the causes of disease, and especially of epidemics and endemics among the people, and other topics of general interest. They also have charge of the registration of births, marriages, and deaths. The Board meets at its office in Providence, on the first Wednesday of July, October, January, and April.

The office of the Secretary is open daily from one to three o'clock. An annual report is published. The Secretary is ex-officio a member of the Board, the commissioner of public health, and State registrar.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

City and Port Physician. — H. E. Turner, M.D.

Sanitary Protective Association.

Newport, R.. I.

Established November 11, 1878, and incorporated in 1879, for the following objects : —

1st. To provide its members, at moderate cost, with such advice and supervision as shall insure the proper sanitary condition of their own dwellings.

2d. To enable members to procure practical advice, on moderate terms, as to the best means of remedying defects in houses of the poorer class, in which they may be interested.

3d. To aid in improving the sanitary condition of the city.

The first inspection does not cause any disturbance to household arrangements. It is followed by a report making specific recommendations, if any improvements in the household arrangements are thought necessary. The members are not bound to carry out these recommendations.

The subsequent annual inspection will, so long as the sanitary arrangements remain in working order, entail no expense beyond the annual subscription.

Each member is entitled to the following privileges in respect to property within the municipality of Newport : —

1. An immediate report by the Inspecting Engineer of the Association on the sanitary condition of one dwelling or property, with specific recommendations, if necessary, as to the improvement of drainage, water supply, and ventilation, and a report upon the water by the Analyst.

2. An annual inspection of his premises, with a report as to their sanitary condition.

3. Occasional supplementary inspection and advice concerning the dwelling or property in respect of which he is a subscriber.

4. Each member by his annual payment secures the above privileges in respect of one dwelling or property occupied or designated by him. Should he be interested in two or more dwellings or properties, as owner or occupant, he may secure equal privileges in respect to them all, by paying the annual subscription for each.

5. A report, to be obtainable on payment of a special fee, on any dwelling or property, or plans thereof, which he may wish to hire or purchase.

6. Reports by the officers of the Association as to the sanitary condition of any dwellings or properties of the very poor, on payment of a moderate fee.

7. A report, without fee, upon the sanitary condition of any public building, as church, schoolhouse, or place of public resort, within the city of Newport.

Persons become members upon payment of an annual subscription, which, for original members, is limited to six dollars for permanent residents of Newport, and ten dollars for those whose houses are closed for a portion of the year; this difference being based upon the fact that premises continuously occupied are more likely to be kept in good order, and therefore to require less rigid and extensive examination. Membership shall cease upon failure at any time to pay this annual subscription within three months after it shall have become due.

A meeting of the Association is held annually, on the second Monday of November.

Rhode Island, Secretary of State Board of Health, Newport.

Connecticut, Secretary of State Board of Health, Hartford.

The Massachusetts Medical Examiner System.

The method of inquiry now employed in Massachusetts in cases of death by violence is no longer a matter of mere experiment. The law enacted in 1877, known as the Medical Examiner Law, effected a radical change throughout the State, whereby the old Coroner system was abolished and an entirely different plan of operation was substituted in its place.

The principal points of importance in the present law are, the abolition of the coroner's jury, and the proper division of the investigation into its medical and its legal parts, the former being entrusted to intelligent, educated medical men, and the latter to properly qualified legal officers. A similar process has been the rule for centuries among all the continental nations of Europe, and also in Scotland.

In proof that the present system of Massachusetts has been a thoroughly successful one, and also perfectly satisfactory to the people as well as to the medical and the legal profession, it is only necessary to state that since its introduction in 1877, about 16,000 cases of violent, sudden, and suspicious death have been investigated in a satisfactory manner in Massachusetts.

The principal modifications which have been found necessary after thirteen years' experience under the new law were embodied in a single act (Chap. 379, Acts of 1885).

These consist partly in the authority to employ a physician as a witness at an autopsy, with a fee of five dollars and two dollars for other witnesses.

The principal amendment lies in the authority given to the Secretary of the Commonwealth to collect and to publish the returns of the Medical Examiner in such form as "will render them of practical utility" in connection with the annual registration reports.

Another clause requires a report of every autopsy to be made to the District Attorney, and also that he shall certify as to its necessity.

Medical Examiners are appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Council, for the term of seven years. The counties are divided into districts as shown below, but medical examiners are authorized to act at any place within the county for which they have been appointed. The law governing medical examinations is given in full on a later page.

Abstract of Statutes and Ordinances affecting Physicians and Others.[1]

ATTEMPTS TO INDUCE ABORTION OR MISCARRIAGE.

Punished by imprisonment five to twenty years, if the woman dies; fine not exceeding two thousand dollars if the woman survives (P. S. 207, § 9). Massachusetts. Imprisonment not more than five years if child is destroyed; if miscarriage only, imprisonment less than one year, or fine not more than one thousand dollars (R. S. 124, § 8). Maine. Endeavor to procure miscarriage, imprisonment not more than one year, or fine not exceeding one thousand dollars. New Hampshire. Attempt to cause death of the child, imprisonment one to ten years and fine not exceeding one thousand dollars; death of woman considered murder in second degree, and liable to be punished accordingly (G. L. 282, §§ 11–13). Imprisonment five to ten years if woman dies; one to three years and fine not exceeding one thousand dollars if she survive (R. L. 198, § 4247). Vermont. Imprisonment five to twenty years if woman dies; one to seven years if she survive (P. S. 240, §§ 22–23). Rhode Island. Fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not more than five years or both. Connecticut. Woman liable to fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment to two years or both (G. S. xxii. §§ 11–12). Advertisement of means for procuring abortion, imprisonment not exceeding three years or fine not exceeding one thousand dollars (P. S. 207, § 10). Imprisonment not exceeding three years (P. S. 244, § 21). Fine not more than five hundred dollars. (G. S. xxii. § 13).

ADULTERATION OF FOOD, DRINKS, DRUGS, ETC., AND SALE OF CORRUPT OR UNWHOLESOME PROVISIONS.

Massachusetts. New Hampshire. Vermont. Rhode Island.

Punishable by imprisonment or fine in Massachusetts (P. S. 208, §§ 1–5). The proper officers have authority to search for and destroy such articles as may be injurious to the public health (G. S. 166, § 1; 1872, 231, §§ 1–3; 1866, 253, §§ 1, 4–7). In New Hampshire, punishable by statute (G. S. 253). Vermont (G. S. 118, § 16). In Rhode Island (G. S. 233, §§ 1–4; 119, § 8; 118, §§ 6–7). Under the Pharmacy Act the adulteration or weakening of drugs involves the forfeiture of such articles, and the offender is deprived of the right of practising in that State forever (G. S. 119, § 8). In Connecticut the sale of adulterated liquors is punishable by fine or imprisonment (G. S. 9, 47).

Connecticut.

The term "drug," as used in the act, includes all medicines for internal or external use, antiseptics, disinfectants, and cosmetics. The term "food," as used therein, includes all articles used for food or drink by man.

MEDICAL EXAMINERS

Massachusetts.

Nominated and appointed by Governor, also associate examiner for county of Suffolk; hold offices for seven years; may be removed by Governor and council; districts established by county commissioners; to examine only such cases as seem to have occurred by violence; shall immediately attend and take action; may make autopsy when authorized by district attorney, mayor, or selectmen. If there be evidence that death was caused by violence, shall notify district attorney and a justice of court; shall file attested copy of autopsy; shall certify to clerk or registrar cause of death; court or trial justice shall hold inquest. Inquest must be held in all railroad accidents; justice or district attorney may summon witnesses, who are liable to penalties as in any criminal prosecution. Medical examiners may employ chemist and clerk; shall cause body to be buried; compensation for landing dead bodies found; medical examiner to take charge of money, or personal property.

Medical examiners have salary of three thousand dollars in Suffolk County. In other counties, fee for view without autopsy, four dollars; for view and autopsy, thirty dollars; travel at ten cents a mile. Physicians as witnesses at autopsies, fee of five dollars; other witnesses, two dollars. Medical examiners to report before March 1st (P. S. 26.)

See also the Medical Examiner System on page 278, preceding.

DEAD BODIES, DISSECTION, ETC.

In Massachusetts, physicians may have dead bodies for dissection (P. S. 81, §§ 1–4). Court may order body of person executed to be dissected (P. S. 202, § 8); also in Maine (R. S. 13, §§ 1–2; 124, § 26; A. & R. 1881, 93, §§ 1–4), and in Vermont (G. S. 118, § 19). In Connecticut, professors and teachers of anatomy must give bonds in one thousand dollars (G. S. 8, § 10). Professors and teachers in medical colleges alone authorized to have dead bodies (G. S. 13, §§ 1–5). Massachusetts. Maine. Vermont. Connecticut.

In Massachusetts, dissection not permitted if request to contrary be made by deceased in last sickness, or by friends within twenty-four hours, or if a stranger or traveller (P. S. 81, § 4); in Maine, friends may require bodies within thirty days; bodies for dissection must be embalmed and kept for that time (A. & R. 1881, 94, §§ 1-3). Massachusetts. Maine.

EXEMPTION OF PROPERTY OF PHYSICIANS FROM ATTACHMENT AND EXECUTION FOR DEBT.

In Vermont, professional books and instruments of physicians, to the value of two hundred dollars, are exempt (G. S. 47, § 13). In Connecticut, horse of a practising physician or surgeon, of a value not exceeding two hundred dollars, and his saddle, harness, and buggy, are exempt (G. S. 16, § 10). Vermont. Connecticut.

CONTAGIOUS AND INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

In Massachusetts, boards of health are authorized to prevent the approach of, examine, remove, isolate, or provide medical and other attendance for persons affected with contagious or infectious diseases, and to secure, purify, or otherwise dispose of baggage, clothing, or other goods supposed to be infected with diseases considered dangerous to the public health (P. S. 80, §§ 39–50). In Boston, physicians are required to report the occurring in their practice of cases of small-pox, scarlet fever, typhus and typhoid fever, diphtheria, and measles, cholera (Asiatic), yellow fever, membranous croup. Penalty of fifty to one hundred dollars. In Maine (R. S. 114, §§ 1–11). In New Hampshire (G. S. 102, §§ 1–6). In Vermont (G. S. 97, §§ 1–4). In Rhode Island (G. S. 74, §§ 12–27). In Connecticut (G. S. 11, §§ 1–19). Massachusetts. Maine. New Hampshire. Vermont. Rhode Island. Connecticut.

Massachusetts. In Massachusetts, physicians and householders are required to give immediate notice of the occurrence of small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or other diseases dangerous to the public health, penalty fifty to two hundred dollars for the former, or not more than one hundred for the latter (P. S. 80, §§ 78, 79; A. & R. 1884). Upon the death, recovery, or removal of persons suffering from such diseases, householders are required to have the rooms occupied and the articles used by the sick to be disinfected, in a manner approved by the board of health, under like penalty for non-performance. Maine. In Maine, householders and physicians are similarly bound under a penalty of not less than ten nor more than thirty dollars (R. S. 14, §§ 32, 33).

DUELS.

Massachusetts. In Massachusetts, the presence of a person as a surgeon at a duel, is punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period not exceeding five years, in the jail not exceeding three years, and fine not exceeding one thousand dollars (P. S. 202, § 16). Maine. In Maine, the presence of a person at a duel as a surgeon, though no homicide ensues, is punishable by imprisonment for not more than twenty years, or by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and to be incapable of holding any place of honor, profit, or trust for twenty years after conviction. The engagement to act as surgeon at a duel renders the person liable to imprisonment not less than one year and to be incapable, as in the preceding section, for five years (R. S. 118, §§ 11, 12). Vermont. In Vermont, the presence of any person by previous engagement or appointment as a surgeon on the occurrence of a duel, the result of which is fatal to either party, is liable to imprisonment not less than five years, or to fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and to be forever incapable of holding any place of honor, profit, or trust under the constitution and laws of the State (G. S. 228). Rhode Island. In Rhode Island, he is liable for such action, or for advising, encouraging, or promoting a duel, to imprisonment not more than five years, or to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars (G. S. 228, § 18).

HEALTH.

See laws relating to the State Board of Health of Massachusetts on p. 277, preceding.

In Maine, the appointment and duties of boards of health are provided for (R. S. 14, §§ 14, 16). In New Hampshire (G. S. 101). In Vermont (G. S. 99, §§ 1–14). In Rhode Island, the several town councils and boards of aldermen act as boards of health, and make and carry out such regulations as they may deem best (G. S. 35, §§ 11, 12). In Connecticut (G. S. 14, §§ 11–19). Maine. New Hampshire. Vermont. Rhode Island. Connecticut.

HOSPITALS.

In Massachusetts, cities and towns may erect and maintain hospitals for the relief of persons suffering from illness, or of persons with diseases dangerous to the public health. No such hospital can be established within one hundred rods of an inhabited dwelling-house in an adjoining town without the consent of said town. No person may erect or use a building as a hospital in any part of a town prohibited by the authorities of such town, under penalty of a fine not exceeding fifty dollars for each month such hospital is used. The selectmen and boards of health are required to give notice of infected places; and the hindrance of such officers in the performance of their duties, or the removal of the signs displayed for the purpose of warning travellers, renders the person so offending liable to a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars. Physicians and other persons in the hospitals for infectious diseases violating any of the regulations made for their government are liable to a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars (P. S. 80, §§ 70–77). Massachusetts.

Lying-in hospitals, wards, or other places for the reception, care, and treatment of women in labor, must be licensed by city or town authorities, and are subject to visitation. Carrying on such a hospital or establishment without license is punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars (P. S. 80, §§ 56–59). The business of taking nursing infants to board is regulated in a similar manner, under penalty of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars (P. S. 80, §§ 60–61).

In Maine, municipal officers are required to maintain hospitals for the care of patients having small-pox or similar dangerous diseases, and to provide means for the isolation of patients (R. S. 14, §§ 26–31).

INSANE.

In Massachusetts (P. S. 3, § 3), Maine (R. S. 1, § 4), New Hampshire (G. S. 1, § 17), Vermont (G. S. 4, § 6), Rhode Island (G. S. 22, § 6), the word "insane" may include idiotic, non compos, lunatic, insane, and distracted persons. In Massachusetts, judges of the supreme judicial, superior, and probate courts, and in the city of Boston of the municipal court, may commit to Massachusetts.

either of the State lunatic hospitals any insane person who in their judgment is a proper subject for treatment or custody; but in all cases the evidence and certificate of at least two respectable physicians, one of whom, when practicable, must be the attending physician of the patient, is required to establish the fact of insanity. Notice must first be given in writing to the officers of the town or city of an intention to make an application for committal (P. S. 87, §§ 11–20, 25–29). Persons violently insane may be received at hospitals without warrant of commitment (P. S. 87, § 26). The governor and council may license private establishments for the insane, and such asylums are subject to visitation by State officers at any time. The penalty for establishing such asylums without authority is a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars (P. S. 87, §§ 53, 54).

Maine. In Maine, municipal officers may, on proper evidence presented before them, send to the insane hospital such insane persons as they may think best (R. S. 143, §§ 12–14).

New Hampshire. In New Hampshire, the judges of probate, overseers of the towns, parents and guardians, are empowered to commit to the State asylum insane persons who are in such a condition as to be dangerous to themselves or others (G. S. 10, §§ 12–17).

Vermont. In Vermont, the selectmen of towns have similar powers (G. S. 20, § 44).

Rhode Island. In Rhode Island, a trial justice or clerk of a police court may issue a warrant to bring insane persons before such court, and if found insane, they may be committed to the Butler asylum or the State asylum. Any judge of the supreme court may also appoint three commissioners to examine a person considered insane, and committal may be made on their certificate. Insane persons are also to be received on the certificate of two practising physicians vouching for their insanity (G. S. 68, §§ 1, 2).

Connecticut. In Connecticut, any insane person may be put in a suitable place of detention on the presentation of a sworn certificate, signed by some reputable physician, stating that he is insane. A judge of the superior court may appoint a commission of three persons, one of whom shall be a physician and one a counsellor-at-law, for the examination of any person supposed to be insane; if in their opinion such person should be confined, the judge shall issue an order to that effect. A justice of the peace, or the first selectman of a town, may order an insane person going at large to be confined (G. S. 8, §§ 6–11).

JURY AND MILITARY DUTY.

Massachusetts. In Massachusetts, physicians are exempt from jury duty; but this provision does not affect the power of coroners and magistrates to summon and empanel jurors when authorized by other provisions of law (P. S. 170, § 2). Physicians are also exempt from enrolment in the militia (P. S. 14, § 2). In New Hampshire, practising physicians are exempt from jury duty (G. S. 194, § 3), and the officers and attendants of the insane asylum from military duty (G. S. 86, § 4). In Vermont, the superintendent of the asylum for the insane and the assistant physicians in the same are exempt from military duty (G. S. 110, § 2). In Rhode Island, physicians and surgeons are exempt from jury and military duty (G. S. 189, § 2; 247, § 5).

PRACTICE OF MEDICINE.[1]

Massachusetts has at present no act governing the practice of medicine.

In Maine, no person, except a physician or surgeon who commenced practice prior to February 16, 1831, or has received a degree at a public medical institution in the United States, or a license from the Maine Medical Association, is entitled to recover any compensation for medical or surgical services, unless previous to such services he has obtained a certificate of good moral character from the municipal officers of the town where he then resided (R. S. 13, § 3). Medical societies incorporated by the Legislature, examine and license practitioners; certificate must be recorded by county clerk under penalty of twenty-five dollars for neglect, or for practising without certificate. Non-residents must obtain certificate in like manner. Fine for practising without certificate, fifty to two hundred dollars for first offence; two hundred to five hundred dollars for subsequent offence. Does not apply to dentists or to those living five years in place of residence.

Maine.

[1] Practice of Medicine. — The following States and Territories have regulated the practice of medicine by legislative enactment, at the dates given: Alabama, 1877; Arizona, ; Arkansas, 1881; California, 1876; Colorado, 1881; Connecticut, ; Delaware, 1883; District of Columbia, 1838; Florida, 1881; Georgia, 1881; Idaho, 1887; Illinois, 1887; Indiana, 1885; Indian Territory, 1878; Iowa, 1886; Kansas, 1879; Kentucky, 1888; Louisiana, 1887; Maryland, 1888; Michigan, 1883; Minnesota, 1887; Mississippi, 1882; Missouri, 1883; Montana, 1889; Nebraska, 1881; Nevada, 1875; New Hampshire, 1875; New Jersey, 1880; New Mexico, 1882; New York, ; North Carolina, 1859; Ohio, 1880; Oregon, 1889; Pennsylvania, 1881; Rhode Island, 1882; South Carolina, 1881; Tennessee, 1889; Texas, 1876; Vermont, 1880; Virginia, 1887; West Virginia, 1882; Wisconsin, 1881; Wyoming, .

The following States do not regulate the practice of medicine: Dakota, Massachusetts, Washington.

Vermont. In Vermont, any medical society having a charter from the General Assembly, may, through its board of censors, issue licenses to practise to any person having a diploma from any recognized medical college. Any person practising without such license is liable to a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars for the first offence, and of not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars for the second offence.

Rhode Island. Rhode Island regulates practice of medicine (1882).

PHARMACY.

Massachusetts. In Massachusetts, apothecaries must record sales of arsenic, strychnine, corrosive sublimate, or prussic acid, without the written prescription of a physician, under penalty of not less than fifty dollars, and persons purchasing deadly poisons and giving a fictitious name to the apothecary or other persons, are liable to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars (P. S. 208, § 6).

Maine. In Maine, poisonous drugs must be distinctly labelled and their sale recorded. Fine, thirty to fifty dollars, or imprisonment, thirty to sixty days (R. S. 28).

New Hampshire. In New Hampshire, sales of dangerous drugs must be recorded.

Vermont. In Vermont, druggists must keep an account of the sale of poisonous drugs and of any anæsthetic agents. Giving an anæsthetic by inhalation or otherwise, for the purpose of committing any crime against the person or property of any citizen, renders one liable to imprisonment for not less than three years or for life (G. S. 118, § 6).

Rhode Island. In Rhode Island, no person, unless a registered pharmacist or registered assistant pharmacist, or one acting under the supervision of such, can retail, compound, or dispense medicines or poisons. This provision does not, however, apply to physicians who do not keep open shop for the sale of medicines, or prevent them from administering or supplying to their patients such medicines as they deem best. Sale of poisons must be recorded and distinctly marked.

QUARANTINE.

Massachusetts. In Massachusetts, towns may establish quarantine grounds; two or more towns may join (P. S. 80, §§ 62–69).

Maine. In Maine, municipal officers of seaport cities and towns are authorized to make similar arrangements (R. S. 14, §§ 17–25).

New Hampshire. In New Hampshire (G. S. 103, §§ 1–14).

REGISTRY AND RETURN OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

In Massachusetts, physicians must furnish certificates of death when requested within fifteen days. Penalty of ten dollars (P. S. 32, § 3). In cities and towns, except Boston, physicians are required to report a list of all children born therein, at the birth of which they were present, with a penalty for non-performance of twenty dollars (P. S. 32, §§ 7–9). In New Hampshire, physicians are required to make return of births and deaths annually before the fifteenth of April in each year, for which a fee is paid (G. S. 162, § 3). In Vermont, a physician who has been in attendance upon any person is required to leave a certificate of the cause of death with the town clerk within fifteen days after the interment of such person, under a fine for neglect of three dollars (G. S. 17, § 7). In Rhode Island, the physician must make out a certificate within forty-eight hours of the death of a person (G. S. 77, § 6). In Connecticut, physicians and midwives are required to furnish certificates of births within the first week of the month after said birth, and physicians are required to give certificates of death during the first week of the next month following such death (G. S. 3, § 3).

Rhode Island.

Connecticut.

VACCINATION.

In Massachusetts, children must be vaccinated before age of two and revaccinated when required. Penalty for every year's neglect five dollars. Towns are required to furnish the means of vaccination to such of their inhabitants as are unable to pay for the same (P. S. 80, §§ 51–53). In Maine, a town may provide for the vaccination of the inhabitants, and raise money to defray the expenses of the same. Inoculation with small-pox is forbidden under penalty of one hundred dollars for each offence (R. S. 14, §§ 31, 35). In New Hampshire, any town may appoint an agent for vaccination, who may vaccinate all persons at the expense of the town. Inoculation with small-pox is liable to a fine of one hundred and fifty dollars (G. S. 102, §§ 1–6). In Vermont, town officers may require vaccination in case of the presence and threatened spread of small-pox (G. S. 99, § 1). The town councils in Rhode Island are obliged to provide public vaccination at the expense of said towns (G. S. 74, §§ 25–27). In Connecticut, boards of health may compel vaccination of the inhabitants of their several towns (G. S. 16, §§ 17, 18).

Training-Schools for Nurses.

The training of women desirous of becoming professional nurses, is carried on in schools connected with many of the hospitals of New England. The plans and methods therein adopted are substantially the same in all; a résumé of such plans is given immediately following, in which most of the points on which information is desired are given. Essential points of divergence are noted in the list of schools which follows.

The course of training and practice for nurses generally requires two years, and includes general medical and surgical nursing, together with ophthalmic, aural, and gynecological nursing, and also the nursing of contagious diseases. Maternity nursing is theoretically taught.

The most desirable age for candidates is from twenty-three to thirty-five years. They must be of sound health, and should send with their application a certificate from a physician, certifying to the fact. They should also send a brief personal history, and give the names and addresses of responsible persons not of their own kin who know of their good character and capabilities. Candidates are generally received for one or two months on probation.

The Superintendent of Nurses has the immediate charge of the Training-School, under the authority of the Superintendent of the Hospital and of the Trustees, and the nurses are subject to the rules of the Hospital, like any other service.

Their fitness for the work, and the propriety of retaining or dismissing them at the end of the month of trial, is determined by the resident Physician of the hospital and the Superintendent and Directors of the school; and the same authorities can also discharge them at any time, in case of misconduct or inefficiency. They serve as assistant nurses in the wards of the hospital.

Those fulfilling the conditions of the probationary period are accepted as pupils. They must sign a written agreement to remain at the school for a definite period, and after that time to maintain, as paid nurses, a connection with the school for an additional year, in consideration of training received.

All nurses are required to be sober, honest, truthful, trustworthy, punctual, quiet, orderly, cleanly, neat, patient, kind, and cheerful.

The instruction includes the general care of the sick, the making of beds, changing bed and body linen, management of helpless patients in bed, etc.; giving baths, keeping patients warm or cool; prevention and dressing of bedsores, and proper management of the patient under various conditions, with different diseases or injuries; the making and applying of bandages and rollers, preparation of splints, application and management of surgical apparatus; applying fomentations and poultices; the dressing of burns, ulcers, and wounds, and other minor dressings, cupping, leeching, and subsequent treatment; the administering of enemas and use of the female catheter.

Nurses are taught how to act in the various emergencies occurring in hospital and private nursing, as well as in the accidents of ordinary life. They are also given lessons in elementary massage and the application of friction to the body and limbs in the best method. There is a systematic course of training in cookery for the sick, the serving of food and delicacies in the proper manner, and the feeding of helpless patients, or those who resist food.

Instruction is also given in the best practical methods of supplying fresh air, of warming and ventilating sick-rooms in a proper manner, and the proper care of sick-rooms for the best good and comfort of the patient; in keeping all utensils and appliances perfectly clean and disinfected; in making accurate observations of the pulse, temperature, respiration, expectorations, the secretions, state of the skin and eruptions; of mental condition as to delirium, stupor, shock, etc.; of the condition as to sleep, appetite, effects of diet or of stimulants and medicines; the behavior of wounds, and the after-treatment in surgical operations; and in the managing of convalescents. Nurses are taught the administering of medicines, and the application of external remedies, how to take notes on cases, the making up of the nurse's record, and the reports to the attending doctor.

The course of training includes a fixed course of instruction during the two years from manuals and text-books, mainly given by the Superintendent of Nurses. Lectures and demonstrations, chiefly upon practical points, are given at stated times by the medical and surgical staff of the Hospital. While the instruction by the manuals, text-books, lectures, demonstrations, quizzes, and models is considerable, the main reliance is upon accurate daily drill in the wards, operating-rooms, and other departments of the Hospital. Examinations, both written and oral, are held from time to time by the authorities of the school and by the Hospital staff, and nurses cannot pass to graduation unless attaining, on critical marking, a certain per cent.

Probationers are not paid during their first month, but for the remaining months of their pupilage they receive sufficient to pay for the expenses of their uniform, personal clothing, and other minor requirements. This sum is in no wise intended as wages, it being considered that their education during this time is a full equivalent for their services. When the full term of two years is completed the nurses receive, if they pass all the examinations and are otherwise satisfactory, a diploma certifying to the regular course of training and practice.

The majority of graduates engage in private nursing, but some are invited to remain in the service of the Hospital as head nurses. Such graduate head nurses as prefer to remain in hospital-work are given post-graduate instructions in ward management, hospital house-keeping, and minor administration.

The school year has no fixed date, but accepted candidates may enter at any time as vacancies occur. They are, as a rule, received in the order of acceptance, but those desiring to enter with less delay can generally anticipate a fixed date by placing themselves on the emergency list. When coming to the Hospital they should bring with them the following articles: Two or three gingham or calico dresses, made plainly; six large white aprons, made of bleached cotton, with bibs, plain at the top and gathered slightly at the bottom; two bags for soiled clothes; one pair of scissors, a pin-ball, and a napkin-ring; a good supply of plain underclothing — every article to be distinctly marked with the owner's name.

Nurses must bring suitable outer-garments for all kinds of weather, and they are required to wear broad-toed and flat-heeled boots. If the teeth are out of order in any way, they must receive attention before coming for the probationary month. Nurses are required to wear the training-school uniform after they join the school. Material for dresses will be sold at cost price; caps are furnished free of charge.

Hours of duty for day nurses are from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.; for night nurses from 8 P. M. to 7 A. M. No nurse is required to do both day and night duty on the same day, except in rare emergencies. Each nurse on day duty is allowed one hour after 2 o'clock P. M., for rest and recreation, one-half day after 2 o'clock P. M. each week, and four hours on Sunday. Two weeks' vacation is allowed each year. If nurses are sick they are cared for in the Hospital, but wages are stopped. Nurses on night duty are required to be in bed until 4 P. M. Nurses may be called upon for four months' night duty during the two years' training.

Directory for Nurses.

Medical Library, 19 Boylston Place, Boston, Mass. (Tele.)

The Directory was established November 24, 1879. It has the names of seven hundred and thirty-five nurses on its list, and is able to meet all cases promptly at a great saving of time and expense to those requiring nurses.

A record is kept of the names and addresses of nurses, their present and future engagements, prices, the particular kind of nursing for which they are best fitted, and other details likely to be of service to those wishing to secure the service of a nurse for illness of any kind.

Prices of nurses. Trained Hospital nurses from $15 to $21 per week. Experienced nurses from $10 to $15 per week. Male nurses, first-class, $21 to $35 per week. Second-class, $15 to $18 per week.

Male and female nurses may be obtained for all cases at any hour of the day or night. Fee for furnishing information as to disengaged nurses, from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., $1.00; from 8 P. M. to 8 A. M., $2.00. An extra charge will be made in cases requiring unusual labor or responsibility, as when nurses are found and sent in answer to applications by letter, telegram, telephone, etc.

It is earnestly requested that any failure to find a nurse will be promptly reported to the Directory.

Any failure on the part of the nurse to fulfil an engagement should also be similarly reported.

The following suggestions are made in the interest both of the patient and of the nurse: —

In case of absence of a nurse, all messages should be left accurately in writing to insure prompt attention. Never trust merely to the memory of the person answering your call.

The price for service of the nurse, and in confinement cases the definite date at which the engagement is to begin and end, should be agreed upon in writing when the engagement is made.

Travelling expenses should be paid by the patient, and the nurse's washing be done.

A nurse should have sufficient sleep (if possible a continuous time), an hour for exercise in the fresh air every day, and facilities for bathing at suitable intervals.

A lunch or an early meal should be provided for the nurse, if required to sit up at night.

Fee Table — Boston (City Proper).

For each visit, either medical, surgical, or obstetrical, in cases of regular attendance, $3.00. For the first visit in a new case, it shall be considered proper to make a charge of from three to five dollars, and a similar charge should be made in cases in which but a single visit is required. In cases also of extraordinary service, detention, or attendance, or when, for any reason, the case is one of unusual importance or responsibility, the charge should be proportionally increased; and the duty to make such increased charge shall be considered obligatory upon the practitioner.

For a visit in consultation, from $10.00 to $20.00. In case of a consultation, the attending physician may also charge the usual consultation fee instead of the fee for an ordinary visit. For each subsequent visit in consultation, where the attendance is continuous, the fee may be from $3.00 to 5.00.

For a visit after 9 P.M. and before 8 A.M., from $5.00 to $10.00.

In cases of consultation or other extraordinary attendance in the night, the fee for such extra attendance shall be added to that for a night visit.

For attendance involving travel out of town, $10.00 per hour.

For advice at the physician's house, according to the importance of the case, unseasonableness of the hour, or time occupied, from $3.00 to $20.00.

For a letter of advice, according to the importance of the case or the time occupied, from $10.00 to $20.00.

For an opinion involving a question of law in which the physician may be subpœnaed, $50.00. The above charge shall also be allowed in cases in which the physician is subpœnaed in consequence of an opinion obtained under any other pretext, but which is afterward sought to be introduced as evidence in a suit or action. Also for attendance in court as an expert. In case of an opinion involving special study or experimental investigation, such additional service shall be charged in proportion to the time and labor expended. In case of detention in court as an expert, or in a matter involving a professional opinion, for each day's attendance after the first, the fee shall be $50.00.

For a written certificate of health or cause of death in cases of life insurance, $5.00 to $10.00.

For a post-mortem examination in a case of legal investigation, $50.00.

For post-mortem examination made at the request of the family or relations of the deceased, $20.00.

For vaccine inoculation, $5.00.

MIDWIFERY.

For attendance during labor $30.00 to $50.00. For attendance during tedious labor, it shall be considered obligatory to make such additional charge as, in the discretion of the practitioner, the extraordinary detention or service shall seem to demand.

Obstetric operations, when necessary, shall be charged in addition to the usual fee for attendance.

In obstetrical practice, all subsequent visits shall be charged as in cases of ordinary attendance.

In cases of labor when the child is born, but not the placenta, before the arrival of the accoucheur, the whole fee is to be charged. When both the child and placenta are born before the arrival of the accoucheur, half or the whole fee may be charged, according to circumstances. This rule is intended to apply to cases in which the services of the accoucheur have been previously engaged, and in which the delay does not arise from his fault.

If, in any case of labor, a second physician is called in consultation, and subsequently detained in joint attendance, both attending and consulting physicians shall be entitled to the full fee for attendance, and also to such additional amount as may be deemed proper in view of the importance of the case, the unseasonableness of the hour, or any extraordinary detention, or service rendered.

OPERATIVE SURGERY.

For capital operations, or operations of unusual difficulty, such as amputations of large limbs, ligation of large arteries, operations for stone in the bladder, removal of breasts or of other large tumors, operations for cataract, for strangulated hernia, for vesico-vaginal fistula, for cleft palate, etc., $100.00 to $500.00, according to the importance of the case and the pecuniary circumstances of the patient.

For operations of secondary importance or difficulty, such as operations for fistula in ano, for hare-lip, for the radical cure of hydrocele, tapping and injection of ovarian cysts, reduction of dislocations or fractures of large bones, amputation of fingers or toes, tracheotomy, removal of small tumors not involving important organs, passing catheter in cases of obstruction, ligature of arteries of secondary size, etc., $25.00 to $100.00.

For minor operations, such as excision of tonsils, removal of nasal polypi, tapping for hydrocele or for ascites, opening abscesses, catheterism, stitching recent wounds, cupping, passing setons, excision of wens, etc., $5.00 to $25.00.

After surgical operations, all subsequent visits shall be charged as in ordinary cases of attendance.

It is not designed by these regulations to prevent the members of this association from rendering their services gratuitously to persons who are incapable of remunerating them without distressing themselves or their families; and in every case, in settling his account, the practitioner may make any deduction which he conscientiously believes that the circumstances of the patient render necessary.

No member of this association shall omit charging any necessary visits made on the same day, on account of their number.

No member of this association shall make a previous contract with any family for a definite sum, as a remuneration for his annual attendance on that family.

Those physicians of the adjoining towns who are members of the Massachusetts Medical Society, or have been licensed by it, shall be requested to conform, in their charges to the fee-bill of this association, whenever they attend patients in the city.

Physicians called to visit other physicians, or their families, living at a distance from Boston, shall be entitled to charge one half the usual fees.

The Army Medical Museum.

Corner Seventh and B Streets, Washington, D. C.

The museum was founded, and a large portion of the medical and surgical specimens collected during the War of the Rebellion. Additions are continually being made by medical officers of the army at the several military posts and by physicians in private practice. It is richer in specimens illustrating the results of gunshot wounds and of the surgical operations which they necessitate than any other collection in the world, and contains 30,000 specimens. The collection is open to visitors daily from 9 to 4.

Museum of Hygiene, U. S. Navy.

18th and D Streets, Washington, D. C.

Organized under the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, U. S. N., and recognized by Act of Congress, June 30, 1883. The plan comprehends a collection which shall be illustrative of the entire range of sanitary science, the establishment of a course of lectures by authoritative sanitarians from all sections of the country, and a library of sanitary science accessible, under proper restrictions and guarantees, to all who are engaged in the study of this branch of knowledge.

It is intended that it shall exhibit the present state and future progress of the nation in all departments of hygiene, and, to carry out this important scheme, the co-operation of physicians, engineers, architects, builders, manufacturers, inventors, and others interested in sanitary matters is not only desirable, but indispensable.

Contributions of articles, appliances, models, drawings, etc., illustrating improvements in food, water-supply, bedding, clothing, marine architecture, house and hospital construction and furniture; apparatus for heating, illuminating, ventilation, and removal of excreta and refuse; culinary, laundry, and bath facilities; appliances for physical culture and exercise; and whatever else tends to the preservation of health, and the prevention of disease, are therefore solicited.

Contributions of materials and books should be sent to the address of the Surgeon-General of the Navy. Donors and depositors will, in every case, be duly credited on the descriptive labels of their exhibits. The cost of the transportation of articles contributed will be paid by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

The Library has over 5,000 bound volumes of foreign and domestic works of reference, etc., and constant additions are being made. It is intended to make this one of the most complete departments of the Museum. Attached to the library is a reading-room, with at present 115 periodical publications devoted to hygiene, science, and medicine.

T. J. Turner, M.D., Medical Director, U. S. N., in charge.

Warren Museum.

Medical College, Boylston Street, Boston, Mass

The nucleus of this collection was formed by Dr. John C. Warren, who presented his collection to Harvard College, with five thousand dollars for its proper preservation, for the purpose of illustrating the lectures at the Medical School. The preparations were mostly the result of his own labors for forty or fifty years, with those of his friends and pupils. Among those engaged in making preparations for it were Drs. Gamage, Edward Warren, Jeffries Wyman, George Parkman, Samuel Parkman, and Winslow Lewis.

Anatomical preparations were given to Dr. Warren, from time to time, by Drs. James Jackson, John Gorham, J. B. S. Jackson, and others. Many specimens were added to it, both surgical and anatomical, by Dr. J. M. Warren, who, during his visits to Europe, made a large collection of morbid bones and of the anatomical preparations of Auzoux.

Since the collection came into the possession of the college, in 1847, it has been largely increased by gifts from various members of the profession, and by the constant labors of its late curator, Dr. J. B. S. Jackson. A detailed catalogue of the specimens in the Museum has been published.[1]

The Museum has received, since its removal to its present fire-proof receptacle, the collection of the late Dr. J. Mason Warren, consisting of crania and anatomical and physical preparations. The cabinet of the Boston Society for Medical Improvement, presented some time since as the Jackson Cabinet, has also been added. This Museum contains probably the finest general medical collection in America.

The Museum of the college also contains the Model Museum of Dermatology and Syphilography, established by Dr. Edward Wigglesworth, and by him given to the college. It is composed of models of diseases of the skin, each model being made from a cast taken directly from the patient, and subsequently colored at the bedside. The models were made by the celebrated French artist Baretta, modeller to the hospitals of Paris, and with him the composition and method of staining employed remain a secret.

The Museum comprises all the best specimens of the Museum of the St. Louis Hospital, as well as of the private collection of M. Baretta, and is the first collection of these models brought to America. It contains about 200 specimens, and ranks in point of numbers second only to the collection of St. Louis. M. Baretta has given special attention to this Museum, and he offers it in America as a specimen of his powers, by which he is willing to be judged.

The Warren Museum may be inspected by any person on making application at the college.

Warren Museum of Natural History.

82 Chestnut Street, Boston, Mass.

Incorporated by the Legislature, February 19, 1858. The collections contained in this building have for their nucleus the skeleton of the great mastodon — the only perfect specimen in existence — which was discovered in 1845, near the Hudson River at Newburgh, and purchased in 1846 by Dr. John C. Warren. Dr. Warren, knowing that all collections were, sooner or later, destroyed by fire, in 1849 erected the present fire-proof building for the preservation of this specimen and for his other valuable collections in natural history.

The lower hall of the building contains the skeleton of the mastodon. At the side of it, and for the purpose of comparison, is that of the elephant "Pizarro," one of the largest elephants ever brought to this country, together with that of a horse. The room also contains one or two skeletons of the mastodon which have not been articulated, and a great number of the heads and teeth of animals at different periods of life. There are also the head of a whale, and casts of heads of various animals from the British Museum, among which are those of fossil heads of elephants from the Himalaya Mountains. Around the room is arranged a specimen of the fossil skeleton of the Zeuglodon Cetoides, sixty feet long.

In the hall are slabs containing the fossil impressions of gigantic birds and of other large animals. The story above contains specimens of the Ornithorhynchus paradoxus, and casts of the egg of the gigantic birds, Epyornis and Dinornis, from New Zealand and New Holland, and many other objects of interest. The Museum can be visited by making application to Dr. J. Collins Warren, 58 Beacon Street, or Dr. Thomas Dwight, 235 Beacon Street.

Medical Libraries.

LIBRARY OF THE SURGEON-GENERAL'S OFFICE, U. S. A.

The Library of the Surgeon-General's Office occupies a wing of the new building on the corner of Seventh and B streets, S. W., which was completed in 1887, contains about 98,000 volumes, properly so called, and 150,000 pamphlets. Many of these books are rare, and the whole is the best working Medical Library in the world, especially when taken in connection with the "Index Catalogue of Authors and Subjects," ten volumes of which have now appeared. An effort is made to obtain every medical periodical in the world for this library, and these are indexed as fast as received. The results of this indexing appear every month in the "Index Medicus," published by Mr. George S. Davis, Detroit, Michigan.

Books are loaned from this Library to other libraries which have buildings of their own, and will be responsible for them, and also to physicians who deposit with the Librarian a sum sufficient to replace the books if lost or injured. Rare books, or volumes of periodicals which could only be replaced with great difficulty, are not so loaned, however. In all cases of loan, the books must be sent and returned by express (not by mail) at the expense of the borrower.

LIBRARY OF THE MUSEUM OF HYGIENE, U. S. N.

PUBLIC LIBRARY, BOSTON.

Boylston Street, near Tremont. 538,257 volumes, of which over 13,500 are medical; 395,223 are in the building in Boylston Street, and the remainder in the branches, in the other portions of the city. The Library can be consulted by any person making application. Books can be taken from the Library by any inhabitant (a limited stay in the city constitutes one such) on presentation of his library card. The card is given on application at the Library.

BOSTON ATHENÆUM.

Beacon Street, near Park. 170,000 volumes, 4,500 of which are medical. The privileges of this private library can be enjoyed through friends who may be stockholders.

LIBRARY OF THE MASSACHUSETTS MEDICAL COLLEGE.

A large library of standard books of reference and recent authorities is open to members of the medical class on the deposit of $5.00, to be returned when they shall cease to use the Library, and return all books loaned to them. The library room is open daily.

BOSTON MEDICAL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

Organized in August, 1875, and incorporated in 1877. The objects of this association are to maintain a library of medical and scientific books, journals, and pamphlets for ready reference; to render the current medical literature accessible to physicians generally; and to establish a place of resort for professional men.

All members of the Massachusetts Medical Society, Massachusetts Dental Society, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, and such other persons as may be approved by the Committee on Admission shall be eligible to admission into the Association.

The annual meeting is held on the first Tuesday in October. One-tenth of the whole number of members constitutes a quorum.

The association owns and occupies the building No. 19 Boylston Place (Tele.), which is open to members on any week-day, except legal holidays from half-past nine A. M. to six P. M., and on Tuesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 10 o'clock. It has a hall, capable of holding 200 persons, library, and committee and other rooms. These rooms are used by all the medical societies in the city. The library contains over 21,000 volumes and 18,000 pamphlets.

In the rooms of the association have been deposited the libraries of the Society for Medical Observation, the Society for Medical Improvement, the Gynecological Society of Boston, and the Boston Dispensary.

It receives regularly over 200 American and foreign medical and scientific journals. It has complete files of all the important journals that have appeared during the century.

Exchanges of books are made from its large number of duplicates.

The rooms of the association offer every advantage for reading, reference, rest, and the meeting of members for professional or social intercourse, and are freely offered to visitors not resident in the city. The Registry for Nurses, conducted by a committee of the Medical Library Association, is described elsewhere.

THE TREADWELL LIBRARY.

At the Massachusetts General Hospital, Blossom Street, Boston, 5,000 volumes. This collection was the gift to the Hospital of the late Dr. Treadwell, of Salem. It is for the use of the officers of the Hospital, and may be consulted by others by special favor.

ESSEX SOUTH DISTRICT (MASS.) MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The Library of the Essex South District Medical Society contains 2,500 bound volumes, and 700 magazines and monographs. Many of the books were given by Dr. E. A. Holyoke of Salem, and other members now deceased.

The Library is deposited in Plummer Hall, Salem; members of the Society are entitled to take out books.

CITY LIBRARY, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

The Medical Department of the Library contains 1,250 volumes, including bound volumes of medical periodicals.

THURBER MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, MILFORD, MASS.

The Association has a library of upwards of 200 volumes, and a fund of $600, the income of which is applied for the purchase of medical books.

WORCESTER DISTRICT (MASS.) MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Public Library Building, Worcester. 6,464 volumes, increased each year by the income derived from the Waldo and Wilder funds. The library is especially rich in recent works. The united funds amount to nearly $7,600.

WORCESTER NORTH DISTRICT (MASS.) MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The Society is in possession of a library of 400 volumes, from which books may be taken by members.

LIBRARY OF THE MEDICAL SCHOOL OF MAINE,

Brunswick, Me., contains about 4,000 volumes, principally modern works, and is annually increasing. It embraces the works of all authors of standard authority, and an extensive and valuable collection of plates.

LIBRARY OF THE RHODE ISLAND MEDICAL SOCIETY,

54 North Street, Providence, R. I., contains about 7,300 bound volumes, and a large number of pamphlets. It receives regularly one hundred periodicals, and has complete files of nearly all the medical journals which have been published in English. Open daily from 12 to 6 P. M.

Librarian. — G. D. Hersey, M.D.

Prizes.

The following prizes are offered for universal competition by physicians and medical students: —

BOLYSTON MEDICAL PRIZE.

The Boylston Medical Committee, appointed by the President and Fellows of Harvard University, consists of the following physicians: —

R. T. Edes, M.D.
S. G. Webber, M.D.
H. P. Bowditch, M.D.
F. W. Draper, M.D.
J. C. Warren, M.D.
E. S. Wood, M.D.
W. F. Whitney, M.D., Secretary, Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.
F. H. Williams, M.D.

For 1891, two prizes are offered: —

1. A prize of two hundred dollars for the best dissertation on The results of Original Work in Anatomy, Physiology, or Pathology. The subject to be chosen by the writer.

2. A prize of one hundred dollars for the best dissertation on The characteristic Appearance of Lesions produced by Weapons, and the differential Diagnosis of their Production on the living and dead human Body. A study in legal medicine.

For 1892, two prizes are offered: —

1. A prize of two hundred dollars for the best dissertation on The results of Original Work in Anatomy, Physiology, or Pathology. The subject to be chosen by the writer.

2. A prize of one hundred dollars for the best dissertation on The Aetiology of Hospital Gangrene.

In awarding these prizes preference will be given to dissertations which exhibit original work, but if no dissertation is considered worthy of a prize, the award may be withheld. They must be written in a distinct and plain hand, and their pages bound in book form. A sealed envelope, containing the name of the author must accompany each dissertation. They should be sent to the Secretary of the committee before April 1 of the year in which they are offered. Any clew by which the authorship of a dissertation is made known to the committee will debar such dissertation from competition.

Unsuccessful dissertations may be reclaimed any time within a year.

BOYLSTON MEDICAL SOCIETY PRIZES.

In accordance with the will of the founder of the Society, Dr. Ward Nicholas Boylston, the sum of twenty-five dollars is appropriated annually, to be given in two prizes, of fifteen and ten dollars respectively, to the author or authors of the most approved dissertation, considered worthy, on medical subjects to be selected by the author. The prize is open only to active members of the Society. The fund is cared for by a board of seven trustees, practising physicians in the Commonwealth, selected by the Society; the prize is awarded by a committee of five physicians, also chosen by the Society. The names of the trustees and of the committee for the present year are given on a previous page.

Dissertations must be placed in the hands of the President of the Society on or before the 1st of January, together with a sealed envelope containing name and address of the author. The decision of the committee is announced at the last meeting of the Society in February.

THE WARREN PRIZE.

The Warren Prize was established by the will of Dr. J. Mason Warren, who gave the sum of $2000 as a fund for a prize, to be called the Warren Prize, in memory of his father, Dr. John C. Warren, the accumulated interest of which every three years is awarded for the best dissertation considered worthy of a premium, on some subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy. The arbitrators are the Medical Board of the Massachusetts General Hospital. In case no dissertation is thought worthy of a premium the interest is added to the original fund and the amount of the premium increased. A prize of five hundred dollars is offered for 1892 and every third year subsequently. A high value will be placed on original work.

Each essay should be accompanied by a sealed envelope, containing the author's name and address, and be sent to the Resident Physician of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, on or before February 1, 1892.

SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRIZES.

Medals will be given to those students who upon graduating, and after special examination, show the greatest proficiency in the subjects of Anatomy, and Horse and Cattle Pathology; and to the student who shall pass the best general examination (including a special one in practical matters). Medals will also be given for special excellence in dissection.

UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT PRIZES.

Open to competition by students of the Graduating Class. The Faculty have established two prizes for general proficiency in examination, — a first prize of fifty dollars, and a second prize of twenty-five dollars. These prizes will hereafter be awarded as follows: —

The ten students who pass the best examinations for their degree will be allowed to compete in a written examination for the prizes; of this number the five who pass most perfectly shall be called Honor Men, and will each receive a Special Diploma of Honor and of these last, those who are deemed worthy shall receive respectively the first and second prize.

FISKE MEDICAL PRIZE.

The late Dr. Caleb Fiske, formerly President of the Rhode Island Medical Society, bequeathed in his last will, for the benefit of the Society, the sum of two thousand dollars, directing the proceeds to be applied to the payment of premiums for prize dissertations.

The trustees of the Fiske Fund propose the subjects each year, which can be learned by correspondence with the Secretary.

For the best essay on either of these subjects, worthy of a premium, the Trustees will pay two hundred dollars.

Every competitor for a premium is expected to conform to the following regulations, namely: —

To forward to the Secretary of the Trustees, on or before May 1, free of all expense, a copy of his dissertation, with a motto written thereupon, and also accompanying it a sealed packet, having the same motto inscribed upon the outside, and his name and place of residence within.

Previously to receiving the premium awarded, the author of the successful dissertation must transfer to the Trustees all his right, title, and interest in and to the same, for the use, benefit, and behoof of the Fiske Fund.

Letters accompanying the unsuccessful dissertations will be destroyed by the Trustees unopened, and the dissertations may be procured by their respective authors, if application be made therefor within three months.

Trustees. — Horace G. Miller, M.D., Providence; Albert Potter, M.D., Chepachet; John W. Mitchell, M.D., Providence; George L. Collins, M.D., Providence, Secretary.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT OF YALE UNIVERSITY PRIZES.

The income of the "Keese Prize Fund," amounting to about one hundred and forty-five dollars annually, is awarded by the faculty of Yale College to that member of the Graduating Class who presents the best thesis. If, among the theses offered, none are of sufficient merit, the prize may be withheld for that year. The theses must be presented to the Dean on the second Saturday before Commencement. A prize, consisting of a set of obstetrical instruments, will be awarded that member of the graduating class who passes the best examination in obstetrics. The Campbell gold medal is awarded to the member of the graduating class who secures the highest rank in the examination of the course.

ORTON PRIZE.

Offered by J. G. Orton, M.D., ex-President of the New York State Medical Association for the best short popular essay on some subject connected with practical sanitation.

Essays to be sent to E. D. Ferguson, M.D., Troy, N. Y., not later than August 1, 1891.

S. D. GROSS PRIZE.

Open to American citizens every fifth year for original essays, of not more than one hundred and fifty pages, on subjects in Pathology or surgical practice.

Essays may be sent before June 1, 1893, to J. Ewing Mears, M D., 1429 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

BOSTON DENTAL COLLEGE PRIZES.

A College Prize is awarded to the student passing the best examination in studies of the Senior year.

A second College Prize is awarded to the student passing the best examination in the studies of the Junior year.

A Prize is offered by Messrs. Hood & Reynolds to be awarded by the faculty to the student who shall have attained the highest average in all the studies of his entire course.

The Professors of Pathology, Chemistry, and Therapeutics offer prizes to the students passing the best examinations in their branches.

EBERT PRIZE.

The income of five hundred dollars is given annually by the American Pharmaceutical Society as a Prize for the best essay, written by a member, containing original investigations of a medical substance determining new properties, or containing other meritorious contributions to knowledge. The fund for this prize was given to the Association in 1873, by A. E. Ebert, of Chicago.

EXPLANATION OF THE ALPHABETICAL AND LOCAL LISTS.

It is intended that these lists shall contain the names of all members of the State Medical Societies in New England, living within those States, both active and retired, so far as they can be ascertained. Those members who, in the official catalogue, are referred to certain towns in which they have last resided, but who are known not to be there at the present time, are, as a rule, omitted.

In the Alphabetical List, in the societies of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island, the date, following the residence, is that of admission to the Society. The figures following the date denote the office hours. The date of academic and professional degrees, membership in societies, official positions held, authorship of books and articles, are given in succession. Except the date and source of the academic and the medical degrees, however, no facts are given other than those authorized by the members themselves. This statement will explain the frequent omission of important data.

In Massachusetts and New Hampshire the dagger (†) marks retired members, who still live within the State; and in Connecticut, those who have reached the age of sixty. Want of space prevents the publication of more than three periodical articles.

In the local lists the date of incorporation follows the name of the town and county. The succeeding figures indicate the population as given in the latest census. The name of the post-office is given in brackets, when not fully indicated by the name of the town.

Under the head of Boston (Suffolk County), Mass., are included all those living in the city, as at present constituted; though residents of portions formerly known as Roxbury, Dorchester, and West Roxbury, are still considered by the Society as belonging to the Norfolk District Society, and those in Charlestown and Brighton to the Middlesex South District Society.

ABSOLUTELY PURE MILK SUGAR.

The crude sugar is produced chiefly in the Alpine districts of the cantons Luzerne, Berne, and Schwys, in Switzerland, considerable quantities also being produced in the Gruyère. It is made by simply evaporating whey remaining from the preparation of cheese, and is then delivered to the refiners in the little mountain village of Marbach. The crude sugar is first washed and is then dissolved to saturation over the fire in kettles, strained into tubs or oblong tanks, in which it is allowed to crystalize on pieces of rope or small rods of wood introduced for the purpose. The process of crystallization is ended in from ten to twelve days, after which the sugar is washed, thoroughly dried, and packed in barrels. For medicinal use and for infants' food, the sugar obtained by the proces described is purified, whitened, and furnished to the trade in powders of different degrees of fineness. We are prepared to furnish an absolutely pure and white powder, suitable for use in triturations, powders, and Infants' Foods. Put up in one-pound glass bottles, carefully stoppered and labelled. Price, per bottle, 65 cents.

LORENZ REICH,

DIRECT IMPORTER OF THE CHOICEST AND PUREST

HUNGARIAN WINES

EVER BROUGHT TO THIS COUNTRY.

STRICTLY FOR MEDICINAL USE.

The Cambridge, 334 Fifth Avenue,

NEW YORK.

This is to certify that I have examined Mr L. REICH'S TOKAYER AUSBRUCH, TOKAYER MASLAS, and BUDAI IMP. I take great pleasure in commending these Wines to the Medical Profession, because of their purity.

R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M.D., LL.D.

It is said that the man who makes a blade of grass grow where none grew before is a benefactor of his race, and so in a similar manner may we regard a man who furnishes a pure wine for sick people. To sell adulterated wine should be punished as a crime. Your Hungarian Wines are eminently wholesome, they are always pure and reliable and therefore worthy of confidence. They are pleasant to the taste, agree well with the stomach, and are free from injurious qualities,—in short, everything that could be desired. We cordially recommend Mr. Reich and his Wines to all professional brethren.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, MASS.

Every candidate for admission not holding a degree in arts or science must pass a written examination on entrance to this School, in English, Latin, Physics, and any one of the following subjects: French, German, Elements of Algebra or Plane Geometry, Botany. The admission examinations in June are held at Boston, Exeter, Andover, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and San Francisco; on September 21, at Boston only.

Instruction is given by lectures, recitations, clinical teaching, and practical exercises, distributed throughout the academic year. In the subjects of Anatomy, Histology, Chemistry, and Pathological Anatomy, laboratory work is largely substituted for, or added to, the usual methods of instruction. The year begins on Thursday following the last Wednesday in September, and ends on the last Wednesday in June, and is divided into two equal terms.

Students are divided into four classes, according to their time of study and proficiency, and during their last year will receive largely increased opportunities for instruction in the special branches mentioned. Students who began their professional studies elsewhere may be admitted to advanced standing; but all persons who apply for admission to the advanced classes must pass an examination in the branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission.

Although the course of study recommended by the Faculty covers four years, until further notice the degree of Doctor of Medicine will continue to be given upon the completion of three years of study, to be as ample and full as heretofore. The degree of Doctor of Medicine cum laude will be given to candidates who have pursued a complete four years' course, and obtained an average of 75 per cent upon all the examinations of this course. In addition to the ordinary degree of Doctor of Medicine as hitherto obtained, a certificate of attendence on the studies of the fourth year will be given to such students desiring it as shall have attended the course, and have passed a satisfactory examination in the studies of the same.

ORDER OF STUDIES. — FOUR YEARS' COURSE.

FOR THE FIRST YEAR. — Anatomy, Physiology, General Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Medical Chemistry during the 2d half-year.

FOR THE SECOND YEAR. — Practical Topographical Anatomy, Medical Chemistry during the 1st half-year. Pathological Anatomy, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, and Clinical Surgery, and Therapeutics.

FOR THE THIRD YEAR. — Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, and Clinical Surgery.

THREE YEARS' COURSE.

FOR THE FIRST YEAR. — Anatomy, Physiology, General Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Medical Chemistry during the 2d half-year.

FOR THE SECOND YEAR. — Practical and Topographical Anatomy, Medical Chemistry during the 1st half-year. Pathological Anatomy, Clinical Medicine, Clinical Surgery and Therapeutics.

FOR THE THIRD YEAR. — Obsterics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, Clinical Surgery, Ophthalmology, Dermatology, Syphilis, Otology, Laryngology, Mental Diseases, Diseases of the Nervous System, Diseases of Women, Diseases of Children, Legal Medicine.

COURSES FOR GRADUATES AND SUMMER COURSES.

The Faculty has arranged a greatly enlarged and improved Plan of Instruction for Graduates, embracing all the branches of Practical and Scientific Medicine, in which graduates of medical schools may feel the need of advanced or special training. It is designed to supply those opportunities for clinical and laboratory study which have hitherto been sought in Europe, and by means of repeated short courses to limited numbers, to give the practitioner the advantages to be derived from personal instruction in the following subjects: Anatomy, Physiology, Histology, Medical Chemistry, Pathological Anatomy, Clinical Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics, Gynecology, Dermatology, Syphilis, Ophthalmology, Otology, Laryngology and Rhinology, Neurology, Mental Diseases, Diseases of Children, Legal Medicine, Hygiene, and Bacteriology. For full announcement of these courses, address Dr. C. P. WORCESTER, Sec'y, Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A DEGREE. — Every candidate must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine three or four full years, have spent at least one continuous year at this school, have passed a written examination upon all the prescribed studies of the course taken.

FEES. — Matriculation, $5; for the year, $200; for one term alone, $120; for Graduation, $30. For Graduates' Course, the fee for one year is $200; for one term, $120; and for single courses such fees as are specified in the Catalogue. Payment in advance, or, if a bond is filed, at the end of the term.

Students in regular standing in any one department of Harvard University are admitted free to the lectures, recitations, and examinations of other departments.

"ANTACIDINE"

(TRADE MARK)

Concentrated Lime-Water Tablets.

This is a Tablet Preparation of CA (HO_2) for the immediate preparation of a stable solution of lime.

LIME WATER. THE UNITED STATES DISPENSATORY says: "Lime Water is antacid, tonic and astringent, and is very usefully employed in dyspepsia with acidity of the stomach, diarrhœa, diabetes, and gravel attended with superabundant secretion of uric acid. Mixed with an equal measure of milk, which completely covers its taste, it is one of the best remedies in our possession for nausea and vomiting dependent on irritability of the stomach. A diet exclusively of lime water and milk is more effectual than almost any other plan of treatment in dyspepsia accompanied by vomiting of food. In this case, one part of the solution to two or three parts of milk is usually sufficient. Externally it is employed as a wash in tinea capitis and scabies, as an application to foul and gangrenous ulcers, as an injection in leucorrhœa and ulceration of the bladder or urethra, and, mixed with linseed or olive oil, as a liniment in burns and scalds. Having been found to possess the property of dissolving false membrane, it is naturally employed as a local remedy in Pseudomembranous Croup."

Antacidine or Lime-Water Tablets are put up in Bottles, each containing 40 tablets, retailing at 25 cents, for sale by all Retail Druggists and the following Wholesalers:—

MUSCLE BEATING.

Massage has come to be a recognized procedure in curative medicine, and we believe that it would prove immensely serviceable, were it universally available, in establishing and maintaining that vigorous, robust state of health so essential to a successful warfare against disease. But the expense of, and conditions incident to, the practice of massage make it a procedure practically available only in cases of sickness. But a most excellent substitute for it may be found in the "Muscle Beaters," which Mr. John E. Ruebsam, of Washington, D.C., has invented and offers for sale. They consist essentially of india-rubber tubes or balls, so arranged on elastic sticks as to simulate more or less closely the hand as employed in the beating movements of massage. They undoubtedly have the power of distinctly affecting the local circulation in the part beaten with them, and produce no pain or bruising. For the maintenance of nutrition in paralyzed limbs, for the warming of cold feet and other portions of the body which suffer from lack of circulation, for the stimulation of muscles affected with chronic rheumatism, as in chronic lumbagos, they are serviceable. We really take pleasure in recommending these "Muscles Beaters" to our readers, for we believe they will derive much benefit from their use.
